Van Arsdale, H. C.	Called To His Front Door.
	A Well To Do Kentucky Farmer Killed and Robbed.
	Junction City, Ky., Oct. 22.—H. C. Van Arsdale, a well to do farmer of this vicinity, was called to his front door Monday night by someone crying "hello there!" When Van Arsdale opened the door he was hit in the head with an ax and robbed of $40. He died Tuesday, his skull having been fractured.
	Bloodhounds were put on the trail and followed a scent to a Negro hut near by, but no one was found in the building. The dogs continued the scent to the home of two white men, who have been living on the farm. They were arrested and confessed that they called to Van Arsdale. Their names have not been learned.

Van Lear, Matthew	Death of Dr. Van Lear.
·	Rev. Matthew Van Lear died Tuesday at his home in Mercer county, of Bright's disease and paralysis. He was a native of Maryland and was educated at Danville. He was pastor of Horeb and Bethel churches near Lexington from 1868 to 1878 and was pastor of the Presbyterian Church here for many years.
	He then went to Shreveport, La., and accepted a pastorate, where he labored until failing health caused him to resign his charge and return to Kentucky. After a year's and Dr. Ven Leen counted a cell from Dravidence Church at Modfee Mener country rest, Dr. Van Lear accepted a call from Providence Church at McAfee, Mercer county, which charge he has had about one year.

	Some time ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he recovered sufficiently to again fill his pulpit. He was then attacked by a severe case of Bright's disease to which he succumbed.
	He leaves a wife and several grown children. No Presbyterian preacher in the State stood higher in ministerial ranks or with churches and Presbyterians generally than did Dr. Van Lear. His congregation and the people, regardless of creed, held him in the highest esteem and admiration.

	At four o'clock on Tuesday morning, the 31 st of December, Patton Harrison Van Meter, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Van Meter, and grandson of Col. Holloway.
	Gently as a summer zephyr, the angel of death brushed the brow of this beautiful boy and the flickering flame went out with the dawn. In our bewilderment at the sudden ending of this young life so essential to the happiness of others, we look up through blinding tears and ask the question, "Why?" From far beyond the pearly gates the answer comes, "What I do thou knowest not now, but shall know hereafter." Host of friends sorrow with the family so deeply bereaved, and with them mourn, that the book of little Harrison's life has closed with its sweetest pages still unread.

	Sad Death
	Harrison Cunningham, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. L. Van Meter, died Tuesday morning at their home on South Maple Street, of scarlet fever. Several of the children had been ill of the disease, but in a mild form, and had about recovered, when Harrison was suddenly attacked by the disease in a most malignant form and died in a short time. The remains were buried in the Winchester cemetery Tuesday afternoon, services at the grave by Rev. W. T. McElroy.
	The deceased was a bright, handsome little fellow, a favorite with all who knew him,

Vanderpool, James	Kicked by a steer James Vanderpool, who lived near Torrent, was kicked in the stomach by a steer near Avon Thursday from the effects of which he died the following day. A strange feature of the case was that for many years he had lived in dread of being kicked to death by a steer. He was a log man and used oxen in hauling logs.

Vanmeter, Allie	A DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT
	A Worthy Young Man Cut down on the Threshold of Life.
	One of the saddest accidents that has happened here for a long time occurred Monday morning and resulted in the death of Allie Vanmeter, one of the most popular young men of this city. On that morning he took several large tin cans in a light cart and started to the country for blackberries. When near the depot his horse became frightened and ran off. In turning the corner into Main street the young man lost his balance and in endeavoring to regain it he dropped one line. The pulling on one rein caused the frightened animal to leave the street for the pavement near the corner of Main and Washington streets. This threw Mr. Vanmeter out and his head struck the telegraph pole, crushing his skull. He was carried into Dr. Venable's residence where he lingered until night, when he died, without having recovered consciousness. In the afternoon several of the local physicians performed a surgical operation on the skull in the faint hope of restoring consciousness but without avail. The skull was found to be fractured from near the eye to the top of the head, and was crushed in other places.
	Allie was the only child of Charles Vanmeter, and was a young man of lovable character and very popular with all who know him. The funeral was preached yesterday morning at the Presbyterian church by Revs. J. J. Chisolm and J. S. Kendrick and the remains were taken to Lexington for increments.

	John Bush, the negro who murdered the little daughter of James VanMeter, now of this county, was again tried, at Lexington, last week and sentenced to be hung. He has had two trials heretofore, once the jury hung, and the other time he was found guilty and condemned to death. The Court of Appeals gave him a new trial, which has resulted in a death verdict. It was a fearful case of murder, and we have never yet heard a suggestion that could in any way excuse the crime. Thirty-six jurors have heard the evidence and thirty-five have voted for the death penalty. The other who hesitated about hanging because of a repugnance to capital punishment, was for imprisonment for life. He richly merits his fate, and as much as we shrink from the taking of human life, the sooner that monsters who shoot little girls are out of the way, the better it will be for the world and humanity. Bush is to be hung June 24 th .

Now, all that is mortal has been consigned to the tomb, and where a short time ago all was happiness, now has the shadow of the angel of death brought sorrow and gloom. 	He was born on September 21st, 1943 in Marengo, Ohio, the son of the late Orland F. VanSickle and Mary F. (Spohn) VanSickle.
	Richard graduated from Marengo High in 1961. He attended and played football for Capital State University and attended Eastern Kentucky University before starting his career as an engineer for IBM and Lexmark for almost 40 years. He was the best of fathers and will be incredibly missed by his children K. Scott VanSickle (Meg) and Terah LaDawn Hatton (Dale). Teaching them faith in the Lord, hard work, respect to the land, service to others and the love of family. He was the proud grandfather (Papa/Grandpa) of Austin Shelton, Kayleigh Shelton, Mason Hatton, Klay VanSickle, Ellie VanSickle, Allison Coder, Brooke Sargent, and Haley Thompson. A great grandfather to Willow, Rosalee, Brody, Paisley, Ava, Myla, Jace, Ellorie and Ruby. He was the eldest brother to Lloyd VanSickle (Laura), David VanSickle (Barbara) and the late Alan VanSickle (Rita). He had many nieces and nephews that he loved and cherished.
	A man of great faith, Richard was a member of Mt. Zion United Methodist Church for over 50 years, serving his church by being on the finance committee, Mildred Sunday School class and mowing team. He was always present.
	He was the National Director of the American Hampshire Sheep Association for nine years, a Past President and member of the Kentucky Sheep and Wool Producers, member of the 4-H Hall of Fame for his years of dedication and service, member and President of the Clark County Fairboard for several years. He enjoyed photography but his passion was his flock: family, church and sheep. If he wasn't attending an event of one of his children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews, he was serving his church in one way or another but his day always began and ended with his love of the purebred Hampshire sheep that he raised since 1983. He began raising and showing sheep in the 1950s at his home in Marengo Ohio. He shared his passion with his children and that family legacy has grown on to his grandchildren and great grandchildren. His family included those of the sheep community whether is was through buying and selling of animals, wool, meat or just sharing knowledge. He was an unwaivering supporter of all whom he loved.
	Services will be Monday, March 27th at his church, Mt. Zion United Methodist Church, visitation at 11:30, services at 1 pm and burial to follow at Clarmont Memorial Gardens. Pallbearers are Dale Hatton, Mike Sallee, Jason Hall, Tommy Woods, Don Birch, Tony Hatton, OC Hamm and Thom Lewis. Honorary pallbearers Tommy Bunch, Fred Farris, Doug Hannah, Roy Turley, Sam Amburgey, Wendy Causey, Ben Powell, David Smith, Les Yazell and Endre Fink.
	Memorial contributions, if desired, may be made to Mt. Zion United Methodist Church at 6155 Mt. Sterling Rd., Winchester, KY.

Vaughn, Henry	In Horrible Agony
	Growling Like A Dog The Third Victim Of A Mad Canine Expired Owingsville, Ky., March 20 After suffering horrible agony in numerous convulsions, during which he frothed at the mouth and growled like an angry dog, George Wells, 14 years old, died here at the home of his parents of hydrophobia which developed from an injury received six years ago from a mad dog bite. He was stricken with measles last week, hydrophobia developed Sunday, and his growls and cries could be heard in the street. Wells is the third to die from injuries inflicted by the same dog, which ran through the streets here during the street fair in October, 1900, biting Henry Vaughn and George Stevens and terrorizing the community. Over 100 shots were fired at the mad brute without effect.
	In passing Robert Wells' home the dog attacked dogs belonging to Wells, who ran to their assistance. The dog then attacked Wells, biting and lacerating his face terribly.
	Vaughn developed hydrophobia, dying a week later in convulsions. Stevens' health failed and he worried himself to death over the injury, and George Wells' mind failed as the result of his injuries.

She also had 10 great-grandchildren: John Mark, Rebecca, Philip, Benjamin, Nathanael, Jael, Emalea, Jackson, Liam and Ava. Opal was a dedicated scholar and graduated as the valedictorian of the Powell County High School Class of 1938. She met William Lee Venable when they were both students at Lees College in Jackson, KY. Opal graduated from Lees and then continued her education at Kentucky Wesleyan's Winchester campus, graduating in May of 1945. While attending college, Opal became the first teacher for the Happy Top School, a one-room schoolhouse in Powell County. She was later appointed Interim Principal at Clay City School when the principal went to serve in World War II. After William returned from the war, they were married on March 9, 1945, and made their home in Winchester, where their son, Jerry Lee, was born. William's job took the young family from Winchester to Lexington, Columbus, Ohio; and finally to Baltimore, Maryland, where Opal taught Sunday school at the University Park Church of Christ and worked as a supervisor for Blue Cross Blue Shield until the couple retired and returned to Winchester. After William's death in 1988, Opal moved to Rose Mary Brooks Assisted Living, where she lived until 2015, when she moved to Paducah, KY to be near her eldest granddaughter. Vermillion, Robert	A Bad Dollar.
Vermillion, Robert Vermillion, Robert	A Bad Dollar. Robert Vermillion Was Given a Bogus Coin, and Threatened to Prosecute His Employer and Was Killed. Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 5.—For several weeks a company of bed spring manufacturers have been driving over this county selling their goods. Robert Vermillion, a young unmarried man of this place, and a son of ex-Postmaster W. S. Vermillion, was employed by the men to drive one of the teams. The salesmen and Vermillion spent the night at John H. Mullins' house. They had drank considerable whisky and were somewhat hilarious. While they were sitting around the fire a dispute arose between Vermillion and one of the men named Flemings over a counterfeit silver dollar, which it is claimed had been paid Vermillion for his services. Vermillion threatened to keep the coin, and, at the proper time, prosecute his employer for passing it, whereupon, it is charged, Flemings drew a gun and shot Vermillion dead while sitting in his chair. Four shots were fired, all of them taking effect, though the first penetrated the young man's heart, killing him instantly. Flemings ran from the house and has not been seen since, though a horse belonging to a farmer in the neighborhood disappeared the same night, and was tracked several miles in the direction of Jackson, the nearest railroad station. Vest, George	A feud for a long time existed between the Vest and Holliday families of Washington county, but no collision of any consequence occurred until Monday evening last when George Vest was shot to death by three of the Hollidays at Cardwell, fifteen miles from Harrodsburg in Washington county. George Vest and his wife, who were newly married were in Harrodsburg on Monday, buying household goods. On returning home his wife was with a lady friend in a buggy, preceding the cart in which Vest and a friend were seated and were in Cardwell when the Hollidays rode up in the rear and began firing at Vest who was holding his inebriated companion in his lap. Several shots were fired by them, but the one that caused his death struck him in the back.

Vest, George Graham	Senator Vest Dead.
	Distinguished Lawyer and Statesman Passes Away at Sweet Springs, Ma.
	George Graham Vest, ex-Senator from Missouri and the last surviving member of the Cabinet of Jefferson Davis, died at Sweet Springs, Mo., at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, of general debility, aged 74 years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sallie E.
	Sneed, of Danville, Ky., and a number of children.
	A native of Kentucky, Senator Vest was born at Frankfort on December 6, 1830, and was graduated at Centre college, Danville, in 1848. After leaving Centre he attended the law department of Transylvania University, graduating there in 1853. In that year he moved to Missouri and began the practice of law in the central part of the State being elected a member of the Missouri House of Representatives, and serving in that capacity in 1860 and 1861. During the Civil War Senator Vest was an active sympathizer of the Confederate cause, and was a member of the Confederate Congress.
	He was elected to the United States Senate in the place of James Shields, Democrat, who had been chosen to fill out the term of Lewis V. Bogy, Democrat, taking his seat on March 18, 1879. He was re-elected in 1885, 1895 and 1897.
	Last Spring, after having served continuously in the Senate for twenty-four years, Senator Vest withdrew to his summer home at Sweet Springs, owing to constantly recurring illness.
	Senator Vest's death was just the kind he did not wish to meet. "Let me not live," he said frequently, "when life has become an everyday conflict with disease and pain, when we are about to sink into senility and second childhood." One of the pretty incidents told of Vest was his eulogy of a dog in a country court in Missouri. Vest was waiting for a case to be called in which he was interested. The dog case came up and a man was being sued for killing his neighbor's dog. He became interested and the plaintiff's attorney urged him to speak. He arose and said slowly:
	"Gentlemen of the jury: the best friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him perhaps when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when prosperity is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. "The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog. A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer.
	He will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him, to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies.
	"And when the last scene of all comes and when death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad, but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death."

Russellville, Ky., Aug. 22The murder of pretty little Zoda Vick Wednesday continues to be the absorbing topic. The business houses were all closed Thursday and the whole male population turned out to aid in the hunt for the murderer. A reward of $500 has been offered by the county judge for his capture, and Gov. Beckham has offered an additional reward of $500, making a total of $1,000. Never in the history of the county were the citizens so wrought up. The murder of Miss Vick is the most brutal in Logan county's annals of crime. Hugh Marshall, a former employee of the Vick family, is supposed to have been connected with the murder. On searching Marshall's house he was not to be found and had sent his family to a near-by neighbor. Upon investigation a pair of trousers spattered with blood was found and an attempt had been made to cut out the spots with scissors. Marshall is still at large. The Winchester Sentinel Wednesday. Villiers, Joseph F.		Triple Tragedy.
		Jealousy Drives a Young Woman to Kill Her Widower Lover and Baby and Then Take Her Own Life.
		Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16.—One of the most terrible tragedies that ever occurred in Louisville was revealed Thursday morning at the Enterprise hotel on east Market street.
		The occupants of room 4 failing to answer a call, the door was broken in and on the floor lay a 6-months-old girl baby dead from poison. Joseph F. Villiers, with his arm about the babe, dead with a bullet hold in his temple, and across his body that of a beautiful young girl, Nellie McCuffin. Every circumstance indicates that she killed Villiers and the baby and then committed suicide.
		The only apparent motive was jealousy. Villiers was a motorman on the Seventh street trolley line and the son of a farmer of Meadow Lawn, Ky., also the woman's home. He was a widower and the baby his daughter by the dead wife. The trio went to the hotel at 8 o'clock Wednesday night and registered as Geo. F. Villiers and wife, Meadow Lawn, Ky. The coroner's investigation indicates that the woman had purchased morphine before going to the hotel. This was given to the baby in milk and Villiers was sent out on some pretext, while the dose was administered. She also took the drug, but it failed to take effect at once. When Villiers returned she evidently killed him and then took a larger dose and fell across the two bodies to die.

DEATHS Monday morning at Cincinnati, where she had gone for medical treatment, Mrs. Lena Vinson, of Huntington, W. Va. The remains were brought to this city for burial, the funeral being preached at the Christian Church y Eld. C. L. Loos, of Lexington. Mrs. Vinson was a daughter of John F. Bush and no lady in this section had more or devoted friends. Her bright and amiable disposition brought sunshine into any company of which she was a member, and when a few years ago she married Mr. Z. T. Vinson, a rising young lawyer of Huntington, her cup of happiness seemed full. We extend our sympathy to the stricken family and especially the parents who have in a so short a while been called upon to mourn the loss of both a son and daughter. Vivion, William Bush	Death of an Old Man. William Bush Vivion, the oldest man in Mercer county died Wednesday in his ninety- eighth year, of the infirmities incident to old age. He was a native of this county, the oldest son of Thos. Vivion, who lived on Lower Howard's creek not far from old Providence church and who died about the beginning of the civil war. William Vivion's mother was a Bush and he was thus related to the large family of that name here. Seventy-five years ago he moved to Mercer county and bought several hundred acres of wild land which is now among the best in the county. This land increased greatly in value and at one time he was considered the wealthiest farmer in the county. His sons, however, invested largely in Western boom towns and he thus lost much of his wealth. He was a great admirer of Alexander Campbell and an earnest member of the Christian Church. His wife, who was Miss Christy, of this county, died many years ago and he never remarried. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 25, 1898
