Nabb, Lowry	Fell Dead While Singing Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 23 Lowry Nabb, of Hobson, dropped dead while leading a song at Blue Springs Baptist church. Only a few hours before he had told his wife that their dead daughter appeared and told him he must go with her. He leaves a wife and six children. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Aug., 27, 1901
Nabb, Orbie	Feared death At hands of anonymous letter writer and shot, killing friend Frankfort, Ky., - New from Western Kentucky indicates that the killing of Orbie Nabb by Henry Wilson of Princeton one night last week was the result of a mistake. Friends of Wilson, who has fled, are positive that he thought he was about to be attacked, while on the other hand the friends of the dead man insist that his errand was for an entirely different and a peaceful purpose. Wilson had received some anonymous letters during the day threatening his life, and when he saw Nabb coming in the semi- darkness he became panicky and shot his friend. Wilson has not been captured and the family of Nabb, it is said, have no desire to prosecute him. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 7, 1908

Naff, Jacob Irvine Casson	Death of J.I.C. Naff Mr. Jacob Irvine Casson Naff, aged seventy years, died at the home of his son, J.D. Naff, in Lexington, Friday morning. The remains were brought to this city Saturday afternoon and buried in the Winchester cemetery. Mr. Naff is survived by two children, J.D. Naff, of Lexington, and Henry Naff, of this city. A daughter, Mrs. John Redmon, of this city died in January 1907. Mr. Naff had a stirring life. He was born in Tennessee August 22, 1838, and enlisted with the Confederate Army at the outbreak of the Civil war in the Tenth Tennessee regiment. When that regiment was consolidated with the Fifty-ninth Tennessee, Mr. Naff was commissioned a first lieutenant, and was later promoted to a captaincy. After the war, he removed to Clark county, Ky., where he married Miss Mary Clay Benton on December 16, 1874. Mrs. Naff died Sept. 8, 1882. About eighteen years ago, Mr. Naff invented "The Pretty Run Grass Seed Stripper." This he continued to manufacture until about ten years ago, when the great increase in the acreage of tobacco made it no longer necessary to make blue grass seed strippers in quantities and he retired from the business. Mr. Naff continued to reside in Winchester until about ten years ago, when he went to Lexington to live with his son at whose home he has since resided. Two years ago last March Mr. Naff suffered a stroke of apoplexy which caused him to become afflicted with the peculiar disability known as amnesiac aphasia which is the loss of memory of works. Mr. Naff finally recovered from this, although such recoveries are very rare. The immediate cause of his death was Bright's disease.  The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 30, 1908

Nagle, Phillip	Little Phillip Nagle's Troubles.  An interesting, and to some of our citizens, a deeply important litigation is on in this county in the form of habeas corpus proceedings against Miss Lutie Scott to take from her the custody of her little nephew, Phillip Nagle, the orphan child of her deceased sister, Mrs. Kate Scott Nagle. These proceedings have been instituted against the wishes of every blood relative of the child, by one E. S. Kemp, of New Orleans, the guardian appointed by the courts of Louisiana. The writ was obtained from Judge Parker, of Lexington, but is to be tried here before Judge Scott tomorrow morning. The history of the short life of this little boy is already a distressingly sad one, but pathetic, indeed, would it be for him to be torn from the home of his own closest relatives—a devoted grandmother, aunt and uncle—and delivered over to strangers in blood whose only claim is that his father's residence was in New Orleans, and the property which Kemp holds as guardian is situated there.  Phillip came here to live permanently about six months ago under an arrangement with, in fact at the instance of his father's brother, and other relatives in St. Louis, where he had been living for about two and a half years. An attempt to kidnap him, it is claimed, was made by Kemp a few days before his coming to Kentucky. There was a great stir at the time in St. Louis papers, and thinking the effort would be repeated and might be successful, Mr. John Nagle, Phillip's uncle, decided to grant the request of the Kentucky relatives, frequently made, to allow him to make his home here. Hence it was that, in response to his telegram, Miss Lutie Scott went to St. Louis and brought him here, after which she was promptly appointed his guardian.

Nahlen, Michael William	Ever since he came, though, the little fellow, remembering his treatment by Kemp before he went to St. Louis, has been in constant terror of being kidnapped and taken back to New Orleans. Matters went smoothly and the child became the idol of his grandmother's family, himself reciprocating their affection to the fullest, until a few weeks ago, Kemp appeared in Winchester. He came, so he said, to see how Phillip was faring, and was assured by some of our most reputable citizens that the child had an excellent home, with loving, Christian relatives, who were giving him the best possible treatment and moral training. He suggested, however, and then so strenuously insisted on taking Phillip for a drive that the family has no doubt that he had come to try again to kidnap the child, hence of course refused. He left then and this habeas corpus proceeding is the next step.  The result will be watched with great anxiety by the host of the Scott family's friends, as well as the school mates and friends of the boy himself. Fortunately, however, Mrs. Scott's attorneys, are confident she will win because among other reasons, she is both the natural guardian and the Kentucky guardian; because the child's mother resided in Kentucky a year after her husband's death and until her death, thus fixing the child's domicile here; because in to asses of this sort, the wishes and welfare of the child ordinarily determine the court's action.  Phillip is in his thirteenth year and has seen the death of father, mother, two sisters and one brother, himself being the sole survivor of his immediate family. He is worth about fifteen thousand dollars, which evidently furnishes the only motive for this almost inhuman conduct upon the part of the Louisiana guardian.  The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 1, 1901  Circuit Court.  The Grand Jury, after vigorous investigation, returned only three indictments in addition to those tried, viz:  The habeas corpus case for the possession of Phillip Nagle, of which we made mention in our last issue,
	Michael Nahlen and Otillia "Tillie" Theresa Seiter Nahlen. 	The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nash, who for the past five years have spent their winters here, will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Nash which occurred yesterday morning at their home in Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Her death was not wholly unexpected, as she had been in declining health for some time, but even though anticipated, the announcement caused genuine sorrow to her circle of admiring friends.
	Mrs. Nash was a perfect type of true womanhood, educated, refined and modest, one of those gentle, retiring dispositions whose happiness lay in loyalty and devotion to family, friends and church. She was a devout and consistent member of the Roman Catholic Church and her life was filled with good and charitable deeds, so unostentatiously performed that the recipients of her many benefactions were often unaware of the source from whence they came. To the bereaved husband, whose unselfish love, care and devotion elicited the admiration of all, we offer our weak words of sympathy in the separation from her who had irradiated his life with so much sunshine and happiness.

	Two Deaths Here Held As Accidents Coroner James W. Bean today handed down decisions in the recent deaths of two persons in the Boonesboro area.
	The coroner said that it had been decided that Don Neal, 82-year –old farmer of the Athens Boonesboro-Road, died as the result of a fall over a cliff.
	The death of William Butler Patrick, 19, Mt. Sterling, was attributed to accidental drowning in the Kentucky River.
	Bodies of the two were found on July 23. Each had been missing from his home three days. The scene of the two accidents were approximately one mile apart.
	Coroner Bean said investigations of the two cases had been made by state and local officials.  Young Patriak's hady was found floating under the Boaneshare Memorial Bridge Young Patrick's body was found floating under the Boonesboro Memorial Bridge along the Madison County bank. However, the case was turned over to the Clark County coroner when Patrick's car was found abandoned on the Clark side of the river, and officers concluded it was possible that death occurred within the bounds of the county.
	The body of Neal was found on a hillside near the Athens-Boonesboro Road.

Neal, William E. Jr.	The tragedy at Louisville by which William E. Neal, Jr., and his wife were both killed, brings up reminiscences. Neal was not related to me, but my grandmother, Searcy, after the death of my grandfather, married Stephen Y. Neal who was a widower and the grandfather of William E. Neal Jr. they were both old and no children resulted from the union. William E. Neal, Sr., father of William E. Neal, Jr., is of about the same age that my mother would be were she living. In those early days there was a feud between the Neal and Kase families. Numerous fights occurred. Banister Pucket, who was born in Estill county, married one of the Kase girls and espoused the cause of his wife's people. Pucket was a noted bully. In one of the fights Pucket severely whipped James Searcy. Searcy was no more than a boy. Shortly afterward Searcy shot Pucket through the body with a squirrel rifle, but Pucket recovered. Later, at a log rolling at Frank Baxter's Pucket and Baxter got into a fight and Baxter cut Pucket in many places. Pucket went home. That night a shot was fired through a window of Baxter's house and my cousin, Tobe Strange, was hit in the shoulder, inflicting a wound from which he died. The next morning the spot from which the shot was fired was indicated by a pool of blood. Pucket had gone home, got his gun, returned and fired the shot, doubtless mistaking Strange for Baxter. He was tracked by the blood that flowed from the wounds administered by Baxter to his home where he died before daylight the next morning—bled to death. Stephen Y. Neal was a man of prominence in his day as was his son, Wm. E. Neal, Sr., they both having occupied different positions of honor and trust in Anderson county, William E. Neal Jr., appears to have been a bad egg.

	The fight occurred Saturday night at a candy pulling at the home of Wm. Peters and originated between Jesse Nealy and Robert Allen over a girl. Nealy knocked Allen down with his fist. While Allen was down he drew his revolver and shot Nealy through the brain, killing him instantly. About this time others began to fire. Robert Allen was shot six times, when he rolled under the bed, where he lay with an empty

The woman reached the yard, and was attempting to escape down the hill. The man leveled the revolver at her back, and fired twice in rapid succession. The woman fell prostrate upon her face. Newell, Porter	As the East bound passenger train drew up to the depot of this city Friday morning the spirit of one of the passengers was taking its flight into the Great Beyond. The unfortunate man was Porter Newell, who was on his way from Arkansas to Olive Hill. He was accompanied by his wife and six children, ranging in age from five to fifteen years. They are very poor, as none of the family possessed a cent. They had lived in malarious air of the swamp and the vitality of the poor man had been sapped by chills and fever. Without the means to buy food or medicine and exhausted by long travel he died within an hour's ride of the mountains, whose pure air would probably have brought life and health. Coroner Alexander held an inquest which elicited no new facts, and also provided proper burial equipments while the railroad furnished free transportation to Olive Hill. Several charitable ladies fed the hungry family. The Democrat, Wednesday, August 17, 1892.

	John Stuart Holloway and Anne Fulton Holloway. She was raised in Winchester and Naples, Fla. She was a member of one of the original families that built homes near the pier in Naples and "wintered" there throughout her childhood and retirement. Her great-grandfather, Gen. John S. Williams, is credited with having named Naples. She graduated from Centre College of Kentucky in the class of 1933 and went on to work as a reporter in Bonita Springs and for the Winchester Sun. In 1939, Hap married Herbert S. Newman Jr. of Orange County, Va., a chemical engineer and plant manager for the Diamond Alkali Company. His job took them to Jersey City, N.J.; Cincinnati, Ohi.; and Lockport, N.Y. While in Lockport, Hap became interested in local history and sat on the boards of the Niagara County Historical Society and the Niagara County Museum. She helped develop and provide programs for the Golden Agers Seniors Group in Lockport, as well as sitting on the board of the YWCA. A member of Grace Episcopal Church in Lockport, she was a president of the ECW and Ladies' Auxiliary.
	A Cub Scout den mother, homeroom mother, P.T.A. member and officer, she also helped her son, John, pass his bar exam, and helped Herbert's Masonic Lodge and Rotary Club advertise their charity events, all the while, turning out delicious southern style meals. She became a knowledgeable amateur archaeologist and was given a tribal adoption by the Seneca Tribe of the Iroquois nation for her unstinting and generous work on their behalf. Hap also wrote historical pamphlets for the Erie County and Niagara County Museums in New York. Upon retirement, Hap and Herb lived in Winchester and Naples. They were members of Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Winchester and attended St. Monica's Episcopal Church in Naples. She enjoyed her membership in the Fortnightly Club. She wrote poetry commemoration important events in the lives of family members and friends, wrote children's stories, and will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Hap was preceded in death by her husband Catie loved to spend time with her family and friends. She loved to draw, color, craft, and bake. She was an animal whisperer, loved her dog Archie and every creature she met. She loved making beats in music therapy at the hospital and had eclectic musical taste. Catie loved to dance and have dance parties, complete with special lights and glow sticks. She loved movies, especially Disney. Catie could beat you in Mario Cart and built the most creative houses in Minecraft. She had an impressive family of stuffed animal "babies" and was working on her Calico Critter collection. Catie had big plans to become a chef and have her own restaurant someday.

	She had more nicknames than anyone and our favorites were Catie Bug, Sweet Berry Cupcake, Strawberry Princess, Chunky Soup, Cheeto, Zibby, Zibba, Zibby Libby, Zibbers, Yibbs, Yibba and Tough Cookie Catie. Her family almost never addressed her as Catie unless they were speaking to someone outside of the family about her. Catie is survived by her Daddy and Mama, Bubbo, Papaw Keith, Nana and Papaw Tim, Meme and Papa, Granny, Granna and Papaw William, Nanny, Great Uncle Tim and Aunt Kim, Great Aunt Suzi and Uncle Mark, Uncle Seth, Uncle Josh and Aunt Kristin, Uncle Jay, several cousins and other extended family members, her dog Archie, Girl Scout friends, her brilliant physicians and therapists, loving nurses, and her adoring fans.
	Arrangements were made with Scobee Funeral Home and a celebration of Catie's life was held February 15, 2021 in Winchester, KY.
	Catie's family would like to thank everyone involved in her care for their years of dedication and love. Donations can be made in memory of Catie to the Ronald McDonald House in Cincinnati, OH. "Ronnie's House" was the Newsome Family's second home, and they would like to express their gratitude for the hospitality they received over the years.

Newton, Jack	Jack Newton, a medical student attending Bethel college at Russellville was found dead in his room Tuesday morning under peculiar circumstances. He had committed suicide with morphine. The strange feature of the tragedy was contained in a paper found on his person. It was a special to one of the Kentucky papers for which he was a correspondent and contained a detailed account of his suicide, written of course, in anticipation of his rash act. He was considered somewhat eccentric by his fellow students, but was not mentally unbalanced.

The Death Penalty Given to Dillard Rainey.  The Murder of Aaron Adams to Be Avenged. The Majesty of the Law Vindicated.  Not in a spirit of vengeance; not with an outburst of wrath nor with the savage senselessness of mob violence; but with the calm, dignified majesty of the law has the blood of Aaron Adams, which cries from the ground, been avenged, or will be when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the causeless, cruel murder was committed, and when the news spread Saturday that the death penalty had been awarded the murderer, there was a verdict of assent almost universal, and the only regret was that Matt Rainey, the prisoner's father, did not receive the same sentence.  The crime was a most atrocious one, and with no mitigating circumstances. Matt Rainey and James Henry had differences concerning a piece of land near the mouth of Upper Howard's Creek, and Henry had placed Frank Haggard in possession as a tenant. Rainey hauled the fence from around Haggard's garden leaving it open to the stock. Haggard hauled the rails back again and a quarrel on the 13 th of last May in which Rainey shot Haggard inflicting a wound that it was thought would prove fatal. Mrs. Haggard saw Aaron Adams passing along the road and asked him to go for a doctor. Adams went after Dr. T. S. Allen, who lived near, and returning with the physician half an hour later, he was met by Matt Rainey and Dillard Rainey, father and son. Matt was armed with a gun and Dillard with a pistol. The former raised his gun to shoot Adams, but was prevented by Dr. Allan. With an oath he told his son to shoot and the latter did so. As Adams sank down pierced with a number of balls, Matt Rainey savagely tried again to shoot him.  Deputy Sheriff Eperson was in the neighborhood and arrested Matt Rainey at once.  Dillard escaped, although the officers once got close enough to shoot at him. He went through the mountains and wa

	Many years ago Josea Winn, a nagra was hung near where Cal P. N. Winn's Many years ago Jesse Winn, a negro, was hung near where Col. R. N. Winn's residence now stands, for the murder of Wm. Emerson, a white man, who owned him or had him hired.
	In August, 1839, a young negro named Knight was hung on the Lexington pike near F.
	H. Dudley's. He belonged to Mr. Morris who lived on Stoner and had committed a rape on a little white girl.
	In April, 1841, a negro man, belonging to Daniel Spar, broke into a house and disemboweled his wife. The latter got well, but the negro was hung for housebreaking.
	The negro woman belonged to Geo. Anderson and her assailant was hung near the far end of the C. and O. trestle on the side of Poynterville.  In November, 1850. The mas Nighela killed his master. Fred P. Nighela et a rock.
	In November, 1850, Thomas Nichols killed his master, Fred B. Nichols, at a rock quarry on the Lexington pike. He was hung about Christmas of the same year. The late Wm. Simpson was Sheriff at the time, and not liking the job of hanging the negro, he employed Marsh Lawrence to tie the rope. A year or two later Marsh Lawrence was killed by his brother, Jack Lawrence. The latter fled to Missouri, but was caught, brought back and sentenced to be hung. He was the first white man in the county to receive the death sentence, but was finally pardoned by Gov. Powell.
	About seventeen years ago, Ben. Plunkett was lynched, being hung to a tree in the Courthouse yard, the charge being an attempt assault on Miss Annie Ball, now Mrs.
	Bradford. In the fall of 1895 Bob Haggard was hung from the bridge on the Muddy Creek pike for a similar assault on Miss Elkin of near Ford.
	No motion has yet been made for a new trial, but this will be done.  Since the death penalty has been given to Dillard, his father says he does not wish a new trial, but is inclined to accept the life sentence given him last fall. The general opinion is that if he should secure a new trial he would also be hung.

Nichols, Scott AA	City, County and State – Scott Nichols, the negro who was struck by a passing train near Brighton Sunday night, died in this city Tuesday morning.  The Winchester Democrat, Friday July 9, 1897 Nichols, T. J.	A dispatch from Lexington, Friday says; Early in 1886 a Kentucky Central train due here at noon was wrecked at a crossing of the Russell Cave pike and the engineer and fireman and Capt. T. J. Nichols of Bourbon county were killed. The coroner held a rigid examination and decided that the accident was caused by the spreading of the rails. Many persons believed the wreck to be the work of some villain, and the fact that the ties were split in the middle instead of the ends strengthened the belief. The accident occurred on a short curve and on an up-grade. The company, too, had its suspicions, but absolutely no clew, until a few days ago, when a young woman called on the company's officers and told them that a certain man; whom they had suspected had caused the wreck in revenge for being discharged. He had deserted her after betraying her, and gone to parts unknown. To obtain revenge she informed the officials of the road and gave them strong proofs. The Chief Detective of the road was here today, and thinks he has trailed the man and will have him here soon. There is an ugly feeling in Bourbon county over the matter, and the villain is likely to meet mob violence, when he is brought here.

Nichols, Thomas AA	TO HANG
	The Death Penalty Given to Dillard Rainey.  The Murden of Agree Adoms to Re. Avenged. The Majesty of the Law Vindicated.
	The Murder of Aaron Adams to Be Avenged. The Majesty of the Law Vindicated.  Not in a spirit of vengeance; not with an outburst of wrath nor with the savage senselessness of mob violence; but with the calm, dignified majesty of the law has the blood of Aaron Adams, which cries from the ground, been avenged, or will be when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the causeless, cruel murder was committed, and when the news spread Saturday that the death penalty had been awarded the murderer, there was a verdict of assent almost universal, and the only regret was that Matt Rainey, the prisoner's father, did not receive the same sentence.
	The crime was a most atrocious one, and with no mitigating circumstances. Matt Rainey and James Henry had differences concerning a piece of land near the mouth of Upper Howard's Creek, and Henry had placed Frank Haggard in possession as a tenant. Rainey hauled the fence from around Haggard's garden leaving it open to the stock. Haggard hauled the rails back again and a quarrel on the 13 th of last May in which Rainey shot Haggard inflicting a wound that it was thought would prove fatal.
	Mrs. Haggard saw Aaron Adams passing along the road and asked him to go for a doctor. Adams went after Dr. T. S. Allen, who lived near, and returning with the physician half an hour later, he was met by Matt Rainey and Dillard Rainey, father and son. Matt was armed with a gun and Dillard with a pistol. The former raised his gun to shoot Adams, but was prevented by Dr. Allan. With an oath he told his son to shoot and the latter did so. As Adams sank down pierced with a number of balls, Matt Rainey savagely tried again to shoot him.
	Deputy Sheriff Eperson was in the neighborhood and arrested Matt Rainey at once.
	Dillard escaped, although the officers once got close enough to shoot at him. He went through the mountains and was finally arrested at Roanoke, Va., under an assumed name. Matt Rainey was tried last fall and got a life sentence. He took an appeal and since has been in jail here. Two or three feeble attempts were made to mob him here last Spring but they lacked leadership. Since he has been in jail he has incurred the ill-will of the officers and fellow prisoners all whom concur in saying he is the meanest man with whom they have ever had dealings.
	The trial of Dillard Rainey began last Tuesday. The evidence closed Thursday at noon and was argued until the next morning when it was given to the jury, which brought in a verdict of guilty and fixing the death penalty the next day. When the prisoner heard it he turned deathly pale and seemed almost overcome. He soon recovered and was taken back to jail cursing the jury and vowing that he would never be hung. Neither of the prisoners have ever shown any remorse for the poor widow and the six helpless children.
	This will make the second sentence pronounced by Judge Scott, the other being the negro Will Taylor, who was hung for the murder of Squire Doty, in Madison county a year or two ago.
	If Rainey is hung it will make the fourth legal hanging in the county, and the first white man to be hung.
	Many years ago Jesse Winn, a negro, was hung near where Col. R. N. Winn's residence now stands, for the murder of Wm. Emerson, a white man, who owned him or had him hired.
	In August, 1839, a young negro named Knight was hung on the Lexington pike near F. H. Dudley's. He belonged to Mr. Morris who lived on Stoner and had committed a rape on a little white girl.
	In April, 1841, a negro man, belonging to Daniel Spar, broke into a house and disemboweled his wife. The latter got well, but the negro was hung for housebreaking.
	The negro woman belonged to Geo. Anderson and her assailant was hung near the far end of the C. and O. trestle on the side of Poynterville.
	In November, 1850, Thomas Nichols killed his master, Fred B. Nichols, at a rock quarry on the Lexington pike. He was hung about Christmas of the same year. The late Wm. Simpson was Sheriff at the time, and not liking the job of hanging the negro, he employed Marsh Lawrence to tie the rope. A year or two later Marsh Lawrence was killed by his brother, Jack Lawrence. The latter fled to Missouri, but was caught, brought back and sentenced to be hung. He was the first white man in the county to receive the death sentence, but was finally pardoned by Gov. Powell.
	About seventeen years ago, Ben. Plunkett was lynched, being hung to a tree in the Courthouse yard, the charge being an attempt assault on Miss Annie Ball, now Mrs. Bradford. In the fall of 1895 Bob Haggard was hung from the bridge on the Muddy Creek pike for a similar assault on Miss Elkin of near Ford.
	No motion has yet been made for a new trial, but this will be done.
	Since the death penalty has been given to Dillard, his father says he does not wish a new trial, but is inclined to accept the life sentence given him last fall. The general opinion is that if he should secure a new trial he would also be hung. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, February 16, 1897.

	Catlettsburg, Ky., - Walking home from Grassy church, about six miles south of this city, William Noble, aged 21, was assaulted by John Nichols, who dealt him a blow on the head with the loaded butt of a buggy whip, inflicting an injury which resulted in the death of Noble. An examination showed that a blood vessel had been broken in Nolan, John	Knocks Poison Bottle From Brother's hand, but he recovers it and ends his life. Louisville, Ky., - John Nolan, a yarnisher, made a second and successful attempt to commit suicide with carbolic acid. Domestic trouble was the cause. At 10:30 o'clock Nolan was sitting with his mother and sister, Miss Mary Nolan, talking about his troubles. Suddenly he drew a bottle from his pocket and placed it to his lips. Before he could drink but a small portion his sister knocked the bottle our of his hand and through the window. Nolan darted out of the house, picked up the bottle and drank what remained of the poison and died shortly afterward. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, August 31, 1906

Norfielt, David	SOMERSET and Pulaski county just now are having a very unenviable notoriety for lawlessness and murder. Joseph B. Rucker, editor of the Reporter, had been very bitter in his denunciation of lawlessness and the laxity of the officials in enforcing the laws.  As he was going home from his office he was shot by some one in hiding, from the effects of which he died in a few hours. Circumstances pointed strongly to ex-Chief of Police, John Anderson, whom Rucker had frequently scored for not doing his duty.
	Anderson is gone, but as there is a reward of $ 2,000 for his arrest, he will no doubt be caught soon. The next day David Norfielt was waylaid and killed by Milt Britton.
	The latter has been arrested and lynching is strongly talked of. Two days later another man, whose name we have forgotten, was hot in the same county. Surely, if Pulaski county citizens do their duty there will be a demand for hemp in that section.

1.oron, can colonian	- Constitution, hasband of Lesite Fisher Frontien, passed away medicular, December 22 at Clark Regional Medical Center.

Born January 12, 1956 to Carl Austin Norton and Martha Coleman Proctor Norton, Carl grew up in Winchester, where he met and married his lifelong best friend, Leslie. Their romance began in the 6th grade at Victory Heights Elementary School and carried them through high school at George Rogers Clark and college at the University of Kentucky. Constant companions, Carl and Leslie spent summers throughout their high-school and college years teaching swimming lessons, lifeguarding, and coaching scores of their "favorite kids" at the Winchester Country Club.

After graduating with an accounting degree from UK in 1978, Carl worked briefly for CPA Ernie Sammons before embarking on an over 30-year banking career, beginning at Clark County Bank (which later became First Security Bank and then, Bank One). Throughout his long career as a "numbers man," a nickname given him by his friend and banking colleague John Graybill, Carl held numerous leadership positions, including serving as president of Pioneer Federal until it was ultimately purchased by Central Bank. The tumultuous banking climate of the time helped Carl realize that his professional passion was for smaller, hometown banks where he could help individuals fulfill their personal and financial dreams. His subsequent work at Winchester Federal (where he learned much about business and banking from mentor Dick McCready) reflected that passion. Carl ended his banking career in 2012, when, while working at Peoples Exchange Bank, he developed debilitating back problems.

Throughout his working life and retirement, Carl loved and enjoyed his two children, Jenna, now 37, and Austin, now 30. Their interests became his — chorus, Girl Scouts, sign language, Boy Scouts, backpacking, basketball, karate, hunting. He supported all of their endeavors and took part wholeheartedly.

In more recent years, Carl's Boykin Spaniel hunting dog "Yeti" became a major source of love and enjoyment. Together he and his canine soulmate walked hundreds of miles, practiced retrieving buoys from numerous ponds, and generally became inseparable. Facebook friends received daily updates on their adventures, often including videos and commentary. Prior to the pandemic, Carl also derived great satisfaction from volunteering at Clark Regional Medical Center, where he made many good friends. He was a member of Calvary Christian Church and for years enjoyed attending Friday night small group at the Chamberlain's house.

Carl is survived by his wife of 41 years, Leslie, his daughter Jenna, his son Austin (Allie) and twin granddaughters Indie and Espyn Norton, all of Winchester. He is also survived by his sister-in-law Adra Fisher and her husband Jeff Brandt, as well as two brothers, George (Leslie) and Tom (Terry) and their children, Ryan (Lisa) Norton, Meredith (Tom) Cecil, Brittainy (Chris) Frazier, and Megan (Peter) Wilkins.

Private graveside services will be held at a later date, and Scobee Funeral Home will handle arrangements, including posting a video feed of the service for those interested in viewing it. Contributions may be made in Carl's name to his favorite charities, Evergreen Community Supports, 11 S. Highland St., Winchester KY 40391 and Calvary Christian Church, 15 Redwing Dr., Winchester KY 40391.

Carl's family would like to thank and acknowledge the many caring friends who reached out during this long and difficult struggle. A special thank-you and much love goes to Dr. Suzanne Pica, a neighbor and friend who has always been there for us when we needed her, and to whom we are eternally grateful.

	Louisville, Ky., June 23.—A telegram from Paducah states that an effort will soon be made to break the will of the late Capt. W. F. Norton, the Louisville millionaire, who died recently in Coronado Beach, Cal. The estate is valued at about $1,500,000, the bulk of which is bequeathed to the Louisville Baptist Orphans' home. The contest will Norton's father, W. P. Norton, Sr., whose will provided that the estate was to go to his son after the mother's death, and then to his son's children if he left any. In case he

	Among these are Norton and Ed Anderson, of McCracken county. Some time ago Capt. Norton bought up the contingent claims of these cousins and made them a matter

	Now it is said that these relatives will insist that the terms of the will of W. F. Norton, Nugent, E. B.	Nugent goes To Jail.

	He is Held in Contempt For Not Settling With Creditors.
	Louisville, Ky., March 24.—In accordance with the mandate of the United States supreme court, W. T. Nugent, of this city, was committed to jail indefinitely by Judge Evans, in the federal court, on account of his failure to pay $14,000 to the creditors of his father, the late E. B. Nugent, formerly a dry goods merchant of this city. At the time of the failure young Nugent, it was charged, sold goods to the amount of $14,000 and failed to turn over the proceeds to the creditors when ordered to do so by Judge Evans. He was ordered sent to jail by Judge Evans for contempt of court but the federal circuit court of appeals reversed the decision. The United States supreme court, however, sustained Judge Evans and recently refused to grant a rehearing of the case.
	When the final mandate of the highest court was received Nugent tried to effect a rvunan, John Planets	away at his home in Lexington, Ky., on Friday, Feb. 26, 2016 surrounded by his devoted family. Son of the late Thomas A. Nunan and Ruth Bushey Nunan, he was born Γhomas A. Nunan and Ruth Bushey Nunan, he was born on April 30, 1937, in Winchester, Kentucky. John was baptized, an altar boy, communicant and member of St Joseph Church and member of the Knights of Columbus in Winchester and after moving to Lexington in 1998 became a member of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, Lexington. He began serving the community very early as a Cub Scout then Boy Scout reaching patrol leader. He earned the life award just under Eagle Scout, Explorer Scout and then Junior Assistant Scout Master. He was a junior life guard and was very active in camping from age 8-16. He was president of Civic Club in the 8th grade. As a sophomore he was awarded the Sterling Excellence Medal for the highest grades in the entire school. As a junior he was presented with an award by the Shriner's Club for his athletic and academic achievements. John started school at St Agatha Academy when classes were held in the "wooden school house" as he referred to it that was once were the Parish gymnasium is located now. He and other students helped build the gym. He was an outstanding basketball player for St Agatha and a top scorer! After being part of the first graduating class in the new brick building of St. Agatha Academy in 1955, he attended the University of Kentucky. From there he enlisted in the Air Force. He was appointed hazardous duty flying status for several months in Japan during his 4 years of active service. He also served in the Panama Canal and all over the United States. He then joined Universal CIT Credit Corporation as a collection manager. After only 2 years he was promoted to district manager, overseeing three branches across the Cincinnati, OH and Tri-State area. He was the youngest district manager in the county's history (age 31) from 1960-1968. John was homesick for Winchester and applied and was offered a position at The Winchester Bank Ky as Vice President of installment loans in 1969. While there he established the first credit card service and obtained commercial and mortgage loans. By 1981 he was Senior Loan Officer, overseeing all loan applications-from installments to mortgage and commercial. He ended his career as Senior Vice President of PNC Bank of Winchester, Ky. During his entire life he devoted himself to helping his community and people of all walks of life. He was a member of many civic organizations. Among them were Jaycees and Knights of Columbus. Also, he was President and Chairman of the United Community Fund. During his 3 year term as President of the Clark County Historical Society, a book was published, "Survey of Historic Sites in Kentucky Clark County." The Historical Society submitted and published by the Heritage Commission. About 40 members of the club and others in the Commission paid for the book in advance, allowing it to go to press and all 500 copies sold out. As Treasurer of the Clark County, Winchester Heritage Commission, Nunan raised $400K for the renovation of "Holly Rood" the historic home of Gov. James Clark. Funds came from Ky H. Comm. Federal and State, Winchester and corporate gifts along with individual contributions. He co chaired with Jake Bailey on the building reconstruction committee with the building under construction, Nunan got approval from the Historical Society to move the remains of Gov. Clark, his wife, and two children. The move was done with reverence & respect with the generous assistance from Scobee Funeral Home. They were moved from behind the football field of Belmont Middle School, to the front of the mansion. Winchester Kiwanis Club under his direction had a park on school property deeded to the club for 99 years. Another project while his was part of the Historical Society, was the move and reconstruction of an early period log cabin. It was thought to have belonged to Capt. John Strode. He had the logs numbered and rebuilt at the College Park. He and Jack Hodgkin shared responsibility for this project. After retirement he continued to serve the community through his church and as a volunteer and mentor to many people. He also enjoyed his farm and dabbled in horse training and racing. He was a faithful servant, loving husband, devoted father and the best example of a gentleman of honor and distinction. Mostly he will forever be remembered for his kindness and generosity. He raised his children with these thoughts: Your word is your bond. Always be honest, work hard and be kind. The two quotes he shared throughout his life were: "This Too Shall Pass" (and it always did) and "We Shall Overcome" (and he did over and over again). ## Nunan remembered for kindness, commitment to community

Friends and colleagues said they will remember John F. Nunan as an honest businessman, a passionate family man and an advocate for change and historic conservation in Clark County. Nunan, a Clark County native, died Friday at his home in Lexington. He was 78. Friends said Nunan had a long history of service to his community and church. An active member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, he served as an altar boy, communicant and was a member of the local Knights of Columbus. When he moved to Lexington, he remained active in the church and joined St. Elizabeth Ann Seton. His service to the community started young, as a Cub Scout, Boy Scout and eventually patrol leader. He attended St. Agatha Academy when classes were still taught in the old wooden schoolhouse, and was a part of the first class to graduate from the brick school house in 1955. Local businessman Will Hodgkin said he grew up with Nunan. Hodgkin lived on French Avenue and Nunan grew up on Main Street. While in grade school both young boys owned Shetland ponies, which made for many days spent playing together in downtown Winchester. "I've known him all my life," Hodgkin said. "We would frequently ride down Main Street together, hitch our ponies to a parking meter and to the five-and-dime store." The two remained friends although Hodgkin when to public school and Nunan went to St. Agatha. He went on to attend the University of Kentucky, and eventually took his service to others a step further and enlisted in the U.S. Air Force. Nunan served in Japan, the Panama Canal and all over

went on to the Air Force and returned to town as a banker. I too was a banker so we became competitors but also maintained a good friendship. Upon exiting the service, he entered the world of banking and financing where he moved up the latter quickly. In 1969, he returned to Winchester when he was named vice president of installment loans at The Winchester Bank. While there, he established the first credit card service and obtained commercial and mortgage loans. By 1981 he was senior loan officer. He ended his career as senior vice president of PNC Bank of Winchester. "Johnny was just very kind and caring for other people. He showed that as a young person and also throughout his career," Hodgkin said. Prewitt Sams, who owns and operates Sams Flooring Covering, has known Nunan since their teenage years. Eventually Nunan became his banker, and Sams said he exemplified great integrity and kindness in his career. "He was the best banker I've known," he said. "I can't say anything bad about him, he was a heck of a guy. "As a banker he was understanding and tried to understand my situation more than a lot of others. He was very personable and always helped me when I needed it, while being very straight forward. He helped me in my times of need, and that's really when a banker is good and stands out." Connie Coates worked alongside Nunan for more than a decade at The Winchester Bank, she recalls Nunan being an honest and friendly boss. "He was very honest, very professional and very kind," Coates said. "He had a large family and was very devoted to them. He was full of energy, and could do more things than any other person I knew in one day. "He was an all-around beautiful person, and I have a ton of respect for him. He was just a great guy to work for." Coates said particularly Nunan had a way of making his employees feel like they mattered. "If you needed his time for whatever reason might be work-related or just to chit chat — he made you feel like he had time for you," she said. "For someone who was my superior, he never made me feel like that. He treated us like we were his equal, not that he was any better or knew anymore than us. He was very understanding and had a lot of patience. "There were a lot of good things about John." Besides being a loving and devoted father to his six children Victoria Lee, Regina Spence, John F. Nunan, Jr., Rebecca Murphy, Richard P. Nunan and Michael T. Nunan — Nunan was perhaps most passionate about his community involvement in a number of clubs and organizations. He was active in the Jaycees, Knights of Columbus, Kiwanis Club, Clark County Historical Society, the Clark County Heritage Commission and the Downtown Revitalization Committee and the United Community Fund, holding a variety of offices with each group. Many said Nunan's legacy in the community lives on through his dedicated efforts to save and restore the historic home of Gov. James Clark, referred to as Holly Rood. "He was involved in a lot of community activities, but he had a great commitment to the Clark Mansion and saving Holly Rood," Hodgkin said. "Without his efforts, that building would have been demolished. He spent many years dedicated to Holly Rood." As treasurer of the Heritage Commission, Nunan raised $400,000 in state and federal funds, corporate gifts and individual contributions for the renovation of Holly Rood. He co-chaired with Jake Bailey on the building reconstruction committee, and with the building under construction, earned approval from the Historical Society to move the remains of Gov. Clark, his wife and two children from behind the football field of Belmont Middle School to the front of the mansion. "John was the driving force behind securing Holly Rood, former home to Gov. James Clark, and it's renovation,' Betty Edgington, a longtime friend and fellow member of the Historical Society, said. "I remember meeting with him and officials in Frankfort as we planned repairs and identified grant funds for the kitchen and the overall renovations. He was very anxious to get the house furnished with period furnishings and was so very proud of the items that were donated by community members. "John Nunan was the finest man I ever knew — a wonderful man and so very kind. He was a pleasure to work with. He was deeply interested in this town and community. His presence has been greatly missed (since his retirement) and will be more so." Hodgkin said Nunan's giving nature extended beyond his civic duties. "One kind act Johnny did a few years ago came about when I mentioned to him that an elderly tenant farmer was in need of a shotgun to hunt squirrels," he said. "Johnny smiled, went to his closet, pulled out a 410 shotgun, and said 'Pass this along, he needs it more than I do.' "John was a very kind and generous man." Nunan's kindness and pleasant nature also stood out to his friends and co-workers, who said his legacy will be one of great determination and passion for his community. "He had a great personality, a pleasant nature and was always an upbeat and cheerful guy," Hodgkin said. "He will also be remembered for his perseverance. He would set his mind to do something, and he would usually succeed. He was one to stay the course." Visitation for Nunan will be 5 to 7 p.m. Friday at Rolan G. Taylor Funeral Home. Miss Nunan had been a resident of our city but a short time, but the universal sympathy expressed at her untimely demise is sufficient to indicate the high esteem in which she was held by the community. She was a sincere Christian, a devoted member of the Catholic church, and was ever ready to extend charity to all deserving objects. The funeral services will be held at St. Paul's church, Lexington, at 11 o'clock this morning, and the burial will take place at the cemetery at that place. She leaves several brothers and sisters, who have the sympathy of a host of

Nygen, Henry	SOLDIERS ENGAGE IN A RIOT They Fought to Lynch Provost Guard Alvin Kitchen at Lexington, KY, He Fled Killed a New York Soldier LEXINGTON, Ky,. Oct. 11Riot was rampant in the camps of the 18 th New York, 1 st Territorial and Mississippi regiments for two hours Monday night. A battle between guards and officers on one side and riotous soldiers raged for nearly an hour at Camp Hamilton depot, where 800 men from the regiment mentioned, drunk, drinking and armed with knives, pistols and clubs, had captured a Lexington & Eastern train with the expressed intention of coming to Lexington in precipitating a battle with the provost guard in retaliation for the killing of Private Henry Nygen, Company B, 12 th New York, by Provost Guard Kitchen, Sunday night, and, if possible, take Kitchen from the county jail and lynch him.
	When it became generally known in Camp Hamilton Monday morning that Nygen had been killed, the privates of the three regiments mentioned became very wrathy. They are not friendly to the provost guard, and especially they do not like the Kentuckians.
	The 12 th New Yorkers kept up their mutinous talk until they had interested many of the tough element in the territorial and Mississippi regiments in a movement for revenge.
	It was decided that they would go into the city on the 7 o'clock train, and they began assembling at the depot at 6:30, drunk and disorderly. Dispatcher Stevens at the L. E. depot learned of the intention of the mob just as they boarded the train. He wired the Lexington depot, and Dispatcher Tompkins informed Capt. Gaines, provost marshal, who ordered that the train be held, and at once telephoned to Gen. Wiley, in command of the division in the abscense of Gen. Sanger. Gen. Wiley Communicated with Col. Leonard, of the 12th New York, who, with his officers and a guard of about 200 men, were hurried to the depot, and gave the order to the men to leave the train, from which the engine had been uncoupled and run up the road. They refused. Col. Leonard gave the command to his guards to "club their guns and drive the rascals out of the coaches." Leading his officers and guards, he rushed into the train and the battle began, the rioters fighting the demons with clubs and knives against the guards, until 50 or more of them, welted over the head and in the face with rifles and revolvers, fell unconscious or ran bleeding from the train to renew the fight on the platform. By this time Gen. Wiley had sounded the long roll, and came with re-enforcements to drive the men back to their regiments. In the cars and on the platform blood was plentiful. When the men were finally put back into the regiment of the 19th New York they made a break for the pike, but were repulsed by an heavy guard from the 3rd Kentucky, 160th Indiana and 8th Massachusetts. By 9 o'clock all was quiet again. But Camp Hamilton is being heavily guarded. Not a man with or without a pass can pass the lines. The 8th Massachusetts had out a deploy for two mile across the country. The 160th Indiana stands under arms at headquarters and three companies of the 3rd Kentucky have come into Lexington to strengthen the provost guard. Forty men are guarding the jail. Every provost guard has four rounds of ammunition. It is not known positively whether any were killed. About fifty shots were fired. The surgeons are busy patching up the wounded. The officers refuse to give out any information concerning the condition of the men Monday night. Officers say Kitchen will unquestionably get a death sentence. When he shot Nygen he was under orders not even to have his gun loaded. It is said Col. Leonard, of the 12th New York, was the principal promoter of the mob. The matter will be thoroughly investigated Tuesday.
