Kappler, Herbert	Self defense Herbert Kappler fatally shot by Thomas Swope at Evansville, Indiana A street car strike had been on for several days at Evansville, Indiana, and Thomas Swope had been employed as a non union conductor. Herbert Kappler, a union molder, entered the car and raised trouble with Swope who shot him through the body inflicting what is thought to be a mortal wound. Owing to the excited condition of affairs at Evansville, Swope was at once taken to the State Reformatory at Jeffersonville to prevent the possibility of mob violence. Swope is a son of John W. Swope, of this county, and is a young man who has always stood very high in the community. Mr. Swope, Sr., visited his son this week and feels sure that there will be but little trouble to show that his son acted in self defense. The Street Railway authorities have employed eminent counsel to defend him and Hon. John M. Stevenson, of this city, will assist in the defense. The Baptist church at Jeffersonville to which he belongs, is also taking a prominent part in his behalf. The latest news from Kappler is that he was dying. Young Swope expresses much regret for the necessity that required him to shoot Kappler, but he believes his own life was in imminent danger and feels justified. The Winchester Democrat Friday, July 30, 1909 Wound causes death Herbert Kappler, the man who was shot on a street car at Evansville, Indiana, by Thomas Swope, formerly of this county, died at that place Friday morning and the charge against Swope has been changed to murder. Swope is still in the Jeffersonville Reformatory and feels that he can show that he acted in self defense. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 3, 1909 Held over Thomas Swope, who as a non-union conductor, shot and killed Herbert Knappler at Evansville, Indiana, July 24th, and who was taken to the State Reformatory at Jeffersonville for safe keeping, was returned to Evansville last Monday. Saturday he was arranged before Police Judge Blakey, of that city, and was held over without bail to await the action of the Grand jury. John M. Stevenson, of this city, who will defend him, appeared for him at his examining trial. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 17, 1909 To assist in defense Blue Grass Council of Lexington of the Travelers Protective Association is taking active steps to assist in the defense of Thomas Swope who is charged with the killing of Keppler at Evansville, Indiana. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 31, 1909 Has returned home Some time ago Thomas Swope, of this city, when acting as street car conductor at Evansville, Ind., was forced to kill a man named Keppler. A strike of the union street car employers was in progress and Keppler was a union man while Swope was not. Passion and hatred burned so fiercely that Swope was taken to the State Reformatory to avert violence. When the excitement had subsided he was taken back to Evansville where the Grand Jury refused to indict him and he was released and at once returned to his home here. All who knew of the circumstances felt that he was justified in his action and would have been acquitted had the matter come to trial.

Karnes, Jerrie Lynn	It is with the deepest sorrow that the family of Jerrie Lynn Karnes must inform people of the passing of this very special lady. Jerrie suffered from a long illness and passed away Thursday night, Oct. 29, in the Intensive Care Unit at the University of Kentucky Medical Center. She blessed this world with her presence for 58 years. Jerrie was, and will always be, the most wonderful wife of Gary L. Karnes for 34 years and the amazingly loving and kind mother of Noah C. Karnes, Jacob L. Karnes and Grace L. Karnes (Duteman). Jerrie also was able to be a most caring grandmother of six grandchildren, and she had a most extraordinary talent at spoiling each of them. Jerrie and her family lived on a small farm, near Trapp, for 28 years. She very much enjoyed being a member of the local Red Hat Society and relished the chance to participate in events with those ladies. A private visitation, attended by family and close friends, was held at her residence on Monday afternoon. There was a private burial Tuesday afternoon on her property, assisted by Rolan G. Taylor Funeral Home, 289 S. Main St., Winchester (www.rolantaylorfuneralhome.com). All loved her deeply and will miss Jerrie ad infinitum, as a wife who made her husband's life better than he deserved, as a mother of her children whom she loved, cared for, and enriched every moment of their shared lives, and as the grandmother who cherished each grandchild, who gave her the happiest days. Happy trails, Sweetheart, until we meet again. The Winchester Sun November 2, 2010

Kavanaugh, Ben T.	Dr. Ben T. Kavanaugh died July 3 rd at the residence of his nephew, Hub L. Stevens, near Combs Ferry, this county, aged 81 years. He was a native of this county and for more than sixty years had been a minister in the Methodist church. His father, William Kavanaugh, was a preacher of considerable note, and the whole family have been noted for their talents. Of five sons, four were preachers and all have been noted for their solid reasoning powers as well as eloquence. The eldest, Bishop Hubbard Kavanaugh, was for a long time the most prominent Methodist divine in the State. Another brother, Leroy, was Clerk of the Court of Appeals many years ago, and died in office while comparatively a young man. Dr. Kavanaugh, was an author of no mean repute, and a recent work published by him, in which he discards the popular idea of the attraction of

	gravitation being the cause of the numerous phenomena usually attributed to it, and shows those phenomena to be the effect of well known electrical laws, has attracted much attention. He was very prominent in Masonic circles and was the first Grand Master of the State of Wisconsin and also held a similar position in Texas. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss M. Linkenbelter, of the county, his last wife to whom he was married about eight years ago, and who died a few weeks since, was Mrs. Barre. The remains were carried to Mt. Sterling for interment and his funeral was preached by Rev. W. F. Noland. He was buried with Knights Templar honors, Dr. J. H. Young, of this city, officiating in the ceremonies. But three of a very, large family of brothers and sisters survive him. These are Rev. Barbour Kavanaugh, of Pleasureville, Judge Ed. T. Taylor, of this county, and Mrs. John Stevens of Boonesboro. The Winchester Democrat Wed., 7-11-1888

Kearns, Mary	A Fatal Accident. An accident that speedily proved fatal occurred Friday afternoon on the C. and O. railroad near the depot, this city. Mrs. Mary Kearns, an aged lady who lived near where Jackson street crosses the C. and O. road, and who frequently goes to and from home by way of the railroad track, was run over and fatally injured by a freight with Capt. Wood as engineer was on one tract and by means of a pole or brace was pushing some freight cars on the parallel track. Mrs. Kearns was walking close by the side of the rail and did not see the cars or hear the shouts of those who saw her danger. The end of the car struck her and knocked her down. She fell in such a manner that the wheels passed over one leg between the knee and ankle so badly mangling the limb that immediate amputation was necessary. She was carried to the depot where to limb was removed. Owing to her advanced age, eighty-four years, she never rallied from the operation and died shortly after being carried to her home. Father Ryan, her pastor, had been summoned immediately after the accident and arrived in time to render the last services of the church before she lost consciousness. A brakeman who had tried to save her was struck by the car and was badly bruised. She leaves two children, Wm. Kearns, a well know railroad man of this city, and Patrick Kearns, a section foreman on the Cincinnati Southern road, who lives at Greendale, Fayette county. The funeral was held Sunday morning at St. Joseph Church, this city, and the remains were carried to Paris for interment. She was a native of Ireland, but came to this country nearly fifty years ago. She lived for a long time in Carlisle, but had been living in this city for several years, she was a godly pious woman devoted to her Church and was loved by all who knew her. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 14, 1899. The coroner's Inquest. Shortly after the unfortunate accident by which Mrs. Mary Kearns lost her life last week, Coroner Willis impaneled the following jury: H. S. Gilkey, E. G. Baxter, C. S. Locknane, J. M. Powell, Geo. Wilson and W. P. Azbill. The inquest was adjourned until Monday afternoon when it was concluded. Nothing new was developed and the jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the facts as given in our last issue. Several lawyers were present at the inquest which looks like a suit for damages is in contemplation. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 17, 1899. County Court Items Wm. Keene, _____ (Dr.)	W. A. Williams of near this place, has in his possession a bloody relic. It is the gun with which Dr. Keene killed Pete Evans, and was in turn killed himself by Dr. Austene; it will be remembered that at the time Austene killed Keene, Baker Batterton opened fire on Dr. Austene with a revolver in each hand, firing a dozen shots or more but without injury. Two of the balls however, struck the stock of his gun, the marks which are still plainly visible. Batterton fled and has never yet returned. One barrel of the murderous instrument, which is a muzzle loader, is made for shot and the other for the balls.-Centralia (Mo) Guard. Keene, William Storey	A Good Man Gone Seldom have we seen such universal sorrow manifested as was the case this week when the death of Eld. Keene was announced. Nature made him a gentleman and the grace of God and the love of Christ and his cause made him a Christian. Although he had lived here only a few years, he was known to most of our people and loved by all. Kind, gentle, patient and considerate, he was just the man to whom the sorrowful, the stricken or the unfortunate could approach for consolation, courage and help. The gospel he preached was not a system of cold, hard, logical facts or mental aberrations, but it was a sunny, cheerful, loving presentation of the goodness, the love and the mercy of God, which helped, comforted and strengthened those who heard. William Storey Keene was born in 1840 at Richmond, county of Surrey, England, about six miles from London. When about fourteen years old he ran away from home and joined the British navy where he served some time, attaining the rank of midshipman. He then left the navy and served on board merchantmen, and was for some time in command of a ship from New London, Connecticut. As a sailor he went around the world three times and stood beneath the icebergs in the land of the "Midnight Sun" and had sweltered under the burning heat of the tropics. At the breaking out of the civil war he was blockaded in a southern port and with the ardor of a young man joined his fortunes with those of the Confederacy, serving through the war with the Eighth Georgia. During the great revival of religion that swept like a tidal wave over the Confederate army of Virginia, he was converted and began preaching before he was baptized. He was afterward captured by the Federals, and while on his way to prison, the troops stopped for a while at Lancaster, this State. His preaching to the soldiers attracted the notice of some of the citizens who procured his release. He went to school at Lancaster and finished at Georgetown college. He entered the Baptist ministry and served as Pastor at Lancaster, Versailles, and Vevay. While at the latter place and after serving seven years as a Baptist minister he became convinced that the Christian church was nearer right and he joined the ministry of that church. He served as pastor at Ghent and afterward at Petersburg. His health failed and he went to Florida where he engaged in orange growing. Malaria seized him and he returned to Boone county where he labored fourteen years with the churches at Florence, Point Pleasant and Bullittsville; He also preached for churches at Walton, Crittenden and Williamstown. He served the First Christian Church at Covington for ten years and four years ago he was called by the church at this place, where he has since been located. In 1864 he was united in marriage to Miss Sallie Davis, of Fayette county, who with one daughter, Elizabeth, survives him. A son, William and daughter, Maggie died in infancy. For some time he had been in failing health and Monday evening the end came and his life passed away as peacefully as a babe falls to sleep. The funeral services were held at the First Christian Church by the resident pastor of the city, and short services at the house by Eld. Graham, of Lexington, Dr. Savage, of this city, and Eld. Haley, of Cynthiana. Besides the resident pastors, Revs. Shoose and Spencer of Lexington; Rupard, Rash and French, of this city were present. The deceased was an enthusiastic Odd Fellow and was Chaplain of Hickman Lodge. The remains were carried to Lexington for interment. A large number from here being present. His mother still survives him, living at Sidney, Australia, and a sister lives at Melbourne. The floral decorations were the finest ever seen here. Among the set pieces were the following: "Gates Ajar," from the members of his congregation. "Pillow," from the local C. W. B. M. "Crescent," from the Senior Christian Endeavor. "Crescent and Harp," from the State C. W. B. M.

"Carnations," from the Junior Christian Endeavor.
 "Large Wreath," from Mrs. Keene's Sunday School Class.
 "White Floral Bow," badge of the order, from the local W. C. T. U.
 "Three Links," from Hickman Lodge I. O. O. F.
 "Cross," from the resident pastors.
 We join with the large concourse of friends in sympathy with the bereaved family.

Resolution Of The Resident Pastors
 Whereas, It hath pleased Almighty God, in his wise providence, to call from labor to reward, Elder W. S. Keene, pastor of the First Christian Church, of our city, and
 Whereas, In the death of Brother Keene, we his brother ministers, experience a profound sense of personal loss, and not only the members of his own church, but all the Christian people of our community are deeply pained at the sad announcement of his death; therefore be it resolved,

1. That in the departure of our beloved brother, the ministers of Winchester recognize that a useful, beautiful and noble life has closed, and that our ranks have suffered the loss of a faithful servant of God and an able minister of his Word. Resolved.
2. That to his bereaved family and pastorless church, we extend our most cordial sympathy, and offer in their behalf our heartfelt prayers; commending them "to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build them up and give them an inheritance among all them which are sanctified." Resolved,
3. That a copy of these resolutions be given the family and furnished to our local papers and spread upon the minutes of our Ministerial Association. An now beloved brother, farewell. Peace to thy memory. Thy barque has safely reached the shore. Thou hast been welcomed and crowned. As thy sympathizing and sorrowing fellow laborers, we lay this flower of love upon your bier. We live in the blessed hope that we shall meet again, some sweet day.

"When with the morn, those angel faces smile Which we have loved long since and lost awhile." H. G. Henderson, Pastor Methodist Church. J. J. Chisholm, Pastor Presbyterian Church. B. B. Bailey, Pastor Baptist Church. J. A. Francis, Pastor Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Soldiers Tribute To A Soldier.
 Tuesday afternoon, April 19, 1898, a large number of the members of the Clark County Confederate Association met at the Courthouse and were called to order by Col. J. T. Tucker, President of the Association.
 On Motion the President appointed a Committee of five members to draft resolutions of respect for the memory of their deceased comrade, Elder W. S. Keene.
 The following were appointed said Committee: Leeland Hathaway, Chairman; B. F. Curtis, D. J. Pendleton, W. B. Wills, R. P. Scobee. The following are the resolutions offered by the Committee, and which were unanimously adopted by the meeting:
 Our comrade, W. S. Keene, has been ordered to the Eternal Camping Ground, and his spotless tent is pitched among the immortals.
 The transfer was not a surprise, and when the Great Captain gave the command, the old soldier answered as he had answered every roll-call, "Ready."
 Comrade Keene was a model by which the young soldier may fashion his career. All of the better attributes of manhood, courage, courtesy, fidelity and patriotism, lent their blended charm to make him a stainless gentleman, a chivalric soldier and a Christian. We loved him for his virtues, admired him for his nobility and we mourn him as a comrade, "without fear and without reproach."
 We his comrade, will attend his funeral as a body.
 We request the county papers to publish these resolutions, and direct that they be spread on the records.
 Leeland Hathaway, Ch'n., B. F. Curtis, D. J. Pendleton, W. B. Wills, R. P. Scobee, Committee.

Resolutions
 Adopted by Hickman Lodge, I. O. O. F. on the Death of Eld. W. S. Keene.
 Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty, in His infinite and inscrutable wisdom, to call from his earthly labors to the Great Grand Lodge above, our beloved Chaplain and esteemed Brother, W. S. Keene, now therefore be it
 Resolved, That while we meekly bow in humble submission to the Divine will, we deplore the loss of our loved friend and brother, whose good works and kindly deeds in Odd Fellowship will live in its history's pages as long as the Lodge and time shall last. He was faithfully and zealously a soldier of the cross just as he had been a soldier of the cross, just as he had been a soldier of his adopted country's flag. He followed Christ as ardently as he followed the Confederate cause in earthly warfare. Being wedded to honor and to principle, willing to do, to give, to suffer for any cause which his heart and mind espoused, he was first of all faithful and active in the work of an ardent earnest, Christian life, and knowing that Odd Fellowship was but one of the blossoms on religion's vine, he tended it in all patience and lovingness to make it worthy of the parent stem. Modest in all things, gentle and retiring by nature, he was ever at the front when prompt, courageous, helpful action was demanded. Odd Fellowship never made a call upon him to which he did not at once respond and proudly step to the front for duty, under the banner of the glorious Order on whose guidon is emblazoned, Friendship,

Love, and Truth. He had the courage of a lion and the fragrant purity of a lily. We honor his blameless and beautiful life and love his memory.

Resolved, That the members of Hickman Lodge attend his funeral in a body, and that the usual badges of mourning be worn for thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge that the Secretary be directed to send a copy to the bereaved family of our deceased brother, with the assurance of our deepest sympathy in their irreparable loss and that The Winchester Democrat and Sun be requested to publish the same. T. G. Stuart, W. A. Attersall, K. J. Hampton, Committee.

The Winchester Democrat, Friday, April 29, 1898

Elder W. S. Keene.

In most of the grief which people experience in this world there is a great deal of selfishness; and a Christian's sorrow over a Christian's death is altogether selfish. Did not our savior, confident of the triumph of His mission on the cross, give grief a conspicuous place among the beatitudes—"Blessed are they that Mourn:" And has he not from his throne in glory, anticipating doubtless the trophies of His grace which we are witnessing today, declared, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Therefore the Christian alone of all men has a reason and a right to glory in tribulation, to rejoice in the presence of death, even when the eyes are blinded by tears and the heart is bleeding from the breaking of the "cords of a man and bonds of love." For the Christ whom we preach and serve "hath abolished death and hath brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel." What a glorious gospel is ours, when we pass into the valley of shadows! What strength and inspiration does our faith in the Truth impart when we stand by the coffin of this preacher of the Gospel, when we enter his sorrowing household, we weep and mourn for the departure of our brother and friend? But we rejoice and our joy triumphs over our sorrow!

Death to us is loss—all loss—the loss of his fellowship, the loss of his sympathy, the loss of his service. But death to him is gain—only gain—enjoyment of a nearer companionship with Jesus, entrance into His excellent glory, elevation in His blessed service.

Death to us is sickness, struggle, suffering, surrender—a fearful fight in prospect with our last enemy. But death to him now is health, peace, joy and victory—the good fight is fought, the course is finished, the crown is won!

Death to us is decay, dissolution, gloomy and repugnant in all its physical accompaniments. But death to him now is development and revelation, progressive and rapturous in all its spiritual associations—yes, it is life, holy and happy, life abundant and abiding.

Wondrous change, this death hath wrought for people and for preacher!

We sorrow, stricken family and sympathizing friends; yet we sorrow only for ourselves—for our loss, that we shall see his face no more in the flesh. But for him we are glad—widow daughter, fellow Christians, brother preachers, we all may and must rejoice! For remember, the servant is with the Master whom he served—the soldier is with the Captain whom he followed—the disciple is with the Lord whom he loved—the ambassador of Christ hath ended his ministry of reconciliation in which he was faithful to the last and hath entered the presence of the King in glory! Trusting in the love which cannot fail and in the wisdom which never yet has erred, we say, "Even so Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight."

"Blessed is our dead"; for he died in the Lord," And "blessed are we that mourn, for we are comforted."

We are comforted by the memory of the life which he lived—of the tenderness of his affections in the home, of the courage of his conviction for truth and duty on the field and in the pulpit, of the spirit of unity and charity which he showed to his brethren in the ministry. We are comforted by the glorious Gospel which he preached and with which he so often comforted others. We are comforted by the blessed comfort of the Only Comforter who gives strength for every hour of need and who, through all other changes, shall abide with us forever. J. J. C.

HEAVENLY BIRTHDAY.

To-day is the first anniversary of the death of Eld. W. S. Keene, the beloved pastor of the First Christian Church of this city. By request the following lines are published in memory thereof:

"One year among the angels, beloved, thou hast been, One year have you heaven's white portals shut out the sound of sin: And yet no voice, no whisper, comes floating down from thee

To Tell us what glad wonders a year of heaven would may be.

Our hears before it listen-the beautiful, closed gate-

The silence yearns around us, we listen and we wait.

It is thy heavenly birthday-on earth the lilies bloom,

In thy immortal garland, canst find for them no room?

Thou lovedst all things lovely, when walking with us here,

Now from the heights of heaven, seems earth no longer dear?

"Heaven is but life may richer, therein can be no loss;

To meet our love and longing, thou hast no gulf to cross.

No adamant between us rears its rocky screen;

That veil'twixt earth and heaven, a breath might waft aside,

We breathe one air, beloved! We follow one dear guide.

	Passed into open vision, out of our mists and rain, Thou seest how sorrow bossoms, how peach is now from pain. Because we know yee near us, and nearer still to him, Who fills thy cup of being with glory to the brim. We will not stain with grieving, our fair tho fainter light, But cling to thee in spirit, as if tho were in sight. And as in waves of beauty the swift years come and go. Upon celestial currents our deeper life shall flow. Hearing from that sweet country, where blighting never come, Love chime the hours here on earth, and heaven the same. Keffer, Nancy	Nancy Keffer entered the heavenly kingdom on Saturday, November 23rd, to be rejoined with her husband of 55 years, Donald, who pre-deceased her in August 2013. Nancy was born on April 15, 1930 in Warren, OH. She leaves behind a legacy of 3 children, Melissa, James (Amy), and Joseph (Donna), along with 9 grandchildren, 7 great grandchildren, and numerous nieces and nephews. Nancy and Don, early on, lived a gypsy's life, with Don's career in bridge and road construction taking them from job site to job site, always having the family trailer close by so Don could be home for lunch and dinner while keeping a close watch on progress. With 3 children in tow, Nancy made the best of it. However, on a particularly dry, hot August day, following a dynamite blast, which led to a billowing cloud of red clay dust slowly infiltrating and coating every surface of the family trailer, Nancy put her foot down. Soon thereafter, Don and Nancy made their home in Winchester, KY. Throughout her life, Nancy was a caring, kind, and complex woman. She was Irish to the core, being generous with her resources and time, but also could create a tempest when things didn't go according the code of Nancy. But more than anything we remember her kindness in caring for others in their time of need, and her desire to serve her community. She was a Girl Scout troop leader, she volunteered with the Lioness Club, hosted numerous exchange students, and was a leader in her church circle groups. While Nancy didn't seek a spotlight, she certainly understood the importance of giving back and helping those in need. As her children moved along in school, she decided to work outside the home. She had several careers, and she succeeded in all of them. She was the assistant to the head librarian at the school board, she worked at Dillard's, and of note she was the executive secretary of the 2nd National Bank until her retirement. In this role she had a seat on the board and participated in key decision-making discussions around strategic planning and operational strategy. Following retirement Nancy and Don seemed to pick up pace. They gathered no moss as they fulfilled their wanderlust in traveling to every continent except Australia. And they had a fine time doing it. She continued to volunteer, knitting yarn hats for about every kid in Kentucky (and even a Georgia high school swim team). They hosted family reunions, and always opened their home to any relative, friend, or acquaintance that happened to be in the neighborhood. Her most important mission in life began when Don's health failed him. She was tireless in caring for him, making sure he made his doctor appointments, adapting their diet to bolster their health, being there for him to offer comfort and companionship in his declining months. That mission took its toll, and following Don's passing, Nancy's health also began a cruel and irreversible decline. She's now at peace, likely getting ready to tee it up with Don, Mary Jane, and Dick, on the best links course the universe has to offer. Wife, mom, community volunteer, care giver, world traveler...Nancy led a well examined and purpose driven life. We will miss her dearly.

	The family would like to give thanks for the caring and loving service provided to Nancy by Tammy Crowe, Vickie Parker, Sarah Osbourne, and Vickey Walling. A memorial service will be conducted on Dec. 7 at 11:00 am at the 1st Presbyterian church, 130 Windridge Dr. , Winchester, Ky. All are welcome. In lieu of flowers, donations may be sent tho the following: Hospice East 407 Shoppers Dr. Winchester, Ky. 40391; Lady Veterans Connect 11400 Irvine Rd., Winchester , Ky. 40391 and CC's Closet 30 Taylor Ave, Winchester,Ky. 40391. Rolan G Taylor Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. The Winchester Sun December 4, 2019

Kehoe, Mrs. Honora	DIED-At her home in Maysville, Wednesday, after a brief illness. Mrs. Honora Kehoe, aged 76 years. She was a native of Ireland and a woman of very great force of character, which her children have inherited. Her eldest daughter is the wife of the first Vice President of the Illinois Central railroad. Another daughter is the wife of Mr. Charles Reed, of Mason county. Her sons have all attained eminence. Thomas is a prominent business man at Knoxville, Tenn. Will is official stenographer of Congress, Dexter is Superintendent of the Treasury branch of the Government Printing Office at Washington, Henry is a prominent physician and druggist at Flemingsburg, James, who was formerly foreman of THE DEMOCRAT office is now Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Mason county and Master Commissioner of the Mason Circuit Court, Mark is a prominent man of Maysville and a few years ago declined the Presidency of the National Cigar Makers Union of the United States. Mrs. Kehoe was one of the noblest and best types of womanhood in Kentucky. Of her it was said in his famous speech, nominating her distinguished son, Hon. J. Dexter Kehoe for Public Printer in 1882 by Hon. W. J. Hendrick, now Attorney General of Kentucky, "Left in the wilds of Lewis county, a widow with a large family of helpless children and with no portion save honor and brains, but endowed with a lofty character and indomitable will, a mother's boundless love, unaided save by the labors of her little ones, she reared them all to be men of mark and women of worth and all like herself, bread-winners in the battle of life." Of such are the salt of the earth and the kingdom of Heaven, and a glorious crown awaits her on the shining shores of eternity and with the need of " Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Enter thou into the joys of eternal rest. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, February 12, 1895.

Keith, Jasper	Farmer Keith's Terrible Discovery

	Jasper Keith, a farmer living in Winston county, Alabama, awoke one morning and found his wife and 8-months-old baby dead in bed by his side. Their bodies were badly swollen, and coiled in one corner of the bed was a moccasin snake, whose bite is as fatal as that of the rattlesnake. During the night the snake had crawled into the bed and had bitten Mrs. Keith and the child. Keith was so overcome with grief and horror that he fell prostrate across the dead bodies of his wife and baby. This aroused the snake, and it struck at Keith, but its fangs caught in the sleeves of his nightshirt and he escaped the fatal sting. Realizing his peril Keith caught the snake in his hand and hurled it to the floor before it could strike again.—Cor. Philadelphia Press The Winchester Democrat; Wednesday, October 8, 1890

Kelley, Mrs. Peter	For nearly a year the case of Mrs. Peter Kelley, of Barboursville, West Virginia has attracted the attention of the medical world. Last April she was recovering from a long attack of fever. One evening she started downstairs, but when half way down the bones of her leg gave way with a peculiar glass-like snap. Her husband carried her back to the bedroom and on the way the bones of her right leg broke in several places. Mrs. Kelley experienced no pain either at the breaking or the setting of the bones. They knit rapidly and occasioned her no discomfort, though ever since the slightest exertion would break them again. Surgeons said the cause was deficiency of animal and a superabundance of mineral matter in the bones. She has of course been confined to her bed since that time until death came to her relief last Saturday. The Democrat, Wednesday, February 15, 1893.

Kellner, Alma	Body found in cellar Millionaire uncle of Alma Kellner identifies gruesome find Louisville, Ky., - A body which was identified by her millionaire uncle, Frank Fehr, as the eight-year-old daughter of Fred L. Kellner, and who disappeared from her home last December, was found in a sub-basement of St. John's Catholic school at Clay and Walnut streets. The condition of the corpse indicated that it had been in its damp hiding place for several months. The discovery was made by a plumber at work in the cellar. The decaying torso, for a limb is missing, was wrapped in a piece of carpet. The missing limb was found in another part of the cellar, the foot bearing the shoe. The scene of the gruesome find is only five blocks from the Kellner home. Alma Kellner disappeared December 8 and from that time until the body was found not a word was heard concerning her. She left her home on the morning in question, to attend a service at St. John's church, and the last seen of her was when she waived goodbye to her mother in front of her residence. The search for the missing girl extended all over the United States. The wife of a former janitor of the school was arrested and charged with being accessory to murder. Her husband is being sought to tell what he knows of the child's death. While men were at work on the premises where Alma Kellner was murdered, pathetic scenes were enacted at the undertaking establishment of L.D. Bax, where the skeleton was placed in a small, white casket, with a silver plate on top bearing the inscription: "Our Darling." The funeral was conducted from the undertaking establishment and was attended by Frank Fehr, cousin of the murdered child.

May be in Europe

Louisville, Ky., - Believing that Joseph Wendling, the missing janitor of St. John's Catholic church, to whom suspicion points as the murderer of Alma Kellner, has left the United States, the state department at Washington, which was appealed to by the police through Congressman Sherley of this city to assist in the search for Wendling, has assured Congressman Sherley that it would forward a description of Wendling to all parts of the world and assist in any other way possible. An accurate description of Wendling will be forwarded the department at once.

Murderer caught

Joseph Wendling, the alleged murderer of little Alma Kellner, of Louisville, was caught Saturday in San Francisco, California. The detectives had followed him eleven thousand miles before catching him. He acknowledged his identity when caught, but denied his guilt.

The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 2, 1910

Louisville – Joseph Wendling, accused of the murder of 8-year-old Alma Kellner here, who was captured in California after a 12,000 mile chase, has arrived here in custody of Chief of Detectives John P. Carney, Chief of Police Lindsey and Col. John Whallen. Wendling maintains his innocence, and says he is in the hands of God.

The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 16, 1910

Louisville – Mrs. C.A. Muena, of Hume, Mo., from whom it is understood, Chief of Detectives Carney learned the address of Joseph Wendling, wanted in Louisville on the charge of murdering Alma Kellner, has put in a claim for the rewards offered by the state, city and several citizens for the arrest and conviction of Wendling. Mrs. Muena, in her letter, says that she is “wearied out with telephone calls and newspaper reporters,” and claims her business in Hume has been injured to such an extent that she will have to open for the fall trade in some other place.

Claims bloody clothing

Wendling then refused to talk upon advice of attorney

Louisville – Joseph Wendling, indicted on the charge of murdering Alma Kellner, is now in the Jefferson county jail, awaiting trial at the October term of court. Upon his arrival here Wendling was taken to the office of Col. H. Watson Lindsey, chief of police, and there shown the bloody clothing which are supposed to have been worn when the murder of which he is accused, was committed. Wendling identified several of the articles as having belonged to him, but when his attorney, J. Reginald Clements, arrived he advised his client not to talk any further to the police. This sealed the lips of the prisoner.

Life term for Joseph Wendling

Circumstantial evidence saves him from the gallows – jury out for over four hours
Convicted murderer of Alma Kellner smiles at the verdict – Attorneys will make an appeal – Story of the crime

Louisville – Jos. Wendling, charged with the atrocious murder of little Alma Kellner, in December of 1909, must spend the remainder of his natural life behind prison walls. So said a jury in the criminal branch of the Jefferson circuit court after a week had been spent in the trial of this famous case. Wendling accepted the finding of the 12 men more complacently than any of the spectators. The room was crowded. Wendling and his wife, who has sat beside him during the trial, wore the half smile which has characterized them both throughout the six days of the ordeal. Wendling was asked in French if he had any comment to make on the verdict of the jury. The prisoner smiled, looked over at his attorneys and said: “I no guilty – if I guilty, I should be hanged. They tell lies. They frame up on me. But you take care of me all right.” Then he looked into the face of his wife. They were close together and he whispered a word to her. Instantly Mrs. Wendling's face was abeam with a smile. She took the prisoner's hand and prepared to leave the court room. Wendling from all outward appearances was not disturbed by the verdict. After giving his first attention to his wife, he spoke to Capt. Clements, then to John Ray, when he again settled back into his chair. J. Reginald Clements, his attorney, was emphatic in his expression of opinion. He said he would ask for a new trial, adding: “It was a cowardly verdict. The jurors should have had the courage of their convictions. If they believed Wendling guilty they should have fixed his punishment at death.” For four hours and 20 minutes the jury deliberated. Its members entered into an argument not to tell how many ballots were taken nor how their discussion of the case proceeded. When the verdict was read one spectator applauded with handicaps. Judge Gregory ordered the man brought before him and fined him $10. “This is not a theater; where do you thing you are?”

Basis for appeal – Wendling's attorneys declare their faith in the prisoner's innocence, and say they will immediately file a motion for a new trial. They say they will base their petition for a new hearing on an affidavit that one of the jurors in the case was prejudiced. Frank Fehr, the man who as a relative of the Kellner family had been diligent to a marked degree to ferret out the mystery of the child's disappearance almost a year ago, was in the court room when the jury came in. He would make no statement

		for the Kellner family, except to say: "If he is the guilty man – and the jury thinks so – he should be convicted." Story of the crime – Alma Kellner was the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellner, of this city. She was last seen in St. John's Catholic church December 8, 1909, where she had gone for mass. When she failed to return home after several hours her family became alarmed and notified the police. It was first believed the child had been kidnapped, and numerous rewards were offered for her return. Wendling was the janitor of the church, and two or three witnesses swore he was in the church on December and closely observed Alma at the altar. Father Schuhmann, the priest of the church, complained to Wendling of a foul odor about the building. "Yes, me burn old rags," he replied. A representative of the gas company was denied possession of keys to the church that he might read the meter, but Wendling accompanied him and carefully locked the door afterwards, when always before the key had been easily accessible. About June 14, 1910, Frank Fehr, the wealthy brewer, a relative of the Kellners, visited the church and remarked in the presence of the janitor that he expected Pinkerton detectives would be detailed to the case. The next day Wendling disappeared. Up to this time he had not been suspected, but tracing his subsequent movements and comparison of his previous actions culminated in fastening the crime upon him. Postal card gave clue – Chief of Detectives Carney, of this city, who personally conducted the search for Wendling, had almost given up the hunt when he located Mrs. Cora Munea, a milliner, at Hume, Md. Wendling had known Mrs. Munea in Texas, and had proposed marriage to her. Mrs. Munea denied any knowledge of Wendling, but Capt. Carney found a post card from Wendling mailed to California. Carney telegraphed his information to the San Francisco police and the arrest followed. The Winchester Democrat Friday, December 9, 1910

Kelly, Honsten	AA	At Paris, Honsten Kelly, aged twenty and Eliza Dent, aged twenty-eight, colored, were sleeping together when someone entered the room and placed a dynamite cartridge with lighted fuse attached between the sleeping couple; both were killed by the explosion, their bodies being dreadfully torn. The Coroner's jury found circumstantial evidence strong against Tom Gage and Sam Jackson and they were held to await action of Circuit Court. Ike Cary, of this city, was sleeping in an adjoining room when the explosion occurred, and was arrested by Chief of Police Madigan and taken there as a witness. It is not thought he had anything to do with the commission of the crime The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, October 11, 1893 Dan Darnall, colored, of Paris, has left for parts unknown. He is thought to have known something of the killing of Eliza Dent and Houston Kelley, who were blown up with dynamite some time ago. The Winchester Democrat; Wednesday, November 29, 1893 SAM JACKSON and Tom Cage, colored, were acquitted in the Paris Circuit Court Thursday, of the murder of Houston Kelly and Eliza Dent by blowing up their house with dynamite. Dan Darnall, who was also suspected, has never been caught. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 16, 1894.

Kelly, Jim	AA	On last Thursday afternoon Jim Kelly, a Negro, who worked for Peter Crow, section boss on the First Division of the Kentucky Central extension running out from Paris, went to the house of Mr. Crow, which is three miles from that city, and has no neighbors within half a mile, and finding no one at home with Mrs. Crow, made an attempt to rape her, but did not succeed until he had kept up his attempt for more than three hours. He finally knocked her down, held her by the throat with one hand, and held a pistol in her face with the other, and accomplished his purpose. The fiend was captured and taken to Paris and lodged in jail, and at about 2 o'clock a mob of one hundred angry and excited men went to the jail, and, overpowering Jailer James and his son, they secured the prisoner and hung him to the second railroad bridge below Paris. The criminal was a large, burly Negro, weighing over 200 pounds, and Mrs. Crow is a

	small, delicate lady of thirty years of age, and was formerly Miss Henry, of Nicholas county. The verdict of the people is that the hanging was a just one. Kemp, James (Ash Barrel Jimmy)		“Ash Barrel Jimmy” officially known as Capt. James Kemp, of the Salvation Army, was laid to rest in Boston a few days ago by his comrades of the army. He was the first and probably the most famous convert made by the Salvation Army in this country. His conversion took place fifteen years ago in New York, where he had for a long time been a habitual drunkard, and where he got his nickname from being found drunk in an ash barrel. After joining the army his mode of life changed, and he became not only a sober, industrious man, but an earnest and fearless worker in the ranks of the army. He was subjected to bitter persecution at the hands of his former associates; on one occasion he had several of his front teeth broken by a blow on the mouth, and at another time he was stabbed in the back; but no persecution could turn him back from his work. Kendall, Amos	The Cassell Murder. Milton Kendall and son, who have been in jail for some time charged with the murder of Eugene Cassell, in Jessamine county while the latter was defending his chicken roost, have been ordered taken to the Nicholasville jail. The prisoners and their friends were afraid of their being lynched and Gov. Taylor ordered a detail of eighty soldiers from Lexington companies under Capt. Longmire as a guard. The Jessamine people are mad about it and claim that the prisoners would be in no danger from a mob. Amos Kendall, the son, who was run over by a train at Bowling Green while the officers were looking for him, and who had both legs amputated, died without making any confession. It was claimed that he had been shot by Cassell at the time of the killing, but his legs were so mutilated by the cars that no signs of a bullet wound were found, even if they existed. It is now said the police have a clue involving a huckster who lives in Fayette county, somewhere in the vicinity of Athens. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, January 26, 1900

Kendrick, Julius S.	Death of Eld. Kendrick Eld. Julius Kendrick died at an early hour Tuesday morning at his home in Danville, aged forty-six years. For some time he had been a sufferer from Bright's disease which had recently assumed an acute form. He was one of the best known and most popular ministers of the Christian Church in the State. He was a native of Grant county and had fought his way to a position of prominence and usefulness against adverse circumstances. He graduated from the College of Bible of Kentucky University and entered the ministry of the Christian Church. He had charge of churches at Selma, Alabama, Dallas, Texas, coming here from the latter place. He was here for several years and, by his gentle, cheery manner and gentlemanly qualities greatly endeared himself to our people regardless of church affiliations. Eight years ago he resigned the charge of the First Christian Church of this city to accept a call to Danville where he has since resided. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Alice Woollery and two children, a son of about seventeen years, and a baby a few months old. The funeral was held at Danville, services being conducted by Eld. Mark Collis, of Lexington, and Eld. F. M. Baines, of Cincinnati. We understand that he left about $5,500 insurance on his life. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, April 28, 1899 Rev. J. S. Kendrick Dead Danville, Ky., April 26 Rev. J. S. Kendrick of the Christian church, died of Bright's disease Tuesday morning. He leaves a widow and two children. The funeral will be conducted here by Rev. W. F. Rains, of Cincinnati. The Winchester Democrat Tue., May 2, 1899

	Will Live In Danville Friends will be gratified to know that Mrs. Kendrick has decided to live in Danville. Elder Kendrick was greatly attached to the town and was buried here at his request. It is known that he declined more than one flattering call to other churches.-Danville Advocate The Winchester Democrat Tue., May 2, 1899

Kennon, R. L.	A paper from Deer Lodge, Montana, gives the particulars of the death recently of a native of this county. The Richmond Pantagraph quotes as follows: R. L. Kennon was 74 years old, a brother of the venerable R. C. Kennon, of Vaughn's Mill, Powell county and closely related to Elder L. H. Reynolds, the well-known minister of bourbon county, who has so long preached in Madison. "Uncle Dick" went to Colorado in 1800 and during the war removed to Bannock, Montana; thence to Virginia City, and finally to Dear Lodge in 1846, being most of the time a merchant. He was postmaster four years, county treasurer three terms, once territorial treasurer, member of the legislature, held various other offices and was never defeated in any election. He has another brother in Ohio and a sister in the state of Washington. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, February 3, 1899

Kerb, Phil	An Explosion Two Men Fatally and Three Seriously Burned in a Louisville Distillery. Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18.—three men were seriously and two fatally burned Monday morning as the result of a boiler explosion in the Ferncliffe distillery at Logan and Lampton streets. The fatally injured are: John Kenney and Phil Kerb. Charles Dickens, Will Wateran and John Thompson were badly scalded, but will recover. The explosion occurred at 9:30 o'clock and was caused by a big flue collapsing, allowing the water to get to the fires beneath. The damage to the distillery will amount to about $1,000. Kerns, Mrs. Matilda Donaldson	Died—At Montezuma, Indiana, May 8 th , of old age, Mrs. Matilda Donaldson Kerns. She was born in Fayette county in 1807 and was consequently ninety-one years old. Her father, Walter Karrick moved here when she was a small child and she grew up here. In 1833 she married Thos. Donaldson, who was for some time Jailer of this county and who lived here until 1833 when he moved to Indiana with his family. Mr. Donaldson died in 1870 and ten years later she married Rev. William Kerns, a minister of the Christian Church for three-fourths of a century and lived a consistent life. A sister, Mrs. Mary Watts, is still living in this county and is the last of a large family. Another sister, Mrs. Nancy Owsley, the mother of Eld. J. W. Harding died a few years ago in her ninetieth year. A brother, Jas. V. Karrick formerly represented this county in the Legislature defeating the late Fielding Bush after a memorable race. Some of our older citizens will remember Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson, but only a few. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, May 27, 1898

Kerr, Mrs. Lavina	Death of Mrs. Kerr Mrs. Lavina Kerr, perhaps the oldest, and one of the most highly respected persons in this section, died at the home of her son, Mr. S. P. Kerr, corner of Maple and Belmont Streets, Saturday morning. The funeral took place at the residence of Mr. Kerr Sunday afternoon with services by Revs. C. J. Armstrong and Wm. Cumming. Burial in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Monday morning. Mrs. Kerr was formerly Miss Smith. She was born in Bullitt county, Ky., Dec. 29, 1810, and a few days before her death celebrated her 93rd anniversary. Most of her life was spent in Louisville where she reared a large family that was a comfort and a blessing to her in her declining years. About two years ago she came here from Missouri, where she had spent some time with her daughter, and joined Mr. Kerr's family on a trip south, and continued with them as one of the household. Just ten days before her death she lost a sister, Mrs. Fannie Smitzer, who died at her home in Nicholasville, aged 86. Another sister, Mrs. Martha Posthlewate, of Chanut, Kansas, survives at the age of 80. Mrs. Kerr leaves five sons and a daughter, viz: S P. Kerr, of this city, Thos. F. Kerr, of Houston, Texas, J. D. Kerr, of Versailles, Ill., E. E. Kerr, of Louisville, J. W. Kerr, of Sour Woods, Texas, and Mrs. Jno. S. Crow, of Paris, Mo. She was a member of the Christian church, and a good true woman. Kerr, Smith P.	Death of one of Winchester's Most Prominent and useful Citizens Smith P. Kerr died at his home on Belmont Street at an early hour yesterday morning, aged sixty-six years. For more than a year past he has been a great sufferer, but these sufferings he bore with patience and fortitude. The funeral will be held at the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock and the services will be conducted by Rev. Wm. Cumming. The following pall bearers have been selected: Active, M.T. McEldowney, J. Clayton Ramsey, S.J. Faris, Wm. Woolcott, Thos. Walden, W.J. Walden. Honorary, W.M. Beckner, T.F. Phillips, John C.M. Day, T.L. Phillips, John C.M. Day, T.L. Phillips, J.D. Simpson, Floyd Day, I.H. McKinley, John M. Hodgkin, B.F. Curtis, E.S. Jouett. His wife, who was formerly Miss Emma Johnson, survives him, as does one daughter, Mrs. David T. Matlack. He was born at Mt. Washington, Bullitt county, near Louisville, and moved here in the spring of 1878. He bought the old mill on the corner of Main and Broadway which more than one firm had failed to make a success. He infused new methods into the business and was successful from the start. In a few years he built the modern structure which now graces that corner, made his flour a household word in central and eastern Kentucky and rapidly accumulated wealth. Years ago M.T. McEldowney became associated with him in business and of late years the cares of the large business interest of the firm, especially the details, have been looked after by the latter in a great degree. Mr. Kerr was one of Winchester's most progressive citizens and nothing that would tend to advance the interests of the city but was sure of a helping hand from him. Although quite a wealthy man he was extremely modest and never obtruded opinions where they were not sought. In his death our city has lost one of its best citizens, the church one of its staunchest supporters and his family a kind and indulgent husband and father. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 14, 1906 Will Probated S.P. Kerr, after providing for his burial expenses and the payment of debts left to his brother, E.E. Kerr, for life a house and lot where he now resides in Louisville; to his brother Thos. F. Kerr, for life, a farm of eighty acres near Elkhart, Texas; to Mrs. Anna Southgate a home for life with descendant's wife and daughter, and also $300 per year from his estate; to Mary Gay, his colored servant a house to cost not more than $800; the balance of his estate to his wife, Mrs. Emma F. Kerr and daughter, Anna Belle Matlack, jointly, and at his wife's death it is to go to his daughter; he desires the family to live together and to own the property jointly; D.T. Matlack is named as executor without bond. This will is dated May 7th, 1906. By a codicil of June 14th, 1906, he left to his brothers, Thos. F. Kerr, E.E. Kerr and Jas. W. Kerr each $1,000; to his niece, Mrs. Ella Collis, and Mrs. Cora Heathman, both of Paris, Mo., $500 each; and to the First Presbyterian Church of this city, $1000, to be held in trust and the income to be used for the church. The will says that nothing is left to testator's brother John D. Kerr, of Versailles, Ill., because he has already given him more than is left to his other brothers; nothing to his sister, Mrs. John S. Crow, because she has plenty and does not need it. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, August 28, 1906 New Milling firm D.T. Matlack, as executor of the estate of S.P. Kerr, has sold the machinery, capital stock, good will, etc., of the Mills at the corner of Main and Broadway to the Winchester Roller Mills, a firm composed of M.T. McEldowney, D.T. Matlack and Wm. Woolcott. The sale did not include the buildings and new buildings will probably be constructed at some point on one of the railroads. This will not be done for some time, however, although the firm may erect steel elevators near the railroad, to handle grain from the cars. At present but little changes will be made. Ketterer, Fred	Startling Revelations Promised by relatives and friends of Fred Ketterer Ashland, Ky., - Startling revelations into the management of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the insane at Lexington, Ky., are promised by the relatives and friends of Fred Ketterer, who died at the institution in June, and it is alleged that certain employees of the institution will be charged with murder. Ketterer was a resident of this city, and was for years employed in the steel mills here. During the latter part of May he became violent while at his duties in the steel plant, and it was necessary for him to be bound hand and foot while being taken to the asylum. In less than a month after being sent to the asylum Ketterer's remains were sent to his family in this city, with the information from the asylum officials that he had come to his death as a result of "exhaustion due to acute mania". This verdict was not approved by the family of Ketterer, especially after his remains arrived here, and marks of violence were visible on his face, and a post-mortem examination was held which disclosed the fact that the man had apparently suffered blows on the back of the head and on various parts of his body, which local physicians claim were sufficient to cause his death. The Winchester Democrat Friday, September 21, 1906 An Investigation Into Ketterer case is ordered by the State board of control Frankfort, Ky., - The state board of control ordered an investigation into the sudden death of Fred Ketterer, of Ashland, at the Lexington insane asylum. President Haly, of the board, issued the following statement: "The state board of control, in special session, has determined to make an investigation of the cause of circumstances attending the death of Fred Ketterer, recently a patient in the Easter asylum for the insane at Lexington. Judge J.R. Morton, of Lexington, has been employed by the board to formulate the method to be used in making the investigation. The board has instructed Judge Morton that its purpose and desire is that the investigation shall be full and complete and that the facts relative to the death of Ketterer be clearly established, without regard to consequences. The result of the investigation, whatever it may be, is at the service of the Fayette county grand jury, which meets in October." The Winchester Democrat Friday, September 28, 1906 In Jail for Murder Sometime ago Fred Ketterer was sent to the Lexington lunatic asylum from Ashland. He was a very strong young man, an iron worker whose insanity was caused by working by day near the hot furnace and sitting up all night with his sick wife. Ketterer was violent and hard to manage in the asylum and in comparatively a short time he died and was sent home for burial. His body was badly bruised and several gashes on the back of the head extended to the bone. An investigation was made by the Grand jury and Fred Pharis, Richard Champion, David Adams and James Clagget, former attendants, were indicted for the murder of Ketterer. Pharis was arrested and placed in jail but the others have left the city and have not been found. Pharis was raised in this county where he has a large number of relatives who will be hard to convince that he deliberately murdered a crazy man while in his charge. The indictment alleges in detail that Ketterer came to his death by being beaten with blunt instruments in the hands of the accused men, who were attendants at the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the insane, the said Ketterer being at the time a patient at the asylum.

Ketterer's death

Is still the subject of investigation by the Grand jury
Lexington, Ky., - The Grand jury is still investigating the alleged mismanagement of the Eastern Kentucky asylum and the alleged murder of Fred Ketterer, a patient at the institution, whom J. Franklin Wallace charges was murdered by one of the attendants. Several days last week was consumed in the examination of witnesses and the investigation was continued. It is believed the body will conclude the investigation and make a report to the court this week.
The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, Oct. 23, 1906

Five years in the pen

Fred Pharis has been on trial during this week at Lexington for the murder of Fred Ketterer and Wednesday night the trial concluded with a verdict of five years in the penitentiary for manslaughter. Pharis was raised near Ruckersville, this county, and moved to Lexington a few years ago. He secured a place as attendant at the Lunatic Asylum, which he held until recently. Sometime ago Fred Ketterer, of Ashland, was sent to the asylum. He was very violent and in a short time he was sent home dead, the cause of death given as acute mania. On being prepared for burial, the body showed marks of violence, several bad wounds being found on the back of the head. An investigation followed, then indictments, and finally a conviction. The case will doubtless be appealed.
The Winchester Democrat Friday, October 26, 1906

Five Years

For Pharis, convicted of the murder of Fred Ketterer
Lexington, Ky., - Fred Pharis, charged with the murder of Fred Ketterer at the Eastern Kentucky Asylum last June, was convicted of manslaughter by a jury and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The verdict was a compromise, as several members held out for a longer term. This was the first of the trials growing out of the asylum scandal, which was exposed by J. Franklin Wallace shortly after the death of Ketterer.
The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, October 30, 1906

Will serve his term

Fred Pharis, formerly of this county, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years for manslaughter, in killing a patient at the insane asylum where Pharis was an attendant. He made a motion for a new trial, but withdrew it and was sent to the penitentiary. It is said his friends will prepare a petition for his pardon, but a petition against it will also be filed.
The Winchester Democrat Friday, November 2, 1906

No evidence

To hold Claggett and the asylum attendant is set free
Lexington, Ky., - J.M. Claggett, one of the former asylum attendants charged with the murder of Fred Ketterer, was dismissed by Judge Parker on motion of Commonwealth's attorney Allen. The evidence introduced to the trials of Fred Pharis and Daniel Adams was not sufficient to convict Claggett. Adams began his term of one year in jail without asking for a new trial and the court will rule on the Pharis motion this week.
The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, November 6, 1906

Suit will be filed

As a sequel to the killing of Fred Ketterer, who died at the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum in Lexington last June, as the result of injuries alleged to have been inflicted by attendants, a damage suit for $50,000 will in a few days be filed against the Institution by David Ketterer administrator of his deceased brother. It is said the damaged suit will not be against the State of Kentucky, of which the Asylum is one of the charitable institutions, as was at first contemplated, but will be against the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum as a corporation, its charter expressly stating that it may sue or be sued.
The Winchester Democrat Friday, November 23, 1906

Will sue for $50,000

Lexington, Ky., - David Ketterer, brother of Fred Ketterer, an inmate of the Eastern Kentucky Insane asylum, for the fatal pounding of whom one man is now serving a sentence in prison, has instructed Attorney J. Franklin Wallace to begin suit against the institution for $50,000.
The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, November 27, 1906

Big suit filed

Suit for $50,000 damages was filed Thursday at Lexington by the administrator for Fred Ketterer against the State board of Control of Charitable Institutions and Dr. Redwine, Superintendent of the Eastern Asylum, charging that Ketterer was killed by attendants in the asylum.

Keyes, Nelson R.	DEATH OF JUDGE KEYES Columbus in Mourning Over the Loss of a Beloved Citizen. From the Columbus (Ind.) Herald. As briefly announced in the Herald of Saturday, Judge Nelson R. Keyes died at 3:20 p. m. of that day, after a brief illness. About two weeks ago he was taken with la grippe which soon developed into pneumonia. The Judge's health for some years has not been robust and a surgical operation still further weakened him, and from this he had not fully recovered when his fatal illness set in. This his system was ill prepared to withstand the in roads of disease which was invited by his weakened condition. Hence from the first symptoms of pneumonia which showed themselves, his case was regarded with the greatest apprehension. Each day the news from his bedside was most eagerly sought, and as the usual unfavorable reports were given men would turn sadly away with a sigh. Then Herald office almost besieged day after day by anxious inquiries who desired the latest information obtainable. Several days prior to his death, his condition made it necessary to exclude all visitors and this made it more difficult to obtain exact information—therefore many errors crept into the reports that were received. On Friday the Herald reported him as improving in condition, and this is appears was incorrect, as we learned soon after the paper was printed. On Saturday the end came. Nelson r. Keyes was a native of Fayette county, Ky., and was born near Lexington on the 1st day of March, 1849. He lacked but a few weeks of being 48 years old. His boyhood was spent on a farm; he attended the common schools of his locality until his 17th year, when he became a student of the University at Lexington, where he remained during the years of 1866, '67 and '68. At the end of the college year 1868 he began teaching, which pursuit he followed till 1872 during which time he pursued his legal studies, he having chosen the profession of law. In the summer of that year he came to Columbus, and in August was admitted to the bar. He became the deputy clerk for Mr. S. W. Smith, then clerk of the court. On quitting this position he opened a law office, and began an active practice. The legal career of Mr. Keyes presents a series of combined successes. In 1884 he was elected Judge of the ninth judicial circuit, and again in 1890 he was re-elected without opposition in either case, in the latter election indeed he had the official endorsement of the Republican party, and in both elections he had received nearly the entire vote of the circuit. He was appointed to file out the unexpired term of Judge Carr, entering upon his own term in the fall of 1885. Mr. Keyes was married May 25th, 1875 to Miss Lizzie Mooney, daughter of W. W. and Eliza Mooney, of this place. Four children, all daughters were born to them all of whom with his wife, survive him. The Democrat, Wednesday, January 27, 1892.

Bar Meeting

A memorial meeting of the bar of the Ninth Indiana Judicial District in honor of Judge Keyes was held this morning at the Courthouse. There was a full attendance of the members from both counties present. Col. Simeon Stansifer presided and Judge John G. Morgan acted as Secretary. The bench which Judge Keyes occupied with so much honor and uprightness was draped with appropriate mourning. After stating the object of meeting and referring to the deceased in the most feeling terms, Col. Stansifer appointed W. S. Swengle, W. C. Duncan, M. Hacker, W. J. Beck and J. F. Cox as a committee to draft resolutions of respect. He then called on the members to express themselves. Eloquent tributes were paid to the memory of the dead Judge by Judge Hackney, of Shelbyville, William Everroad, C. S. Baker, John C. Orr, W. W. Lambert and Frank L. Norton. Mr. Swengle then read the report of the committee and on his motion and seconded by the warmest eulogies on the part of W. L. Cox, C. F. Remy, C. J. Kolmeyer, Tom E. Davidson, W. J. Beck, Chas. Ardery, and C. N. Spencer the memorial which is as follows was unanimously adopted. The Democrat, Wednesday, January 27, 1892.

Resolutions of Columbus Bar

The Divine Providence in his infinite wisdom, has called from his labor, Hon. Nelson R. Keyes, judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit of the State of Indiana, and the members of the bar of said circuit, being now assembled to make a suitable expression of their sorrow for his untimely decease, and of their appreciation of his life and character, as well as their sympathy for his bereaved family.

Resolved, 1st. That they contemplate the death of Judge Keyes with infinite sorrow and with feelings of the deepest grief, but they bow in humble submission to the will of him who doeth all things well, believing and trusting in His mercy and justice, and in that Divine wisdom that shapes all live.

Resolved, 2nd. That the life and character of Judge Keyes were in a life sentence exemplary and we bear testimony not only to his high Christian character and standing as a citizen, but to his eminent qualities as a jurist. General and urbane in his intercourse with his fellowmen, just honest and considerate in a Judge, pure and upright as a Christian citizen, he adorned every walk of life he entered and every official position that he has held. His attainments as a lawyer and a judge were of a high order, and his honesty and probability were beyond question. He had the confidence of all parties, of all classes and in an exceptional way drew to him each and every member of that bar in the counties of his circuit, not only by reason of the respect which his abilities inspired, but because of love and affection his personal attributes called forth. As a Judge he observed the constitutional requirements to administer justice.

Resolved, 3rd. That to the stricken wife and children, to the father and mother, to those to whom he was near and dear, we express our sincerest sympathy for the loss of this husband, and father, the brother and son, and while not seeking to intrude on the deep grief and sorrow of the afflicted ones, we send this memorial of our love and sympathy.

Resolved, 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of our deceased brother, and that they be published in each of the county papers.

Resolved, 5th. That the members attend the funeral in a body. Wilson S. Swengle, Marshal Hacker, W. S. Duncan, W. J. Beck, J. F. Cox.

Mr. Everroad then announced that he and Mr. Davidson had taken it upon themselves to procure a handsome floral testimonial, which in behalf of the bar, was tendered to the family of the deceased. On motion of Mr. Beck the meeting adjourned and the members of the bar marched to the Keyes' residence and took a last and sorrowful look at the remains of him whom they honored and revered.

		The Democrat, Wednesday, January 27, 1892. Letter From Anderson Percifield. The following letter, which was received by Mr. Hacker from Hon. Anderson Percifield, of Nashville, and was intended to be read at the bar meeting came too late. "Your said message announcing the death of our dear judge, reached me at 4 p.m. I regret that circumstances are such as to prevent me from attending our bar meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. also the funeral at 2 p.m.. No one regrets more than I the untimely death of Judge Keyes, save-those whom I know were more dear than life to him. In 1878 I was introduced to Judge Keyes at the age of our little court-house by Judge Hester as one of the rising and bright young lawyers of Columbus. From that time I have always been one of his warmest friends. His great natural powers, brightened by education and experience, placed in among the foremost jurist of the state. Truly, he was a much of mighty power, both as a jurist and an advocate. While circuit judge he presided with dignity and decided with honesty and impartiality. He had the confidence of our entire people. His column is broken his life work but half finished, and yet by his honest, kind and true life he has erected a monument in hearts of the people that will last forever. If I was there I could but mourn with those who mourn; weep with those who weep." I will unite with you all in every effort to praise and cherish the memory of as good and great a man as Judge Nelson R. Keyes. Yours, Fraternaly "Anderson Percifield." K. of St. J. Resolution At a special meeting of St. Bartholomews' Commandery No. 199 Knights of St. John, held Sunday, January 17, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It hath pleased Divine Providence to call to another world the sprit of the late Judge N. R. Keyes, and WHEREAS, Judge Keyes was always a staunch friend of Catholic organizations. Therefore be it Resolved. That we, as Catholics and citizens, deplore the demise of Judge Keyes, as a great loss; that we entertain for his memory, sentiments of highest respect, on account of his noble qualities, for he was a man of broad conception and of a compassionate heart; a faithful husband and loving father, whose bright examples brought the blessings of Got upon his household; a Christian without bigotry; a patriotic citizen, honored and respected by his followers; and above all an upright, Judge, whose character was without a blemish and whose integrity could not be impeached. Sworn to administer the laws impartially, he dealt justice to all who approached his fair tribunal, and now that he has appeared before that august Tribunal, from whose decision there is no appeal, we trust that he has heard from the lips of the just Judge that command which should be a balm to the bleeding hearts of his loved ones on earth. "Enter thou into the joys of thy Lord." Resolved. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this association, and that a copy be presented to the family of the deceased, and that a copy also be furnished each of our local papers for publication. Kidd, Barbara Ruth Grizzle	Barbara Ruth Grizzle Kidd, 82, of Winchester, died July 28, 2011 at home after an extended illness. Barbara was born March 31, 1929, in Clarksburg, W.Va. Her parents were Richard Stacy and Lillie L Grizzle. Her only sibling, George Ernest, died at age 3 in 1935. Barbara attended West Virginia Wesleyan College, earning a bachelor's degree in history, and continued her education at West Virginia University, where she earned a master's degree, also in history. While at WVU, she met her future husband, James Reginald Kidd. They were married in December 1951 in Clarksburg, W.Va. She and Jim lived in Morgantown, W.Va., Aberdeen, Md., East Brunswick, N.J., then moved to Elizabethtown, Ky., in 1962 and subsequently to Winchester in 1973. She was always involved in church activities, serving as Sunday School teacher and superintendent, choir member and most recently a member of the session at First Presbyterian Church in Winchester. In addition, she was active with the League of Women Voters, served on the founding board of the "latch-key after school" program in Clark County (now Kids Carnival), the Foster Care review board for Madison and Clark counties and a state-wide committee that made recommendations to the state legislature on child abuse legislation. Barbara was awarded the JC Penney Golden Rule Award for her work with the after school (Kids Carnival) program. She is survived by two daughters and their spouses; Joanna and Russe Lindsey of Winchester and Lisa and Richard Hanna of Bessemer, Ala.; Finnish granddaughter Niina Ronkainen-Okon; two other granddaughters, Dawn Hanna and Valerie Hanna Bell; and four great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband, Jim Kidd, in 2003. A memorial service will be held at First Presbyterian Church in Winchester in early October. Pastor Doug Beltzner will officiate, and there will be remarks from Ed Mesta and Ellen Marie Kratch. Cremation arrangements have been made by Scobee Funeral Home. Memorial donations may be made to First Presbyterian Church, 130 Windridge Drive, Winchester, KY 40391. Kidd, Felix	Killed The body of Felix Kidd, who was murdered Sunday at Alta Pass, N.C., was brought to this city, his old home, Tuesday. He left her some years since, and at the time of the killing had charge of a railroad construction camp. Will Anderson, a discharged foreman, became very abusive. Kidd struck him on the head with his pistol, knocking him senseless. James Anderson, a brother of the man, at once shot Kidd through the heart, killing him instantly. Kidd was 35 years of age and leaves a wife, who was Miss Maude Brown, of this county, and two sons, also his mother, Mrs. Austin Kidd. The remains were buried in the family graveyard, near Ford, yesterday. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel Thursday, May 16, 1907 Felix Kidd, formerly of Ford was shot and killed by a negro at Alta Pass, North Carolina, Sunday, May 12. Mr. Kidd was well known in this county, and was a nephew of Mr. Byrd Kidd. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel Thursday, May 16, 1907

Kidd, Phil. C.	Died—Of la grippe, at his home in Lexington, Friday, Capt. Phil. C. Kidd, aged 58 years. He was one of the best auctioneers in the State and formerly was on our streets as such each Court day. He was a Confederate soldier and belonged to Morgan's command. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, January 19, 1897 Capt. Phil. C. Kidd, who died at Lexington last Friday, aged 58, was among the most prominent of Kentucky horsemen, chiefly as a buyer, seller and general dealer in both harness horses and thoroughbreds. He was long connected with Col. R. E. Edmondson, former manager of Tattersalls in this city, and the firm conducted many important sales, in days gone by, here and in Kentucky. Capt. Kidd was a fluent and able auctioneer, and wielded the gavel on two occasions of peculiar historic interests. Twenty-two years ago—in June, 1875—he acted as auctioneer at the annual sale of trotting yearlings held at Woodburn Farm, Woodford county, Kentucky, upon which occasion he knocked down a yearling chestnut filly by Harold, dam Miss Russell, to Capt. Jas. Bugher, of Cincinnati, O., for $250. This filly afterward became the renowned mare Maud S., 2:08¾, queen of the turf for eleven years. Fourteen years later—in November, 1889—he conducted a sale in Chicago, at which he knocked down a bay yearling filly by Patronage, dam Atlanta, to Morris J. Jones, of David City, Neb., for $775. This filly was Alix, 2:03¾, to-day the trotting champion.—Chicago Record The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, January 26, 1897 Joseph Kidd Dead Lexington, Ky., May 20.—Joseph Kidd, 38, brother of Capt. Kidd, Stoner	Deaths Dr. Stoner Kidd died Sunday of consumption in Arizona where he had been for some time in hope of a recovery. Dr. Kidd was 30 years of age and a man of unusual promise in his profession. He was a son of the late W. B. Kidd and of Mrs. Sallie Kidd. He will be buried here. The Sun-Sentinel Thur., March 16, 1905 A Notice Of Dr. Kidd We clipped the following notice of Dr. Kidd's death from the Tucson, Ariz., Daily Stat, which will be of interest to his many friends and kinfolks. "Dr. W. S. Kidd, aged 32 years, died suddenly Sunday at 3 o'clock while conversing with his friends, Messrs. North and Ruby, on the porch of the Van Hagen, South Stone avenue. The doctor, who was well known here, had been ill some time prior to his death. He was a companionable man and the news of his death came as a shock to his friends. Dr. Kidd was stationed at Fort Grant as a contract physician. He went to the Philippines with the Fourteenth United States cavalry and on his return to this country traveled through European countries. He was located at Morenci on separate occasions as physician and surgeon for the Detroit Copper company. The remains were shipped to Winchester, Kentucky, by the Reilly Undertaking company, this morning. At that place the mother and sisters of deceased reside, and a brother is engaged in business at Covington in the same State." The Sun-Sentinel Thur., March 23, 1905 Deaths The funeral of Dr. Stoner Kidd, who died in Tucson, Ariz., was held here Monday morning. No young man who has been reared among us gave fuller promise of future usefulness. He was known and beloved by everybody for his strength of character and honesty of purpose, and the funeral was attended by people from all parts of the Blue Grass. The Sun-Sentinel Thur., March 23, 1905
Kidd, W. Byrd	Death of W. B. Kidd. Mr. W. Byrd Kidd died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Sunday morning of cancer of the stomach, aged seventy-one years. The remains were brought to the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John C. Allan, Sunday, where they are at present The funeral will be preached at the First Christian church at ten o'clock this morning by Elds. C. J. Armstrong and J. W. Harding and the remains will be buried in the Winchester cemetery. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Sallie Hadden, two sons, R. Zade Kidd, of Cincinnati, and Dr. Stoner Kidd, of New Mexico, three daughters, Mrs. John C. Allan, Mrs. Thornton Phillips and Miss Minnie Kidd. Perhaps no man in the county was more widely known or more universally liked. He was an officer in the Clark County National Bank and the first Christian Church, and in these positions as in every relation of life, he did his whole duty. His death is a distinct loss not only to his family but to the whole community. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 6, 1903. Jas. S. Kidd, of Covington, was here Monday. While here he qualified as administrator of the estate of his brother, W. B. Kidd. The Winchester Democrat Tue., Oct. 27, 1903 Wills Probated. The wills of W. B. Kidd and J. L. Fishback were probated Monday. Mr. Kidd directs that his debts be paid; he left all the income from his property to his wife, Mrs. Sallie Kidd, and his single daughter, Miss Minnie Kidd, during the lifetime of the former with power to use such portion of the principal for their support if the income should prove insufficient. After the death of Mrs. Kidd the estate is to be divided equally among the five children, subject to advancements will have been previously made to some of them and which are to be charged against them. Jas. S. Kidd was named as executor without bond. The will was made a short time before he died and while he was in the hospital at Lexington. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 30, 1903. Dr. Stoner Kidd, who has been here since the death of his father, has returned to Arizona The Winchester Democrat Fri., Nov. 6, 1903

Killen, John	Killing at Stanton At Stanton, Powell county, Tuesday night at 9 o'clock, Town Marshal John Morton, shot an instantly killed John Killen, a log merchant from the mountains. The story of the killing as received here is that Killen, who had disposed of a number of logs to William Chester, an extensive dealer in lumber, came to the town Monday afternoon of for the purpose of effecting a settlement with Chester. They disagreed as to the totals, Killen claiming that Chester was his debtor several hundred dollars more than the dealer had stated. Chester refused to recognize Killen's claim, whereupon the latter left the place saying that he would have his money or Chester's life. He consulted with several friends and the party adjourned to a bar-room, where they all got drunk. They then went in search of Chester and meeting him in the main street renewed the quarrel. Chester seeing that Killen was drunk, attempted to lead him, whereupon the mountaineer drew the log dealer to him and drawing his revolver, said: "G-d d—m you: I'll settle this account here and now." As he leveled his revolver on Chester, Town Marshal Morton, stepped between the two men, and caught Killen's arm. Killen freed himself and backing a few paces, fired at Morton. The ball missed its mark, and the next moment found Killen cold in death, Morton having shot him immediately above the right eye. Chester was unarmed, and left the scene of the difficulty as Killen fired at Morton. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, December 14, 1894. TOWN MARSHALL, MORTON, of Stanton, had his examining trial before Judge Mastin Friday and was acquitted for the killing of John Killen Monday night the plea being self defense. Kimbrell, A. Jack	Death Of A. J. Kimbrell Capt. Jack Kimbrell, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the eastern part of the county, died quite suddenly Tuesday morning, aged seventy-three years. He leaves a widow and five children. The funeral was preached at the family residence by Eld. Wm. Rupard and the burial was near by. For many years he had been our valued correspondent at Right Angle. The Winchester Democrat Fri., March 29, 1901 Died, at his home at Right Angle, Ky., Tuesday morning, March 26th, after a short but very painful duration of a complication of diseases, A. J. Kimbrell, aged about 72 years. In his death the community has lost a valued citizen, the family a devoted husband and father. He had been the valued corresponded for The Democrat from Right Angle for a number of years, and was also postmaster at that place. His funeral was preached on the following day to one of the largest gatherings of people that have been gathered together in this community for some time considering the short notice of his death by Eld. Wm. Rupard and a splendid eulogy written by R. R. Perry, P. M. at Winchester, was also read after which his remains were buried on the hill overlooking his old house. We join a host of friends in sympathizing with the bereaved family. May their lives be as bright as the life of this husband and father is the wish of the correspondent. King, Howard		Under $500 bond Gilbert Young, aged about twenty-five, and Howard King, aged twenty, were with about twenty-five others engaged in a crap game at the first tunnel North of Ford on Sunday. A quarrel came up over the game, and Howard is said to have attacked Young with a knife. Young then shot Howard twice, killing him instantly. Young came to town at once and surrendered to the authorities and was placed in jail. The examining trial was set for Wednesday morning before County Judge Evans. The Commonwealth announced not ready and Young, through his attorney, John M. Stevenson, applied for bail. The Commonwealth admitted the ease to be manslaughter, and after examination of witnesses as to the ability of the accused to give bail. Young was released in the sum of $500 and the examination continued until next Tuesday. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel Thursday, August 22, 1907 Acquitted of murder and convicted of gambling Gilbert Young, charged with the murder of Howard King, near Ford, on Sunday, August 18 th , had a hearing before County Judge Evans. Tuesday morning he was acquitted on the grounds of self defense. Then Young, Henry Jett, Cole Brown, and John Horn, witnesses to the killing, were arraigned on the charged of gambling, confessed judgement, and were fined $20 and cost, $2.50. Judge Evans notified these gentlemen that the people of the vicinity of Ford, and officials of the county were determined to break up gambling in that community, and that if any of them were ever again in his court they might expect the limit of the law. All promised solemnly never to again engage in a gambling game. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel Thursday, August 29, 1907

King, Martin	Martin King, a young farmer, was shot by Dr. Howard Switzer Friday morning near Chilesburg where the parties reside. They fell out over a bill of medical attendance

	which King owed Switzer. King struck the Doctor on the head with a rock, upon which the medical man went to his buggy and procuring a pistol, returned. The two men then clinched, when George Henderson, a cousin of King, came up behind Switzer and struck him a stunning with a weight. At this moment the pistol was discharged and King fell shot through the bowels. The wounded man was carried to Lexington where the surgeons opened him and sewed up the ruptured intestines. He never rallied from the operation and in a short time died. Switzer did all he could for the wounded man, and gave himself up as soon as he reached the city. He was admitted to bail in $3,000, but after King's death was re-arrested. His trial is set for today. King was well known in this county being a son-in-law of Wiley Brookshire of this county. His remains were carried to Estill county for burial. The Winchester Democrat Wed., 8-1-1888 Dr. Switzer, formerly lived near Chilesburg, Fayette county, and about two years ago, killed Martin King, son-in-law of Wiley Brookshire, of this county, for which he was tried and acquitted at the following term of the Circuit court. Kingsbury, Jane		Mrs. Morris, of Louisville, has fallen heir to a miser's great wealth. Mrs. Jane Kingsbury died at Lynn, Conn., recently in apparent poverty. The belief that she was a miser led to a search in the old broken down house in which she had passed her days. A thorough overhauling of the trunks and beds discovered $6,000 in coins and bills; fourteen thousand dollars in gold, $20 pieces were found in an old sock. A bank book representing $10,000 more was also found. Mrs. Kingsbury was the mother-in-law of ex-Governor Simon Bolivar Buckner, and his daughter, Mrs. Morris Belknap, therefore falls heir to the wealth. There are no other heirs. The Democrat, Wednesday, February 3, 1892.

Kinkead, William AA	The Paris Kentuckian has the following to say of Will Kinkead, who was killed there by David Gilkey, both colored. "Kinkead seems to have been a man of many wives. It is said that he had two living in Winchester, and besides Sarah Gilkey he had another in this city, Mollie Kinkead, to whom he had been lawfully married. She had been sick for some time and upon hearing of his being killed she became much worse and died in a few hours. This is the second man that has been killed about Sarah Gilkey. About seven years ago her husband Bob Gilkey was killed on H. T. Wilson's place on Cane Ridge by Eroch Fields. The latter had been too intimated with the Gilkey woman and when her husband attacked him about it they fought and Gilkey was killed. Fields was acquitted. The Democrat, Wednesday, July 9, 1860.

Kinnaird, Eugene F.	The Winchester Sun Wed., 9-7-2011
Kinnaird, Eugene F. Sr.	Colonel Eugene F. Kinnaird Sr., 92, passed away peacefully at home on Sept. 1. He was born in Lexington. He was a member of Southeast Christian Church, a retired Colonel of the Kentucky Air National Guard, and a veteran of the Army Air Corps during World War II. His passion was flying since his days as a youth. He attended Millersburg Military Institute and the University of Kentucky. He left to join the Army Air Corps and later became a pilot for American Airlines until World War II, where he served in the South Pacific as commander of a troop carrier squadron. After the war he returned to American Airlines. He was corporate pilot for Codell Construction Company when they worked on the GE plant in Louisville, L&N Railroad and the tunnel near Chattanooga. In 1962, the family moved to Louisville when he became a full time member of the Kentucky Air National Guard, where he rose to Vice Wing Commander of the 123rd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing. Throughout his career, he flew over 75 different types of aircraft from biplanes to supersonic jets. He will always be remembered for his devotion to friends and family. His sense of humor and love touched many. While Dad's affinity for Ale-8 was mild at best, his family is one of the drink's biggest fans, from California to Florida. He is survived by his loving wife of 71 years, Jean Douglass; four children, Jane "Sis" Hodges (Phil) of Palos Verdes, Calif., Eugene "Brother" Kinnaird III (Leah) of Miami, Fla., Marianne Booth (Wally), and Tom (Susanne); 10 grandchildren, Philip (Marion), Lee Anne (Paul), Mary Lynn (Doug), Chris (Chantal), Allen (Stu), Cecy (Jason), Tommy (Heather), Emily (Teddy), Joseph (Robin) and Bethany (Dan); and 23 great-grandchildren. Graveside service will be Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at the Lexington Cemetery and a memorial service, with visitation following, will be at 3:30 p.m. at the Arch L. Heady Funeral Home in Louisville. In lieu of flowers, please make expressions of sympathy to the Red Cross (who served Dad faithfully during World War II) or Hosparus of Louisville. The Winchester Sun September 7, 2011

Kirk, Joseph M.	Town Marshal Killed. Inez, Ky., Oct. 4.—Joseph Kirk, town marshal, was murdered Sunday by Henry Cassaday in the mountains a few miles away. Cassaday fired two shots Saturday at Sampson Kirk, aged 50, without provocation. Kirk swore out a warrant for Cassaday, and the warrant was placed in Joseph Kirk's hands. Kirk rode to the residence of Cassaday, but he was not at home. On the way back Kirk met Cassaday. Kirk ordered him under arrest and Cassaday raised his Winchester and shot three times. Death was instantaneous. A posse is now in pursuit. A lynching will occur. Kirk, Shirley E.	Shirley E. Kirk, 73, of Winchester, beloved father, grandfather and great-grandfather; it is with deep and heavy sadness that we announce his death on the early morning of Thursday, June 25, 2015. Shirley was preceded in death by his parents, Howard and Mary Kirk; and two brothers, Harold and Elwood Kirk. He is survived by his longtime and loving companion, Brenda Wagner; and three children, Angelia Kirk Brockman, Martin (Diana) Kirk and Julie (Mike) Osborn. He is also survived by four siblings, Jim (Faye) Kirk, Lilly Mae (Marion) Chism, Marjorie (Paul) Sidwell and Ray (Vera) Kirk; six grandchildren, Amanda (Daniel) Wheeler, Mason Kirk, Chase Brockman, Ariel Rivera, Dawson Sinck and Gavin Kirk; and one great-grandchild, Lillian Wheeler. Mr. Kirk is also survived by many other relatives and close family friends. Shirley was a veteran of the U.S. Army, where he served proudly and honorably. He loved his country and was proud to be an American. The discipline and patriotism he learned in the U.S. Army never left him, as friends and family will attest. After many years working at the Bluegrass Army Depot, Shirley retired and spent his years following doing the things he loved to do, especially fishing at Lake Okeechobee, Florida. Shirley will be fondly remembered as a loving father and grandfather, honored veteran, hard-worker and loyal friend. Funeral services for Mr. Kirk will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 27, at Rolan G. Taylor Funeral Home, 289 S. Main St., with Bro. Anthony Molihan presiding. The family will receive friends from 11 a.m. until the hour of services on Saturday. Burial will be in the Clarmont Memorial Gardens. Serving as pallbearers will be Mike Osborn, Todd Howard, Mason Kirk, Chase Brockman, Dawson Sinck and Gavin Kirk. Kirschner, Leila Jane	On Wednesday, April 15, 2015, in the comfort of her home and surrounded by loved ones, our Lord Jesus Christ took Jane Kirschner, a loving mother and grandmother, to her heavenly home at the age of 69. Mrs. Kirschner was born September 3, 1945, in Winchester, KY and was a resident of Baton Rouge, LA for thirteen years. She devoted most of her life to her family and friends. Jane's happiest days were spent with her loving husband, children and grandchildren. By the one's closest to her, she was known for her outgoing personality, sense of humor, and for her laughter as she was always able to make everyone around her smile. Jane was a current member of St. Patrick Catholic Church. Jane is survived by her husband, Rod Kirschner; sons, Rodney (Courtney) Kirschner, Bryce Kirschner and Matt (Laura) Kirschner; brother, Kenneth (Kay) Huff; sister-in-law, Hilda Huff; grandchildren, Tyler and Kaitlyn; several nieces and nephews, and great nieces and nephews. Jane is preceded in death by her father, Roscoe "Red" Huff and mother, Flora Crowe Huff; brother, Robert Huff; aunts, Ida Crowe and Dorsey Crowe. The family request that visiting hours be observed Sunday, April 19, 2015 at Resthaven Gardens of Memory and Funeral Home, 11817 Jefferson Highway, from 5:00 PM until 8:00 PM, with a rosary at 7:00 PM. Visiting hours will resume Monday, April 20, 2015 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, 12424 Brogdon Ln, Baton Rouge, LA from 9:00 AM until the time of services. A Mass of Christian Burial will be held 11:00 AM on Monday, April 20, 2015 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Interment will take place at Winchester Cemetery in Winchester, KY. Graveside Funeral services will be held at 2:00 pm Wednesday, April 22, 2015. In lieu of flowers the family suggests donations to St. Joseph Hospice Foundation, St. Patrick Catholic Church and the local Baton Rouge Cancer Research. The Winchester Sun April 19, 2015

Knight, _____	AA	TO HANG The Death Penalty Given to Dillard Rainey. The Murder of Aaron Adams to Be Avenged. The Majesty of the Law Vindicated. Not in a spirit of vengeance; not with an outburst of wrath nor with the savage senselessness of mob violence; but with the calm, dignified majesty of the law has the blood of Aaron Adams, which cries from the ground, been avenged, or will be when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the causeless, cruel murder was committed, and when the news spread Saturday that the death penalty had been awarded the murderer, there was a verdict of assent almost universal, and the only regret was that Matt Rainey, the prisoner's father, did not receive the same sentence. The crime was a most atrocious one, and with no mitigating circumstances. Matt Rainey and James Henry had differences concerning a piece of land near the mouth of Upper Howard's Creek, and Henry had placed Frank Haggard in possession as a tenant. Rainey hauled the fence from around Haggard's garden leaving it open to the stock. Haggard hauled the rails back again and a quarrel on the 13th of last May in which Rainey shot Haggard inflicting a wound that it was thought would prove fatal. Mrs. Haggard saw Aaron Adams passing along the road and asked him to go for a doctor. Adams went after Dr. T. S. Allen, who lived near, and returning with the physician half an hour later, he was met by Matt Rainey and Dillard Rainey, father and son. Matt was armed with a gun and Dillard with a pistol. The former raised his gun to shoot Adams, but was prevented by Dr. Allan. With an oath he told his son to shoot and the latter did so. As Adams sank down pierced with a number of balls, Matt Rainey savagely tried again to shoot him. Deputy Sheriff Eperson was in the neighborhood and arrested Matt Rainey at once. Dillard escaped, although the officers once got close enough to shoot at him. He went through the mountains and was finally arrested at Roanoke, Va., under an assumed name. Matt Rainey was tried last fall and got a life sentence. He took an appeal and since has been in jail here. Two or three feeble attempts were made to mob him here last Spring but they lacked leadership. Since he has been in jail he has incurred the ill-will of the officers and fellow prisoners all whom concur in saying he is the meanest man with whom they have ever had dealings.

		The trial of Dillard Rainey began last Tuesday. The evidence closed Thursday at noon and was argued until the next morning when it was given to the jury, which brought in a verdict of guilty and fixing the death penalty the next day. When the prisoner heard it he turned deathly pale and seemed almost overcome. He soon recovered and was taken back to jail cursing the jury and vowing that he would never be hung. Neither of the prisoners have ever shown any remorse for the poor widow and the six helpless children. This will make the second sentence pronounced by Judge Scott, the other being the negro Will Taylor, who was hung for the murder of Squire Doty, in Madison county a year or two ago. If Rainey is hung it will make the fourth legal hanging in the county, and the first white man to be hung. Many years ago Jesse Winn, a negro, was hung near where Col. R. N. Winn's residence now stands, for the murder of Wm. Emerson, a white man, who owned him or had him hired. In August, 1839, a young negro named Knight was hung on the Lexington pike near F. H. Dudley's. He belonged to Mr. Morris who lived on Stoner and had committed a rape on a little white girl. In April, 1841, a negro man, belonging to Daniel Spar, broke into a house and disemboweled his wife. The latter got well, but the negro was hung for housebreaking. The negro woman belonged to Geo. Anderson and her assailant was hung near the far end of the C. and O. trestle on the side of Poynterville. In November, 1850, Thomas Nichols killed his master, Fred B. Nichols, at a rock quarry on the Lexington pike. He was hung about Christmas of the same year. The late Wm. Simpson was Sheriff at the time, and not liking the job of hanging the negro, he employed Marsh Lawrence to tie the rope. A year or two later Marsh Lawrence was killed by his brother, Jack Lawrence. The latter fled to Missouri, but was caught, brought back and sentenced to be hung. He was the first white man in the county to receive the death sentence, but was finally pardoned by Gov. Powell. About seventeen years ago, Ben. Plunkett was lynched, being hung to a tree in the Courthouse yard, the charge being an attempt assault on Miss Annie Ball, now Mrs. Bradford. In the fall of 1895 Bob Haggard was hung from the bridge on the Muddy Creek pike for a similar assault on Miss Elkin of near Ford. No motion has yet been made for a new trial, but this will be done. Since the death penalty has been given to Dillard, his father says he does not wish a new trial, but is inclined to accept the life sentence given him last fall. The general opinion is that if he should secure a new trial he would also be hung. The Winchester Democrat. Tuesday, February 16, 1897.

Knight, John		The most remarkable and notorious family that Alabama ever produced was the Knight family, that lived three miles from St. Stephens." Said Geo. R. McKee, of Mobile, as the Lindell yesterday, "John Knight was the father of twenty-eight children. He was a fine specimen of physical manhood. He stood 6 feet 7 in stocking feet, and his voice was like that of a lion's roar. His wife, the mother of those twenty-eight children, was less than 5 feet in height, and weighed about 100 pounds. Standing side by side, her head scarcely reached his vest pocket. They were both industrious, and when their

	children got old enough to talk they were put to work. There was no loafing or indolence tolerated on the Knight plantation. Everyone had to rise with the dawn of day. There were eighteen boys and ten girls. The males inherited their father's physical powers, the females their mother's diminutive size. The boys had short and simple given names, such as Tom, Lon, John, and the like; the girls were loaded down with names which might perhaps, have had something to do with their growth. For instance, the oldest girl was named Mary Ann Jane Sarah Ann Elizabeth Teebona Smith Knight. They called her "Tee" for short. Sam was the oldest son. He was a holy terror. He would steal from his neighbors like a coon would rob a corn patch. He was finally landed in jail. In prison at Butler the rats attacked him one night and he died from the effects of their bite. Later on Lon became a robber, and now every one of the eighteen boys are either in the Penitentiary or are wanted there. Six year ago Mrs. Knight died. Four months later old Knight married a widow by the name of Givens. She was possessed of sixteen children. Six boys and ten girls. The boys joined the church shortly after their mother's second marriage. A year later the Misses Givens had husbands. The Misses Knight remain single. A Tree fell on Mrs. Knight last summer, and killed her. Her husband was kicked to death by a mule just before Christmas"-St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The Democrat, Wednesday, February 22, 1893.
Knight, John W.	Died—At his home, on Highland street, Wednesday night of paralysis. Capt. John W. Knight, aged 65 years. He was born in Fleming county and for a while was in business at Elizaville. He went to Saline county, Mo., in 1855 and returned to this State about the beginning of the war. During that unpleasantness he was a Captain in Col. Gault's regiment of Federal Infantry, the 16th Kentucky. He served until the fall of 1864 when he was discharged on account of inflammatory rheumatism from which he suffered until his death and on account of which he drew a pension. He afterward was in business at Sharpsburg, and still later went to Kansas from which place he came here a few years ago. He leaves a wife, nee. Miss Eliza Caldwell, of Nicholas county. He was formerly a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and also of the Knights Templar, but had not been an active member of either for some time. Knuff, Armand (aka. Van Kenuff)	On Sunday afternoon a man died somewhat suddenly at the Winchester House. He was a stranger in the city, but had been drinking heavily most of the time. Coroner Boone was notified and summoned the following jury; S. T. Martin, Pat Shea, Phil Hodgkin, P. B. Dudley, Jas Berry and Sam Hastings. From the evidence it appears that his name was Armand Knuff of Van Kenuff, and had been working on the K. U. railroad. He was about 63 years old and evidently had come of good family. He had several scars on his body, which he had said were received in the German army. The jury returned a verdict of death from excessive drinking. The Democrat, Wednesday, February 19, 1890.
Knut, Mrs. S. P.	Construction Of An Old Statute Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 22 Judge W. T. Owen decided the case of S. P. Knut against Lily Barrett Knut, an infant, in which the deceased wife's interest in the celebrated Bon Harbor farm of 2,000 acres is given to the husband. Two months after making her will the wife gave birth to the daughter and died. The court held that as no mention was made of the child, the omission was intentional. This is the first time that this section of the statutes, now 100 years old, has been construed. The Winchester Democrat Tue., Feb. 27, 1900

Kofoury, Rosa	Syrian woman dies As the result of a willful operation at Morehead by a woman in a neighboring town, Rosa Kofoury, an unmarried Syrian woman, aged twenty-three, living at Winchester, is at St. Joseph's hospital in this city in a precarious condition. A second operation was performed here last night in an effort to save her life, but it is not yet known whether she will survive. The first operation was performed about twelve days ago by a woman whose name is not known, but kept secret until the officers of the law take action. Blood poisoning developed shortly afterwards and the Syrian woman, in a critical condition, was brought to this city for treatment. A second operation was deemed necessary to save her life, and this was performed last night. Rosa Kofoury, with her sister, travels from town to town selling fancy needlework. Kohlbecker, Mary Katherine "Kay"	Mary Catherine "Kay" Kohlbecker, widow of Carl William Kohlbecker, completed a life so very well lived on May 1, 2023 at her home in Winchester, KY. She was 96. Born September 12, 1926 in Brownsville, Texas to parents Lester and Catherine Elston. She was preceded in death by Carl, her husband of 65 years, her first born daughter Linda Kay, a sister Norma Maxedon and sister-in-law Norma Garner. She is survived by her sister Ruth Fifer and daughters Karen Ward (Chip), Kathy Houlihan (Spence), Debbie Edwards (Harold), Tresa Bridges (Shane), Mary Kay Sellars (Sam Smith), all of Winchester and Carla Erasime (Norb) of Dallas, Texas. Also survived by her grandchildren Sean, Spencer, Riley, Harold, Hunter, Carl, Adam, Megan, Will, Heather, Michael and her great grandchildren Cameron, Maysie, Will, Khloe, Kate, Emma, Charlotte, Brantley, Ben and Ellie, as well as several nieces and nephews. A devoted member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and St. Agatha Academy, Kay participated in numerous charitable endeavors over the years in expression of her faith and love of her community. But her calling was dedicating her life as mother and wife to ensure her family was raised well, showered with love and kindness and serving as a role model to her girls, and later, her grandchildren and great grandchildren. And all knew they could always depend on her. That she would be there, providing all the love, care and support they might need to help them get through even the most difficult, challenging times in their lives. She may be gone from this world, but her soft, gentle voice, the glint in her eyes and that endearing smile will live on with all those who knew and loved her. The family wishes to thank Hospice East, Palliative Care and a special thank you to caregiver Joy Hill. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to St. Joseph Catholic Church or St. Agatha Academy. Her grandchildren will serve as pallbearers. Kohlhass, Edgar S.	Death of E. S. Kohlhass Although not unexpected, it was a shock when the words, "Ed. Kohlhass is dead," was passed from mouth to mouth Tuesday evening. He had long been a sufferer from consumption and for months had kept up by sheer force of will power. Although he fought against the dread destroyer with all the force of his indomitable will, yet when the end came he met the grim reaper with perfect calmness, reposing in the promises of the Savior to whom he had committed his eternal interests and believing that death was but to another and higher life. He was a man with an exceedingly high standard of manhood and hated all that was mean and low. The one feature of his character that stood out most prominently was his love for his mother, whom he almost worshipped.

He had long been her chief stay and support, and for her he worked as long as he was able to stand. He had the confidence of all who knew him and at the time of his death was City Clerk. During his last sickness the duties of this office were performed by W. H. Garner and Mayor John Garner and the pay for same given to Mr. Kohlhass. He believed in the brotherhood of man as well as the Fatherhood of God, and was a highly esteemed member of Hickman Lodge, I. O. O. F. And Ivanhoe Lodge K. of P., and was buried with the honors of these orders. The Fire Department, of which he was also a member, and the Mayor and City Council attended the funeral in a body. The funeral was preached by Rev. Richard French yesterday morning at the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. H. G. Henderson, the pastor, and Eld. W. S. Keene, of the Christian church, and his remains were interred in the cemetery. The floral offerings were profuse and of the most beautiful designs. The fraternal orders, the City Council, the firemen and a number of private friends sent appropriate floral emblems. The Democrat, with whom Eddie was always an especial favorite, extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolutions of Respect

In respect to the memory of Ed. S. Kohlhass, the Fire Department and different orders to which he belonged met in regular or called session and passed the following resolutions.

Fire Department

Whereas, An all wise Providence has seen fit to remove from among us our beloved friend Edgar S. Kohlhass, and

Whereas, We sincerely deplore his loss, and desiring to manifest our profound sorrow in some lasting tribute to his memory. Therefore be it,

Resolved, That in the death of Edgar S. Kohlhass, the department has lost an efficient member, the members a true friend, and the community a good citizen.

Resolved. That his character was one worthy of emulation, that he was true in every relation of life, as son, brother and friend.

Resolved, that this Department extend their sympathy to the family for their irreparable loss.

Resolved, That this Department be draped in mourning for a period of thirty (30) days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be copied in the minute book of this Department.

J. W. Parrish,

C. F. Attersall,

R. O. Fitch,

F. T. Martin,

J. T. Bohen. Committee

Odd Fellows

Whereas, In the exercise of His infinite justice and wisdom, it has pleased the Great ruler of the Universe to remove from the scenes of his earthly labors our beloved brother, Edgar S. Kohlhass. Therefore be it:

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the loss this lodge has thus sustained, we bow in humble submission to this manifestation of the Divine will.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Kohlhass, this lodge has lost a useful and efficient member, the order a devoted adherent, the community a worthy citizen, the city an honest and capable official and his family a loving brother and son.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the lodge, a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be printed in The Winchester Sun and The Winchester Democrat.

Resolved, That the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

C. F. Klein,

Fred Broadhurst,

C. E. Lyddane.

Knights of Pythias

Whereas, The Angel of Death has again invaded our Castle Hall, and taken from among us one of our brightest and best members, Brother Edgar S. Kohlhass, and

Whereas, We loved and respected him for his many good qualities and manly virtues—forgetting not his devotion to our order nor his fidelity to every duty in life. Therefore be it,

Resolved, That in the death of our beloved brother, Edgar S. Kohlhass Ivanhoe Lodge has lost a true and valiant Knight; his family a devoted son and brother and the community an honorable, upright citizen.

Resolved, That he so lived that when his summons came to join the innumerable caravan that ever moves to the pale realm of shade, where each takes his chamber in the silent halls of death, he went not like the quarry slave at night scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed by an abiding trust he approached his grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Resolved, That we extend to his devoted mother, sisters and brothers our sincere sympathy in the grievous loss they have sustained and commend them to the Supreme Chancellor of the universe for comfort in their distress.

Resolved, That as a mark of our love and esteem for the departed; our Castle Hall be appropriately draped in mourning and that the members of this lodge wear the usual memorial badge for thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at length upon the records of this lodge; that a copy be sent to the family of deceased, and that the same be published in The

Kohlhass, Mrs. Catherine M.	Crossed the bar Mrs. Catherine M. Kohlhass peacefully passes to eternal rest Sunday afternoon Mrs. Catherine M. Kohlhass died at her home in this city, Sunday afternoon, of acute indigestion, aged eighty-six years. Four years ago she fell and broke her hip, but up to that time she had been remarkably active for one of her age. Before her marriage she was Miss Bowren, and one brother, Alfred Bowren, of Newport, is the only survivor of the family. Her husband, Henry W. Kohlhass, died a number of years ago. She is survived by one son, Al Kohlhass, and four daughters, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Mrs. Emma Humston, Mrs. Jas. R. Broadhurst and Mrs. E.E. Hughes, all of this city. She was sweet and amiable in disposition and ever ready to do what she could for the comfort and blessings of others. The charm of her rare courtesy and sunny temperament impressed even casual acquaintances, and though an invalid for many years, she was always ready to see her friends, who found in her unusually bright and pleasing presence sympathetic, kindness and love. The funeral will be held at the Methodist Church this morning at 10 o'clock, services conducted by Revs. O.J. Chandler, of this city, and J.L. Weber, of Mt. Sterling, and the interment will be in the Winchester cemetery. The pall bearers will be, J.M. Wood, T.M. Moore, C.F. Attersall, W.H. Harding, C.A. Tanner and R.O. She is also survived by three brothers-in-law, Frank J. Kovalic, Millford, MI, Robert M. Martin, Lynchburg, VA, and Phil E. Thompson, Oakland, CA, and several nieces, nephews, and cousins. Born in Washington, DC on December 13, 1938 to the late John Hedges Reed and Thelma Kathleen Thompson, Jackie grew up in Lexington, VA with two sisters, both of whom preceded her in death: Joan Thompson Martin and Jane Thompson Thompson. Jackie expressed her love of family and friends by gathering them to her dinner table. There were never too many people to feed. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church where she sang in the choir for many years. She and Pete co-owned their Christmas tree farm and she was President of Kovalic Forest Services, Inc. Jackie worked alongside Pete marking timber until she was no longer able to walk in the woods due to rheumatoid arthritis. After that, they communicated via two-way radios. Even though Jackie could not do physical work on the tree farm, she continued mowing grass (as well as mowing down trees or causing "mower disease"). Jackie started riding horses when she was 6 and taught all her children, as well as many others, to ride and show. Private graveside services will be held at the Winchester Cemetery. Kovalic, Peter P.	With heavy hearts, we mourn the loss of Peter P. Kovalic Sr., patriarch of the Kovalic family, who passed away at the age of 93 after a full and meaningful life. Pete was married to his loving wife, Jacqueline Thompson Kovalic, for 60 years. Pete was a proud and devoted father to his four children, a greatly cherished grandfather to seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren. He was a constant source of inspiration and guidance, and his wisdom and kindness will be deeply missed. Pete was a veteran of the Korean War, a passionate forester and a man of unwavering patriotism. Anyone who knew him in life could see his deep respect for nature and immeasurable kindness. Pete was born in McIntyre, Pennsylvania to Polish immigrants, one of five siblings.

	Pete grew up loving adventure and the outdoors. He spent his youth camping and exploring the woods with his friends and helped provide for his family during the Great Depression. He graduated from Elders Ridge High School in 1947. After working for two years at the Rochester-Pittsburgh Coal Company on a coal tippie, Pete answered the call to arms by joining the United States Army during the Korean War. After serving his country, Pete attended Hillsdale College then Michigan State University where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Forestry. He dedicated himself to a career in forestry, working for the U.S. Forest Service and later as a consulting forester for more than 60 years. His devotion to trees and nature did not stop there. Pete founded Kovalics' Christmas Tree Farm has kept it in the family for 34 years. During his tenure with the U. S. Forest Service, Pete worked in the Klamath National Forest in California, then the George Washington National Forest in Virginia, where he met Jackie, and then in 1968, Pete was transferred to Winchester, Kentucky, the home office for the Daniel Boone National Forest Service. Pete worked as a silviculturist, specializing in timber sales, black walnut and fine hardwood management, and timber appraisals. Pete was also an instructor in the Department of Forestry at the University of Kentucky. He taught Harvesting Timber Crops part-time from 1982-1989. After retiring from the U.S. Forest Service, he became a consulting forester and continued timber appraisal and timber sales until the age of 89 throughout the state of Kentucky. Pete was a member of Society of American Foresters, Association of Consulting Foresters, Kentucky Association of Consulting Foresters, Kentucky Forest Industries Association, Walnut Council, Kentucky Woodland Owners Association, Kentucky Christmas Tree Association, Mid America Christmas Tree Association and the National Christmas Tree Association where he shared his knowledge of forestry, teaching courses, presenting, lecturing, and instructing. All who were lucky enough to accompany Pete marking timber witnessed firsthand his absolute bliss of being in the forest. Forestry wasn't a job for Pete, but a chance to be closer to God. Going with him wasn't just helping him mark trees but a lesson in the delicate ecosystem of this earth. He would stop to teach you about a flower, a distant bird's song, the different types of trees and insects, animal tracks, small creatures and where they all fit into the circle of life. It took him a while to get Jackie to appreciate marking timber, but once he showed her the preciousness of the world the rest of us take for granted, it became their favorite thing to do together. Pete's passing leaves a void in the lives of all who knew him, but his memory will live on through the countless lives he touched. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church since 1968. He served as an Elder, session member Deacon and was the voice of God when called upon. We take comfort in knowing that he is now reunited with his beloved wife Jackie, and that his legacy will continue to inspire future generations. Visitation will be held Friday, February 10th, 5pm-8pm at the Leon Pace Memorial Chapel next to Scobee Funeral Home in Winchester, Kentucky. Saturday, February 11th a visitation will be held from 12pm-1pm at The First Presbyterian Church. Funeral services will follow at 1pm. Friends and loved ones are welcome to pay respects to a man who lived a life filled with teaching, adventure, love, and purpose. Pete is survived by his children, Kathleen Kovalic McKinley (Bob), Karen Kovalic Epley (Rick), Peter P. Kovalic Jr., and Kimberly Kovalic Miller (Scott); 7 grandchildren (Reed, Karrie, Callie, Leah, Carson, Sydney and Peter), and 2 great grandchildren (Blayne and Brayson). Pallbearers: Pete Kovalic, Jr, Peter Kovalic, III, Scott Miller, Reed Miller, George Chalfant, Bob McKinley Honorary Pallbearers: Jerry Kovalic, Bob Kovalic, Dr. Herb Loyd, Dr. Jeff Stringer, Bill Berryman, Jim Hurst, Steve Perry, John Vann, Don Inks, Tom Huffman, Ralph Fallen, and Rick Epley Memorial contributions may be made to First Presbyterian Church, 130 Windridge Drive, Winchester, Kentucky 40391 or to the Kentucky Woodland Owners Association KWOA PO Box 1201 Frankfort, KY 40602. The Winchester Sun February 7 & 10-12, 2023 + Scobee Funeral Home

Kulp, Abram	Died—Abram Kulp, one of the head men of the community of Shakers in Mercer county, died last week from injuries sustained by falling from his horse. The Harrodsburg Democrat relates a very touching incident in connection with the death of Mr. Kulp. For many years he had ridden his faithful old horse, Pilot, about the farm. When he fell, the intelligent animal seemed to realize that something serious had happened to the master, and stood nickering in distress and refused to be comforted. The day of the funeral Pilot was hitched to the wagon to draw the remains to the grave. The horse seemed to know what was required of him and refused to draw his master to the spot where he would forever be hidden from his view. It was the first time anyone had ever known Pilot to refuse to respond when called upon. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 6, 1897

Kyle, _____	THE suit of the city of Harrodsburg vs. C. D. Thompson, guardian for the Kyle heirs, was decided Monday by Judge Hughes in favor of the defendant. The suit was brought to compel the guardian to pay city taxes on property that was located out of the city limits, the plaintiff claiming that it was assessable because the defendant, Thomson, resided in the city. The judge held that the defendant did not owe the city any taxes whatever.-Harrodsburg Democrat. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 16, 1894.
