Salender, Andrew	Andrew Salender.
	A good and Useful Citizen, Passes Away.—For Many Years a Member of the Board of Education.
	The news of the death of Andrew Salender at the good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati on last Saturday morning shocked the entire community and was a sad blow to his family. While it was known that he was under treatment for a serious affection of the stomach, from which he had long suffered, the impressions prevailed here that he was getting along nicely and would return home Sunday. It seems, however, that his condition was worse than even his physicians were aware of, and death came suddenly at a time when he was thought to be improving. The remains arrived here Saturday evening and were taken to the family residence on Winn avenue where hundreds of friends called to pay their last respects. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Church Monday morning, with services by Rev. Father Ryan and the remains were taken to Paris for interment.
	Andrew Salender was born in Germany fifty-eight years ago and came with his parents to America when only seven years of age. He was a soldier in the Civil War, serving with Company K, 186 th Ohio, Federal infantry. After the war he located in Frankfort where in 1870 he married Miss Mary Cordelia Petty, who with four sons and four daughters survives him.
	Eighteen years ago he came to Winchester where he remained a valued citizen, to the end of his life, being actively engaged in business during nearly the entire period. He had been a member of the Board of Education for nearly eleven years and was regarded by his colleagues, the city schools, and the public generally as one of the most faithful and efficient members of that body.
	Attesting their appreciation of his services, and as a tribute to his memory, the surviving members of the Board of Education and the teachers of the city schools attended his funeral in a body, and the bell on the Hickman street building was tolled as the cortege passed to and from the church.
	In all the relations of life Mr. Salender was a true man. He enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him and in his death a grievous loss is sustained, not only by his family, to which he was especially devoted, but also by the community in which he lived.
	The surviving children are Mrs. Louise Coughlin, of Paris; Mrs. Eva Bay, of Newport;
	Mrs. Mary Gilkerson, Miss Cordie Salender, Willie, Lambert, Ben and John Salender, at home. A brother, George Salender and a sister, Mrs. Eva Lutkemier, both of Frankfort, also survive.

	Resolutions Of Respect.
	At a called meeting of the Board of Education held Monday, August 1st, 1904, to take action on the death of A. Salender, the following resolutions were adopted:
	Whereas, Andrew Salender, who was serving his third term as a member of this Board, died on July 30, 1904; and,
	Whereas, his connection with the board of Education of the City of Winchester has been useful and in many ways advantageous to the community; and,
	Whereas, he was held in high esteem and regard by all the members of the Board because of his zeal, eagerness and faithful discharge of his duty in the cause of education; Now therefore be it Resolved:
	1. That the surviving members of the Board do hereby express our deep regret at his untimely decease, and express our heartfelt sympathy for his family and those who are caused to grieve by his death.
	2. Mr. Salender was a kind friend, a true husband and father, a good citizen, an industrious and honest man, and as a member of this Board faithful in the discharge of every obligation.
	3. That this board will attend his funeral in a body, August 1 st , 1904.

Sallee, Lucille	Lucille (Ison) Sallee (83) of Winchester, Kentucky, passed away on December 13, 2020 at her home following prolonged complications from a form of Parkinson's Disease known as Multiple Symptom Atrophy (MSA).
	Lucille was born on August 6, 1937 in Letcher County, Kentucky to the late Edgar and Lona Ison and wasthe wife of over 52 years to the late Claude Sallee, Jr. She was the loving mother of Claude Douglas Sallee (Jane), Richmond, Kentucky and Michael Dean Sallee (Ninya), Winchester, Kentucky. She adored her grandsons Logan Michael Sallee (Angela) and Landon Strode Sallee along with her great-grandsons Owen Michael Sallee and Nathaniel Joseph Sallee.
	Lucille grew up in a loving Christian family and spent her early years in the community of Kingdom Come Creek, Letcher County until her family moved to Jackson, Kentucky. There she graduated from Jackson City High School. She later attended Lees Junior College in Jackson, where she met her husband Claude.
	After marrying, she graduated from business school and worked as a secretary for a Dayton, Ohio TV station, and for the President of Morehead State College. She also worked as a secretary for the Green County Mental Health Department in Xenia, Ohio and for the public school system in Saginaw, Michigan.Her family then moved back to Kentucky where they settled in Winchester. There she was secretary at George Rogers Clark High School, during one point working alongside her husband, who was the principal. She closed her career as executive secretary at Winchester Farms Dairy. While there she spearheaded the annual United Way Campaign for many years.
	She was faithfully in the stands or seats proudly supporting her sons and grandsons while they were playing sports, coaching or involved in any other activity, always their biggest fan.
	After retirement, she enjoyed making Sunday evening meals and spending time with her family. She loved her annual sisters' fall outings, shopping with family and friends, decorating her home, picnics, and attending church functions. She passed on her Christian values and lived as a role model to her family, and all who knew her. She was unquestionably a gentle, sweet and kind lady who worked tirelessly to provide a wonderful home for her family. Most of all, she was a devoted wife, loving mother, grandmother (Memaw) and great-grandmother, which brought her great pride and joy.

Lucille was preceded in death by her parents and husband; her in-laws Claude Sallee, Sr. and Ellis Sallee;brothers-in-law Arnold B. Marshall and Doug Ison; nephews Mark Stephen Mullins and Mark Collins. She is survived by her sons, daughters-in-law, grandsons, great-grandsons along with her beloved sisters and brother: Pauline Ison, Donald Ison (Marsha), Wanda Mullins (Marcus) and Barbara Osborne (Mike). She is also survived by her dear brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law: Fern (Clem) Collins, Bess 'Bet'Marshall, Donna (Dale) Collins, Samuel Jesse (Evelyn) Sallee and Bobby (Betty) Sallee; Nephews: Greg Sallee, Scott Sallee, Brian Collins, Robin Gillum, Kelly Ison and Josh Porter; Nieces: Diana Dine, DeniseKelly, Cheri Chaney, Beth Ann Collins, Missy Little, Becky Roush and Melanie Slater. In addition, she leaves special cousins, cousins-in-law and great nephews and nieces. Lucille was a faithful member of Mt. Zion United Methodist Church in Winchester. She loved her church family and always appreciated the cards and support shown to her. A special thank you to her compassionate care givers Allyson Walson, Patty Haney and Trish Spivey. Eachwas a wonderful blessing to Lucille and the family. They are loved dearly. There will be a private family service, 11:00 AM Thursday, December 17, 2020 at Mt. Zion United Methodist Church, 6155 Mt. Sterling Road Winchester, KY. Scobee Funeral Home, Winchester, will be in charge of arrangements. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Dec. 11, 1900 Sallee, Mrs. Salida Mother Lay Dead With six children beside her – Paramour accused of the murder. Harrodsburg, Ky., - Cordie Sallee, 13, leading her eight-year old brother by the hand and both drenched to the skin, tramped into town and the girl told her uncle, Wm. Carter, and other relatives that her mother, Mrs. Salida Sallee, was lying dead behind a fence a mile from town. The coroner was notified. He at once went to the place designated, and found the woman by the side of the road with the remainder of her children, four in number huddled beside her dead body. Last February Mrs. Sallee deserted her husband and fled to Cincinnati with Howard Watts. They took with them two of the latter's children and four of the Sallee children, ranging in age from 4 to 12 years. The oldest child, an extraordinarily pretty and bright girl, testified at the coroner's inquest that Watts whipped her mother and cut her on the head with a butcher knife, and that the authorities there arrested him and furnished transportation for her mother and the children as far as Burgin. On leaving the train at that place the mother and children decided to walk the four miles to this city. After tramping to the edge of town the mother lifted the little children over the fence and all lay down together in the rain to sleep. Cordie says that on awakening at daylight she found her mother dead, and with her little brother she came in to inform her relatives. It is said the girl told a different story. It was that Watts must have been turned loose by the Cincinnati authorities and must have come to Burgin on the same train with them, though none of the family saw him. Cordie believes that he must have walked behind them on the pike, for shortly after they lay down behind the fence Watts climbed over to where they were and killed her mother with an iron bar, that he then lay down and remained until nearly daylight before leaving. Later – Howard Watts arrested at the home of Samuel Watts, his brother, in this county, and is now in jail. He denies most emphatically killing the The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 27, 1906

Salmond, Gibson J.	Gibson J. Salmonds. The subject of this sketch is a native of Clark county, Kentucky, and is now in his 78 th year of age. He was the eldest son of John Salmonds, who was for many years a resident of this county, having lived to be 85 years old. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and performed his duty as such with perfection to his commanding officer, and with superb courage. Those who served with him during said war bore testimony to his personal worth, courage and honor. His son, Gibson bears strong personal resemblance to his father and possesses many of his father's noble traits of character. He is noted for the fidelity of his friendships and for his good citizenship. He has been, at all times ready and willing to befriend the unfortunate. He has visited the sick. He has comforted the poor of stricken humanity. He has been the friend of the widow and orphan. He has been a peacemaker wherever his lot has been cast. He has never shirked any of his duties and responsibilities of life. He has been an inspiration to the gloomy and depressed in the hours of gloom and their conflicts with the world. He has made the unhappy and disconsolate cheerful and resigned. He has carried sunshine into many hapless homes. His wit and humor have shown resplendent in the palaces of the rich as well as in the homes of the poor. And now as the shades and shadows are falling across his pathway, he has so lived as not to outlive his many friends. May peace and happiness attend him in his last days, and when done with the cares, sorrows and burdens of life, let us indulge the hope that he may receive the plaudit of well done good and faithful servant, enter into the rest that awaits the just and upright.

The father of this sketch was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was in the battle of the River Raisin, having been a private in the company commanded by Capt. Samuel L. Williams. He spent the greater portion of his life in Clark county, and was an industrious and respected citizen. In old age he moved to Nicholas county, Ky., where he resided to the close of his life. His son Gibson, was in many respects a remarkable man. In his boyhood he learned the cobbler's trade and worked at this calling during his young manhood; afterwards he turned his attention to farming, and stock trading, but more especially to what appertained to the horse business. He gained some reputation as a breeder of fine horse and was well known as a good judge of the thoroughbred in his section. He and his brother kept the Oil Springs, a noted resort in Clark county. He was an unflinching Democrat throughout his long life and to the last he was in his habits and ways a young old man. He possessed great mimic talent and was a man of infinite jest. Some eighteer years ago he moved to Owen county, Ky., and lived there for several years, and while there was engaged in the raising of tobacco; then he moved to Lexington and resided there for several years, since which time he has been in East St. Louis, spending his last days with his daughter, Mrs. Lingenfelter, where he died. He made money upon a smal scale but was not possessed of the "knack" to keep it or invest it in a profitable manner. He bore his unfortunate mistakes with manliness. The news of his death will give a pang of sorrow to his old friends here and in Lexington when they learn that he has gone forever. His varied career is a forcible illustration of "What shadows we are and what shadows we pursue." He loved the people of Clark county and it was with much hesitancy that he departed from Winchester and his old haunts on Stoner and Pretty Run creeks, where he had lived so many years. He was a kind neighbor and visited the sick and distressed. Often in cases of protracted sickness, he was principal nurse to many a patient and by his skill he contributed largely to their recovery. Gibson J. Salmond.

Died, in East St. Louis, Ill., on the 22nd of June, 1898. Mr. Gibson J. Salmond, in the eighty-second year of his age.

He had lived the greater portion of his life in Clark county, Ky. He was born on the farm of Col. F. F. Jackson, in Madison county, Ky., in the year 1817, his father, John Salmond, having then been in the employ of Col. Jackson, who, while he resided in this county, owned land in Clark and in Madison counties. The father of this sketch was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was in the battle of the River Raisin, having been a private in the company commanded by Capt. Samuel L. Williams. He spent the greater portion of his life in Clark county and was an industrious and respected citizen. In old age he moved to Nicholas county, Ky., where he resided to the close of his life. His son, Gibson, was in many respects a remarkable man. In his boyhood he learned the cobbler's trade and worked at this calling during his young manhood; afterwards he turned his attention to farming, and stock trading, but more especially to what appertained to the horse business. He gained some reputation as a breeder of fine horses and was well known as a good judge of the thoroughbred in his section. He and his brother kept the Oil Springs, a noted resort in Clark county. He was an unflinching Democrat throughout his long life and to the last he was in his habits and ways a young, old man. He possessed great mimic talent and was a man of infinite jest. Some eighteen years ago he moved to Owen county, Ky., and lived there for several years, and while there was engaged in the raising of tobacco; then he moved to Lexington and resided there for several years, since which time he has been in East St. Louis, spending his last days with his daughter, Mrs. Lingenfelter, where he died. He made money upon a small scale but was not possessed of the "knack" to keep it or invest it in a profitable manner. He bore his unfortunate mistakes with manliness. From time to time he would rally and cast his whole energy in some new venture, but luck seemed to be against him. His nature was quite buoyant and he was ever hopeful that the turn of the wheel of fortune would be in his direction, but his fondest dreams were never realized. His last days were buoyed with the idea and hope that he would receive a vast fortune through the paternal branch of his family and when he left Kentucky last September in his old age, he was still chasing this phantom.

He was twice married; by his first wife he raised a large family to whom he was devoted and afforded them all a fair education, with which to enter the race of life, which was something he never received owing to the circumstances attached to his early youth. He was indeed a unique character—without book learning of even the most elementary description, he acquired by contact with his fellow man a vocabulary which was strikingly expressive and covered a vast range in his use of language and construction of sentences.

Having become aged and helpless, he left here last fall to spend the remnant of his life with his daughter in St. Louis, who had invited him to live with her. The news of his death will give a pang of sorrow to his old friends here and in Lexington when they learn that he has gone forever. His varied career is a forcible illustration of "What shadows we are and what shadows we pursue." He loved the people of Clark county and it was with much hesitancy that he departed from Winchester and his old haunts on Stoner and Pretty Run creeks, where he had lived so many years. He was a kind neighbor and visited the sick and distressed. Often in cases of protracted sickness, he was principal nurse to many a patient and by his skill he contributed largely to their recovery. Many a fevered brow he fanned in the long vigils of the night. Let his friends indulge the hope that after "lif's fitful fever" he sleeps well. J. F.

Salyers, Terry James Salyers, Tom Salyers, Wayne D.	The Winchester Sun January 27, 2014 The Winchester Sun Fri., 5-1-2009 MADISON; Tom Salyers, a brakeman on the L. and N. slipped and fell under a freight train and the wheels cut his head off. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, January 21, 1891 Wayne D. Salyers, 82, passed away on May 9th, 2022 at his home in Winchester, KY, with his family by his side. He was the husband of Brenda Ginter Salyers with whom he shared 24 years of marriage.
	Wayne was born to the late Nora and Brenford Holbrook in Ashland, KY, on December 24, 1939. He was a Master Electrician formerly employed by Rockwell International and Toyota Manufacturing. Wayne was a proud service member of both the Marine Corp and Air Force and was a member of Grace Bible Church. He was an avid reader with an expansive knowledge base, so much so that friends and family often referred to him as the "walking encyclopedia". In a time before Google, there was "Ask Wayne", and friends and family made no hesitation to ask, and he was delighted to answer.
	Wayne is survived by his loving wife, Brenda; son Jim Salyers (Laura), daughter Vicky Pelphrey (Karen); step-son Robby Griffett (Vivian); sister Nancy Zornes (Tim); grandchildren Jacob Salyers (Liz), Emily Salyers, RD Griffett, and Brandon Griffett; great-grandchildren Rylee Salyers, Nick Griffett, and Jack Griffett; and many nieces and nephews.
	Wayne was preceded in death by his brother James E. Salyers and sister Nellie "Lynn" Booth.
	His wishes were to be cremated with interment to follow at Camp Nelson National Cemetery, Nicholasville, KY. A private celebration of life will be held at a later date.
	In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to either Hospice East, Winchester, KY, or Grace Bible Church Building Fund, Winchester, KY.

Sam AA	An old jail Grant county's old log jail which recently burned at Williamstown, was built in 1821 at a cost of $220. It was used for thirty-five years, and no prisoner ever escaped from it. Four persons were taken out of it to be hanged. Two white men, Mays and Crouch, were hanged by a mob. Two negroes were hanged legally. One of them, Sam, was accused of having murdered his master's wife. He protested his innocence. Before being hung the negro again declared that he was not guilty and told those present that lightning would strike the two white oak trees in attestation of his innocence. Lightning did strike the trees, and on his deathbed the former master of the negro confessed that he had killed his wife and charged the crime to the negro, who was entirely innocent, as he had claimed to be says the Williamstown Courier. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, May 14, 1909

Sames, Martin	Martin Sames was placed in jail at Lawrenceburg, Tuesday, charged with murder and arson. He sat down by the side of Thomas Agee, who is serving out a six months' sentence for shooting Sames, and began a conversation. Agee directed Sames attention to something in his book and when he stooped over to examine it plunged a knife in his neck and killed him. The Clark County Democrat, Wed., 2-23-1881
Sammany, James W.	Fell Dead in a Hotel. PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 11 James W. Sammany fell dead in a hotel here Wednesday night, while en route to his room. He was about 39 years of age, and memorandums in a book showed that his home was in Woodford county, Kentucky, and that he had been to Dexter, Mo. Heart failure caused his death. Sams, B. N.	Borrowed Items B. N. Sams, an aged farmer living near Sams postoffice, was found dead with his throat cut last Tuesday morning near the residence of John O. Withers where Sams had been boarding. It is reported that Sams' mind had been failing and he had accused Withers' wife of trying to poison him and he had suddenly attacked her with a hatchet hitting her over the head twice and fled. Upon the return of Withers a search was made for him, but he was not found until the following morning when he was found in the woods with his throat cut and a razor lying near him. Samsbury, Charles Rodgers Samson, Mrs. Belle Lyman	Buried at her old home
Samson, Mrs. Belle Lyman	Mrs. Belle Lyman Samson dies after an operation at Spokane and is taken to Pennsylvania for Burial The many friends of Mrs. Belle Samson, wife of Mr. J.A. Samson, the well known lumberman, who resided in Winchester for many years, and three years ago removed to Montana, where Mr. Samson had large timber interest, will regret to hear of her death which followed an operation at a hospital in Spokane. The Reporter of Port Alleghany, Pa., has the following account of her death: "The funeral of Mrs. Belle Lyman Samson, who died in the hospital at Spokane after an operation, December 12th, was held at the Baptist church in Roulette last Saturday. Rev. I.N. Williams, of Corydon, Pa., officiating, assisted by Rev. Thomas and the choir of the Roulette Baptist church. The interment was made in the Lyman cemetery, the body followed thence by a large congregation of mourning relatives and friends who had gathered to do honor to the memory of a noble, Christian woman. She was born there on May 8th, 1850, and her girlhood life was passed among most of those who congregated to mourn with the husband last Saturday. She married Joseph A. Samson, a bright young lumberman when she was past twenty-five years of age, on September 18th, 1875. To them two children were born, bright little babies, seven years apart. In them her whole life was wrapped but in January, 1892, during a brief run of diphtheria, both children were gathered from her only a few days apart. Since then her life had been, attentive to it had she been that the book had been read from cover to cover forty-five times, five times during the last eleven months of her life. With a very wide acquaintance, everyone was her friend but her associate friends were always elected from among the best people. A lovely and lovable wife gone to her reward, dying in the faith that she was to be united with those she best loved, her children. The broken-hearted husband returned to Montana Monday. He has the sympathy of all." The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, January 3, 19

	The Clarksdale (Miss.,) Challenge: "Mrs. Mary E. Samuell died at her residence last Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. The death of this estimable lady was a shock to the entire community, and a sore bereavement to the four young girls who are left without a mother's tender care and influence. Mrs. Samuells had been a resident of our town but a few months, having come to Clarksdale from Winchester, Ky., to conduct a boarding house, which she managed most successfully until forced by illness to abandon the work. Her husband, who died before Mrs. Samuell left Kentucky, was some years ago manager of the Richardson plantations both in Arkansas and Washington county, Miss., and was well known and esteemed by several of our citizens in Clarksdale. Mrs. Samuell's remains were carried to Georgetown, Ky., for internment. The bereaved ones have our warmest sympathy in this sad hour. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 31, 1897.

	The Clarksdale (Miss.,) Challenge: "Mrs. Mary E. Samuell died at her residence last Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. The death of this estimable lady was a shock to the entire community, and a sore bereavement to the four young girls who are left without a mother's tender care and influence. Mrs. Samuells had been a resident of our town but a few months, having come to Clarksdale from Winchester, Ky., to conduct a boarding house, which she managed most successfully until forced by illness to abandon the work. Her husband, who died before Mrs. Samuell left Kentucky, was some years ago manager of the Richardson plantations both in Arkansas and Washington county, Miss., and was well known and esteemed by several of our citizens in Clarksdale. Mrs. Samuell's remains were carried to Georgetown, Ky., for internment. The bereaved ones have our warmest sympathy in this sad hour. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 31, 1897.

Samuels, Earl Samuels, Evelyn	The Winchester Sun Tues., 2-3-2004 Evelyn M. Samuels, 83, of 225 N. Broadway, died Friday morning at the University of Kentucky Medical Center. She was a Winchester native, born to the late Thomas and Ethel McBaine Samuels. She was a lifelong member of First Baptist Church, where she was founder of the church library and vacation Bible school coordinator. She spent her life as an educator and teacher, retiring after 41 years. She was presented the key to the city and was an honorable Kentucky Colonel. She is survived by cousins John, Jesse and Alice Samuels of Winchester, and Glorina and the Rev. B.T. Bishop of Elizabethtown; and many other friends and relatives. Funeral services will be Thursday at 6 p.m. at First Baptist Church, 37 N. Highland St. Visitation at 5 p.m. until time of service. Burial Friday at 11 a.m. at Clarmont Memorial Gardens. Chenault Brothers Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

	The Clark County educational community lost an old friend this week with the passing of Evelyn Samuels. Samuels served as librarian in the public schools for 41 years, first at the old Oliver Elementary School on Washington Street, then at Shearer Elementary School. During that time, she left an indelible mark in the lives of all the students who were fortunate enough to attend the two schools, said Clark County Superintendent Elaine Farris, a former student and colleague. "Mrs. Samuels was very serious, and she was a stickler for discipline and self-control. But what she really did for us was she taught us to love reading," said Farris. "She loved books, and she always encouraged us to read and taught us how important it was to read. She encouraged me to be a reader, and I still love to read today." Samuels also was a devout Christian and lifelong member of First Baptist Church on N. Highland St., where she taught Sunday school and served as vacation Bible school coordinator. Farris, who attended First Baptist Church with Samuels, said that while she remembers her as her teacher, her fondest memories are from church and their time teaching together at Shearer Elementary School. "She was an awesome Sunday school teacher. I think because of her library science background, she had a knack for difficult history. She could take you back to the first generation in the Bible. She was good, she really was," Farris said. "But the thing I hold onto the most about Mrs. Samuels was at Shearer. I started most of my mornings in the library with her. We would talk about God and First Baptist Church, and she loved talking about both." Winchester resident Cindy Ringer also was a student of Samuels and her mother, Cheryl Ringer, worked with Samuels for 25 years and served as her assistant at Shearer. Ringer said Samuels was a very spiritual person and a mother figure for many in the community, and was someone they all looked up to, including Ringer's mom. Dedicated, and someone with an immense love for children were the best w

Samuels, John	John Samuels one of Mt. Sterling's most popular merchants committed suicide Saturday by drowning. For twenty years or more he had been in business there and was regarded as one of the most substantial men financially as well as one of the best men in other aspects. He has had more family trouble, however than falls to the lot of most men. His wife went insane some years ago, a favorite daughter developed symptoms of the same malady and he carried her to New York for treatment, but without avail, a younger sister who went there to wait on her became insane also; a son, who had caused him much trouble by his reckless ways was killed by the cars, and a favorite nephew became involved in trouble and was killed a year or so ago by Dr. Richart. Recently came financial troubles. While he had over twenty thousand dollars due him, he was unable to raise the cash to pay a debt of five thousand dollars due the Trader's Bank and suit was brought. All these things were more than he could bear and sought surcease of sorrow by taking his life with his own hand.

Samuels, John W. Jr.	A TERRIBLE tragedy was enacted in Mt. Sterling Friday in which John Samuels, Jr., was shot and instantly killed by Dr. Grant Richart. Dr. Richart was standing on the streets talking to a friend, when Samuel approached and began striking him with a small cane. Richart retreated a few steps and then shot Samuels through the heart. The Mt.
	Sterling papers are very reticent in regard to the cause, but it probably grew out of one was about to board the 5:30 train for Cincinnati. He is charged with the murder of Robert Sanders, in Madison county, on the 4th of October, 1878. The killing caused was about to board the 5:30 train for Cincinnati. He is charged with the murder of penitentiary, but soon pardoned, it becoming clear to the Governor that his incarceration was unjust. The killing grew out of a game of cards in which it is charged that Sanders cheated, obtained Smith's money and then made a desperate attempt to kill him. It is charged further that Smith escaped from Sanders at the time, but that next day he sought him, fired upon and killed him while he Sanders was running. The accused was taken to Richmond. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, February 3, 1892

	Fourteen years ago Wm. Smith shot and killed Robt. Sanders while playing card at Richmond. Immediately after the tragedy he disappeared. As year succeeded year the witnesses of the tragedy died, and the deed had almost passed into oblivion, when one day a message was received by the Madison county authorities from Cincinnati stating that the murderer was in custody in that city. During all the years of Smith's travels his crime hung a heavy load on his mind, until it became unbearable, and he determined to give himself up. He came East and surrendered himself to the Cincinnati authorities, who telegraphed as above stated. The answer was returned that there was no longer a standing charge against Smith; that the papers had been filed away and could not be found, while there was not a witness to the deed alive. He was then released. Last summer, however, he was arrested at Danville by the marshal of Richmond, who returned him to the scene of the murder and placed him in jail; subsequently he was indicted for murder in the first degree, and his trial set for this September term of court. The case was called Thursday, and its outcome will be watched with much interest. Smith will likely spend his remaining days behind prison wall. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, September 28, 1892.
	WM. SMITH, who murdered Robt. Sanders at Richmond fourteen years ago, an account of the case being printed on the first page of this issue, was sentenced Saturday to imprisonment for life. Smith is a widower, 42 year old, and has three children. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, September 28, 1892.
	IN the Madison Circuit Court Wm. Smith was sent to the penitentiary for life for the murder of Robt. Sanders many years ago; Wm. Hays Fox, two years for horse Stealing; Wm. Shearer, for shooting Wm. Bronton, two years; Ed. Mullons, forgery, two years and Ben Francis, house-breaking, five years. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, October 5, 1892.
	The life sentence of William Smith of Boyle county in the Kentucky penitentiary for murder, was reduced by Governor Brown, just prior to his retiring from office and Smith will be given his liberty early in May. He has three little children here their mother being dead, depending upon him for support. Smith killed Robert Sanders, of Madison county, seventeen years ago, made his escape, was unheard of for sixteen years, once surrendered himself and was released because his home officials had forgotten the crime. He came back to Kentucky to see his family, was arrested, tried and sentenced for his act of sixteen years before. He always claimed self-defense, but could not substantiate it with legal evidence.—Danville Advocate The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, December 17, 1895

	In Woodford county John Henderson, colored, murdered Gilbert Satterwhite, white, and was placed in jail at Versailles. The following night a mob went there, overpowered the jailer, taking Henderson out, hung him to a tree. His wife, Jane Henderson, and Ike Underwood, who are accused of being accomplices, were also arrested. The night after the lynching of Henderson, a mob was formed to lynch them also but the authorities got wind of the affair and sent the prisoners to Lexington for safe keeping.

	Judge dies suddenly Prominent official found dead in chicken yard by gardener Stanford – Micah Chrisman Saufley, Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district, died suddenly at his home near here. He went to feed his chickens, and soon afterward his gardener found the body of the judge prone upon the ground. Judge Saufley was in his 68th year, having been born in Monticello, Wayne county, in 1842. He was elected county judge of Lincoln county in 1870, and served till 1874. In 1880 he was a member of the electoral college from the Eighth district and supported Gen. Hancock. In 1888 he was appointed by President Grover Cleveland associate justice of the Supreme court of Wyoming, and remained there until that territory became a state. Besides his wife, Judge Saufley is survived by six children out of eight whom he reared. The body of Judge M.C. Saufley was laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery. Services were held at his home by Rev. Joseph Ballou, former confederate, and Dr. E.M. Green, of Danville. Lincoln county's new courthouse is draped completely in black in honor of the dead judge. To fill vacancy Rev. Will B. Campbell, who was recently a student of Kentucky Wesleyan College, and who is well known here, has been appointed pastor of Simpsonville Methodist church to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. E.C. Savage. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 6, 1909
The Grand Old Man. All That Remains of Dr. George S. Savage Will be Laid to Rest Today.—Funeral at 1:15 p. m. Dr. Geo. S. Savage died at his residence in this city Monday evening, March 27 th . Born at Vanceburg, Lewis county in this State February 9, 1813. In early life he studied medicine and was a teacher in 1837, he was admitted to the Methodist Conference and during all the conferences from that date he missed but one roll call. For 32 years he was the Kentucky representative of the American Bible Society. In that capacity, he traveled 525,268 miles and distributed 1,268,884 Bibles. He gave to destitute families 137,953 Bibles. He was married to Miss Mary Small, his first wife, Dec. 31, 1840. She

	George, Robert, Cleora, William, Nathan and Nora and have had the guiding care of their grandfather. Cleora is the wife of Mr. Ira Clokey, of Torres, Mexico. Robert is in the U. S. Army, located at Detroit, Mich. Their devotion to their grandfather is a subject of general remark. Dr. Savage was a union man during the Civil War and a Republican afterwards, but in his great heart there was no distinction of men. His ministrations of kindness and charity were given to all alike. He was of a distinguished family. The late Sam Savage, of Ashland, was his brother. Even at his advanced age he was a man of commanding appearance tall and straight as an arrow. He died as he wished to die, "In the harness." He was out walking late in the afternoon and when he returned he lay down on his bed and died with his clothes on and apparently without pain. In honor of his memory, the Mayor has issued a proclamation requesting the business houses to be closed during the funeral ceremonies which will begin at 1:15 today. Dr. W. F. Taylor and the pastor, Rev. J. R. Savage, will conduct the services. The remains will be carried to Lexington for burial on the 2:45 C. & O. train today. See Mayor's proclamation elsewhere. Savage, John Edward Savage, Mrs. Cleora Bright	Death Of Mrs. Savage Mrs. Cleora Bright Savage died at her home on South Maple Street yesterday morning of stomach trouble, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be preached at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the family residence by Dr. G. H. Means, and the remains will be taken to Lexington for burial. She was born in Lexington May 28, 1822, and was a daughter of Dr. J. W. Bright. At the age of twenty-six she was married to Dr. G. S. Savage and this married life extended over more than half a century of happiness. For more than twenty-six years she was a teacher in the leading schools and colleges of her church, and much of the latter years of her life was devoted to church and missionary work. She was a pioneer in Women's Church Work and at first encountered much opposition in her own church. She was a writer and speaker of much power and a poetess of ability. She leaves two children, Dr. John P. Savage of Sioux City, Iowa, and Mrs. C. Brooks, of this city. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., June 8, 1900 Memorial Service Monday afternoon the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Kentucky Conference, in session at Lexington, held memorial services in honor of Mrs. Cleora Bright Savage, one of its Vice Presidents.

Savage, William	Killed by nephew
	Wm. Savage, prominent farmer of Mason County found dead in a field The Maysville Daily Ledger, gives the following account of the murder near that city of
	Wm. Savage, a brother of Rev. J.R. Savage, of this city. Monday the community in the neighborhood of Fernleaf was aroused and thrown into a high state of excitement when the news was communicated from mouth to mouth and by phone messages that William Savage, one of the county's most highly esteemed and Christian citizens, had been cruelly murdered in sight of his own home. There were no eye-witnesses to the horrible crime but circumstances surrounding the murder point the finger of suspicion to a
	the house together in the morning for the tobacco field, and that was the last seen by the members of his family of the elder Savage until his lifeless form was found shortly after 11 o'clock. When the hour for the noon meal had arrived the bell was rung as usual, and when the husband and father failed to appear a messenger was sent in search of him.
	The body was found some distance this side of the tobacco field, he evidently having started for the house in response for the summons to dinner when he met his death at the hands of an assassin, being twice shot, once in the mouth and chin and one charge tearing its way through his side and heart. The instrument of death was a shotgun which was afterwards found in the tobacco field where the murderer had thrown it after committing the awful deed. The circumstantial evidence against young Savage is this –
	It is said that young Chester had "snagged" his foot while at work; that Mr. Savage sent him to the house to have his foot bandaged; and that on his return to the field he had taken the gun from the house – which Mr. Savage had forbidden him as well as his own son to do. It is presumed that when his uncle saw him coming with the gun he reproved him – and the murder followed. Instead of making an outcry or notifying any one of an accident or otherwise, he went to the barn and after bridling a horse mounted the animal bareback and started toward this city at a breakneck gait. He was seen by many as he pursued his flight along the Germantown Pike. He abandoned the horse a short distance below the city by letting down a fence and turning it into a field on the Kerr farm. The boy's parents live in the neighborhood of Tollesboro and are of the very best people. A wife, son and daughter mourn the loss of a most excellent husband and a loving father, and the county one of its most exemplary citizens. Young Savage was found Wednesday in Lewis County near his home and was taken back to Maysville. He refused to talk but said he would do so at the proper time. His father thinks the boy insane and some persons think others beside him are implicated. The Winchester Democrat Friday, September 21, 1906

Savery, Charles V.	Surrendered For Trial.
	At Bowling Green, Jim Rone, who three weeks ago shot and killed Charles Savery, of near Ricardsville, who was en route home with him for a day's hunt, has surrendered and is now in that city. He has been indicted, but the case will not come up until the January criminal term. The murder is shrouded in mystery, as Rone and Savery were presumably friends. Rone admitted the killing, but assigned no reason. His father and brothers reside in Mississippi and are prominent and wealthy. Mrs. Savery, the wife of the murdered man, and their daughter, Miss Freda May, reside in this city, the former being a daughter of Mrs. William Ball and a sister of L. B. Ford. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 1, 1901 Twenty-One Years in the Pen. Bowling Green, Ky., April 14The trial of J. L. Rone for the murder of C. V. Savery was concluded Saturday, and Judge Settle was called from church Sunday morning to receive the verdict. The jury found him guilty of manslaughter and gave him 21 years in the penitentiary. He killed Savery in a buggy last August on a lonely road ten miles from this city. His plea was self defense.

Savery, F. M. Savery, Fatie May	The Winchester Sun, Mon., 2-27-1928 Death of Miss Savery
Savery, rade may	Miss Fatie May Savery died at her home on College street Thursday morning of acute heart trouble. She had been sick for some time, but her death was quite unexpected and comes as a shock to her family and friends. She was the only child of Mrs. Hattie Savery and was greatly beloved by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. For some time she had been bookkeeper for the Curry Dry Goods Co., and was held in the highest esteem by the firm and its customers. The details of the burial have not been arranged, but it will probably be held this afternoon at the Presbyterian church with services by Rev. Cummings. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 10, 1910

Saylor, K. Saylor, Kenneth Bush Saylor, Larkin	Dead. Pineville, Ky., June 1—Particulars of a double tragedy on Big Run creek, 20 miles from this place have just reached here. Jonah Saylor went to the home of Lee Brittain and tried to borrow a shotgun but Brittain refused to loan Saylor the gun. Saylor after making threats started home. Saylor went to a neighbors house to borrow a gun, and then told Isiah Baylor, his farm hand to get his pistol and follow him. When they got near Brittain's house the latter saw them coming and rushed into the house and got his shotgun. By this time Saylor and Baylor had got to the yard fence, and opened fire on Brittain, but the shots went wide of the mark. Brittain then fired twice, killing Saylor and Baylor instantly. Brittain told his wife that he was going to surrender to an officer at once, and it is supposed he has done so. Brittain is a wealthy, influential citizen. Saylor and Baylor were from Ohio, and were in the logging and farming business. Saylor, Mrs. Matilda	She Used A Knife.
	Kentucky Woman Plunged the Blade into Her Jealous Accuser.
	Harlan, Ky., June 23.—Word comes here from Leslie county that Mrs. Matilda Saylor met a young lady and accused her of paying attentions to Mr. Saylor, and that the young woman, in a fit of rage, plunged her pocketknife into Mrs. Saylor's left breast, wounding her fatally. The report further says that the knife-user escaped.

almost 40 years of the most beautiful love and inseparable partnership. He loved his family; and he was loved by all. His family extended to his pets, who are all spoiled. H loved all children. His many nieces and nephews have playful, fond memories of their time with him. He had many friends, and he was a friend for life - his memory will not fade. Semper Fi. John loved the water - being in, around, on or in it. He loved fishing, boating, camping. He was a very talented, or some have said magical mechanic - who could fix / build anything. He carried all the values of a Marine veteran: honor, courage, and commitment. He did everything with passion and gusto. He enriched the lives of others with his passions and determination. He was bigger than life - gregarious, adventurous and lived a life of no regrets. He lived life on his own terms and when he did something, he did it to the fullest- he was masterful. 	way. It did not stop in this city but had orders to stop at Mt. Sterling. When that city was reached neither the conductor or his brakeman came out for orders and on investigation, Scanlon was found on his knees by a seat dead. The remains were taken back to Lexington for burial. Goodin claims that Scanlon attacked him with a knife and then went to a locker where it was known he had a pistol and that he shot in self defense and then jumped from the train to keep Scanlon from hurting him. Goodin is a very small man, while Scanlon was much larger. The interior of the caboose gave evidence of a desperate battle. Goodin's trial will be held today. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 29, 1901 Conductor Killed. Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 27.—Conductor Jack Scanlon, in charge of a through C. & O. freight, was shot and killed by John Goodin, brakeman on the same train, in a caboose after a quarrel. Goodwin, who surrendered, claims self-defense. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 2, 1901 Goodin Indicted John Goodin, the brakeman who killed Jack Scanlon on a freight train between here and Lexington one night last week and who was arrested at Pine Grove by Sheriff Scobee and taken to Lexington, did not have an examining trial. The Grand Jury was in session and that body took up the matter at once, bringing in an indictment for murder Friday. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., April 2, 1901 Goodin Acquitted John Goodin was tried in the Lexington Circuit Court Tuesday and acquitted of the murder of John Scanlan. Scanlan was conductor and Goodin a brakeman on a C. and O. freight train some time ago, and when near Pine Grove they had a fight in the caboose in which Scanlan was shot to death. Goodin jumped from the moving train and walked to the Pine Grove depot where he waited until arrested by Sheriff Scobee and was taken to Lexington. The killing occurred several hours before daylight and no one knew of the killing until the train reached Mt. Sterling where Scanlan was found on his knees dead. There were no wi

Scearce, Frank P. (Scearce Forgeries)	Lexington is all torn up over the antics of one F. P. Scearce, a young real estate dealer of that city who has been forging peoples names right and left. He forged names to deeds and then went on to improve and sell the property. In various instances he mortgaged real estate, then forged the release of the mortgage and mortgaged it again. The money placed in his hands for investment was squandered: names to various notes were forged. One of the principal losers is Mrs. J. D. Hanna, well known in this city, whose husband was killed in an accident on the Kentucky Union Road. She got about $5,000 damages for his death and $3,000 insurance on his life. This she says she gave to Scearce for investment and it is gone. Some of the papers have intimated that the interest that Scearce took in the fair widow was more than usually taken in a client, but when the reporter of a Lexington paper asked her concerning this rumor she put a pistol to his head and he beat a retreat. As a forger he must have been pretty expert for his forgeries were upon the public records where everybody could see them. A curious legal question has arisen, Col. Bob Edmonson gave Scearce his note for $1,333, for some property. Scearce traded the real note off to one man and forged a duplicate which was sent to the bank for collection. Col. Edmonson went to the bank and paid off the bogus note and as the real note is still in existence, the question is whether he or the bank will lose the money paid on the forged note. New forgeries are constantly appearing and it is not known to what extent they will reach. Scearce has returned and will stand his trial. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, June 28, 1893 Frank P. Scearce was arraigned in the Recorder's Court Wednesday on the warrant sworn against him by Judge George B. Kinkead, charging forgery. He was not represented by any of his attorneys. His name appeared on the docket, however, and all that was said in reference to his case was by Judge Jewell, who stated that he would entertain the motion to wave trial made by Messrs. Shelby and Nelms, attorneys for the defendant, on Friday last and let the prisoner's bail remain at $3,000. No bail has yet been given by the accused, and he will probably not furnish bond at all.—Lexington Leader The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, July 5, 1893

	Mrs. Sarah Headrick Scobee died at her home near Sewell's Shop yesterday morning,

	aged eighty-two years. Saturday night she fell and broke a thigh bone, and owing to her extreme age, the accident proved fatal. The fineral will be preached at Mt. Zion Church tomorrow at ten o'clock, a. m., by Rev. Geo. Froh and J. W. Fitch, and the remains will be brought to this city for interment. She was the widow of the late Robert Scobee and the step mother of Rice P., S. Rezin A., and J. Will Scobee, of this city. She was a good woman, and her death will be regretted by a multitude of friends. Some time ago she bought a residence in this city and had made arrangements to come here to live. Her widowed sister Mrs. Polly Hunt, who had lived with her for a long time, and who is eighty-five years old, is prostrated by the sad affair and grave fears for her are entertained. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., May 25, 1901 Mrs. Scobee's Will. The will of the late Mrs. Sarah Scobee was probated Monday. Among the provisions are the following: 1.18. All just debts to be paid. 2.20. She left to her nieces, Mrs. Alice Watson, of East Orange, New Jersey, $500 to be hers absolutely free from the control of her husband. 3.21. To her brother, Jesse E. Hedrick, the use of $1,000 during his life, to be applied in the discretion of a trustee; if any part of this should be left at his death it should go to his daughter, Mrs. Alice Watson. 4.10. To John Holly, colored, house and one acre in Montgomery county, the house to be put in good repair by the executor, he was also given $100 to be held in trust for his benefit. 5.10. To Wayne Martin, George Ann Martin and Robert Martin, colored $50 each. 6.11. To Sadie Howard, colored, soo. 7.12. No Sadie Scobee, daughter of J. W. Scobee, one of her best beds and bed clothing, and music box. 9.13. To First nephews, Scott and Joe Hedrick, nothing on account of their profligate habits and neglect of their father. 1.11. Scott, Elhannon	Judge Barr, of the United States Court, has made a decision that affects the Shaker community, a few miles from Harrodsburg. In 1883 a man named Watson, living in Virginia, held a note signed by Elhannon Scott and Benjamin Dunlavy who were at that time trustees for the Shakers, for about $10,000 bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent and payable in seven years. It was executed to M. M. Hays who was a non-resident. This note came to the surface after the death of Scott and Dunlavy. The Shakers claimed then and still hold that the note was a forgery or was falsely obtained in some way. Judge Barr decided in favor of the plaintiff. The case will be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, of which Judge Harlan, who lived near the Shaker community, is a member. The amount of the note, with interest, is about $20,000 now. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 24, 1894.

Scott, Ethelbert	Three Were Killed. Bloody Shooting Affray in the Capitol Hotel at Frankfort, Ky. The Tragedy Is One of the Most Sensational in the History of the State—Details of the Bloody Event. Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 17.—A bloody battle in the lobby of the Capitol Hotel at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon resulted in the killing of Ethel Scott, of Somerset, a nephew of Gov. Bradley, G. H. Demaree, of Shelbyville, assistant postmaster, Capt. C. H. Julian, and the wounding of Harry McEwan and a traveling salesman named Golden. The principals in the bloody affair were ex-Congressman Dave Colson, of the Eleventh congressional district and Scott. The trouble was an old one, growing out of a fight at Chickamauga last year, when Colson commanded the 4th Kentucky volunteers, against Scott, who was a captain. The tragedy is one of the most sensational in the history of "The Dark and Bloody Ground." The killing occurred in the lobby of the Capitol Hotel, the principal hostelry of the state capital, the room being well filled at the time with politicians and others who are here attending the contests for state offices before the legislature. The witnesses to the affair were taken so much by surprise when the shooting began that most of them were almost panic stricken, and there are many and conflicting stories as to how the fight began. Col. Colson and a party of friends, among whom was Demaree, were sitting in the lobby engaged in conversation as Scott and Capt. Golden came up the stairs from the bar room. When they had advanced about half way across the room, walking in the direction of Colson, the latter, it is said, half rising from his chair, fired at Scott, who instantly returned fire.

The shooting then became general and bystanders are at variance as to the number engaged in it. Demaree was standing slightly in front of Colson, and young Scott is said to have crouched behind to ward off bullets from Colson's revolver. In an instant Demaree fell dead, pierced by three bullets. Capt. Golden, who accompanied Scott, reeled to one side, falling in the arms of ex-Gov. James B. McCreary, exclaiming, "I am shot."

The smoke in the locality of the antagonists became dense, but Colson continued to press Scott, who retreated backward, shooting as he moved. Colson emptied the chambers of a 48 revolver, and quickly brought a 44 into action. Scott by this time had been shot several times, and as he staggered back and fell down the stairway, Colson, who was within a few feet of him continued to fire till the lifeless form of Scott rolled over and showed life extinct.

The battle was terrific, and bullets fairly rained through the lobby of the noted, several of which went wild pierced window glass or imbedded themselves in the walls and furniture of the hotel. It was not discovered for several minutes afterward that Julian, who died later, had been shot, and at first his wound was thought to be only trifling. After the killing Col. Colson ran out of the hotel and hurried to the residence of Chief of Police Williams, where he surrendered. He was almost exhausted, and he entered the house gasped: "I am sorry he would not let me alone. There were three of them shooting at me."

Charles H. Julian, who was shot in the leg, died shortly after reaching a room, death being due to loss of blood and the shock to his nervous system.

Capt. Golden was removed to a room and made a statement that Colson was the aggressor.

Col. Colson, who killed Scott and who is charged with the killing of both Demaree and Julian, and with shooting Golden, has long been a prominent figure in Kentucky politics. He served two terms in Congress and declined a renomination at the hands of the republican party of the 11th district in 1898 in order to accept the colonelcy of the 4th Kentucky regiment in the Spanish war. Scott was a lieutenant and golden was captain of a company in Colson's regiment, and trouble which led to the tragedy here began then. A feud sprang up between Colson and Scott while the troops were in camp at Anniston, Ala., and in this it is said by Colson's friends that Capt. Golden was a warm partisan of Scott. The trouble between them at that time culminated in a meeting between them in a restaurant which resulted in Colson being shot by Scott. The regiment was shortly afterward mustered out of the service as a result of the feud between the officers and the serious charges and counter-charges which they had made at Washington against each other as officers. Since then the parties had not met and it has been generally believed that blood would be spilled should they meet, as both were understood to be looking for each other.

Colson's Trial Set

Frankfort, Ky., March 22

The case of Col. David G. Colson, charged with the killing of Ethelbert Scott and Luther Demaree in the Capitol Hotel lobby here, has been set for hearing the third week of the April session. Colson will, in all probability, be released on bail as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

The Winchester Democrat, Tue., March 27, 1900

Colson Trial Begun.

All Civilians Are Searched for Arms Before Entering the Courthouse—Several Witnesses Are Absent.

Frankfort, Ky., April 18.—The Franklin circuit court was opened up in true East Kentucky style Tuesday morning, deputy sheriffs being stationed at each entrance to the courthouse, and no one being allowed to enter unless he permitted himself to be searched for concealed weapons. This was done on the order of Circuit Judge Cantrill. He gave no reason for the order except that he wanted peace in the court room. The cause of it was the calling of the case of Col. David G. Colson, the surviving principal of the Colson-Scott pistol duel of January 18,last.

After listening to motions and postponing a damage case pending before the court, the case was called, and both sides announced ready for trial. Col. Colson was in the court room with his attorneys when the case was called. His attorneys are L. C. Mynott and L. C. Houk, of Knoxville, Tenn., Burton Vance, of Louisville, Ex-Assistant District Attorney John G. Fitzpatrick, James Andrew Scott and Ben G. Williams, of this city. For the prosecution, commonwealth Attorney Robert B. Franklin will be assisted by county Attorney Jas. Polsgrove and Judge Geo. Denny, of Lexington. After several hours a jury was secured, the attorneys being unusually careful in selecting the panel. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 24, 1900

Frankfort, Ky., April 19.—The first day of the Colson trial failed to reveal positively who fired the first shots in the duel in the Capitol hotel lobby last January. Capt. Golden testifies that Colson fired the first shot while other witnesses for the commonwealth said both men fired about the same time, and still others said the report from the first shot was not as loud as the second. When the men met Colson had a 45-calibre pistol, while Scott had a 38.

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 24, 1900

Frankfort, Ky., April 20.—John E. Paxton was placed on the stand Thursday morning in the Colston murder trial.

Paxton was talking to Chas. Julian who was killed, when the fight commenced. Paxton said he couldn't tell who fired the first shot, as he did not know there was any trouble until he heard the first shot.

Paxton said he was positive the first shot was not as loud as some that followed it. He said it was his impression that a man standing in the center of the room fired the first shot. He saw Colson follow Scott to the stairs. Colson stopped at the head of the steps and fired a shot down the stairs at Scott. Paxton is of the opinion that Charles Julian tried to escape by way of the front door when he was shot in the leg and bled to death. As no agreement was reached relating to the testimony of Sheriff Watwood, the commonwealth continued to introduce witnesses. Dr. G. F. Thompson testified as to the wounds on Scott's body and hand.

J. M. Hargrove, of Somerset, Scott's old home, told of the meeting of Colson and Scott at the republican convention at Lexington last July.

Attorney Franklin announced that the commonwealth, with the exception of sheriff Watwood's evidence, was ready to close. The attorneys for the defense and the defendants held a short consultation, after which Attorney Williams arose and said they would like to be courteous, but they could not agree to permit the commonwealth to introduce a witness for the prosecution in the midst of the testimony for the defense. The court ruled that the witness was unavoidably detained, and the case would be suspended until Friday morning.

The attorneys for the defense then agreed to permit Watwood to testify just as soon as he arrives. Attorney Williams stated his case to the jury and the testimony for the defense commenced.

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 24, 1900

Colson Acquitted

The trial of D. G. Colson for killing Ethelbert Scott, in the lobby of the Capital Hotel at Frankfort, ended in a verdict of acquittal, the jury being out but a few minutes. The verdict meets with popular approval, as it is thought Scott persisted in bringing on a difficulty. This ends a noted case; Scott is dead, Demaree is dead, Julian is dead, Golden and Colson have wounds, whose mark they will carry to the grave, but the whole matter will soon pass from the public mind to be succeeded by a new sensation. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., April 24, 1900

Colson Not Guilty.

The Slayer of Scott and Demaree Walks Forth From the Court Room at Frankfort as a Free Man.

Frankfort, Ky., April 23.—David G. Colson, ex-congressman and colonel of the 4th regiment, Kentucky volunteer infantry, in the Spanish war, and on trial for four days past charged with the murder of Scott and Demaree, in the Capitol Hotel, was acquitted Saturday evening. The verdict was returned by the jury at 6:27, after being out only seventeen minutes. The verdict had been generally anticipated till the last minute of the trial of the case. Commonwealth Attorney Franklin closed the argument for the prosecution with a speech which was pronounced the supreme effort of his life, and its effects on the jury occasioned fear among Col. Colson's friends till the verdict was returned. When the jury filed into the courtroom a few minutes after it retired, it was at once known a verdict had been reached and an acquittal was looked for. There was no demonstration, however, until Special Judge Herndon, who had been designated by Judge Cantrill to receive the verdict, said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you made a verdict?"

"We have," responded one of the jurymen, at the same time handing a slip of paper to Sheriff Suter.

Circuit Clerk Ford had not finished reading the verdict, which read: "We the jury, find the defendant not guilty," till the crowd in the courthouse, catching the import of it, broke into wild cheers.

Col. David Colson, who has been confined in the Franklin county jail, which is guarded by the Beckham state troops, and who was acquitted on his trial in the circuit court Saturday, addressed the soldiers Sunday morning in response to an invitation from them. He left for his home at Middlesboro Sunday night. His room was crowded all day by friends who called to congratulate him on his acquittal.

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 1, 1900

Frankfort, Ky., April 25.—The indictment against ex-Congressman David G. Colson, for killing Luther H. Demaree, was dismissed in the circuit court on motion of the commonwealth's attorney in a statement in which he said the failure to secure a conviction for the killing of Scott made it certain that an acquittal would result as to the killing of Demaree.

Scott, Gene L.		Gene L. Scott passed away peacefully on September 28, 2020, after a well-lived life. He was born in Travelers Rest, Kentucky. He married his wife of 63 years, Barbara Walters, who preceded him in death. They shared 63 years of love, laughter, family, travel, dogs, and great friends.
		He was a loving father of three children, Janie Doles (Ron) of Lewis Center, Leslie Sapp (Tom) of Powell and Gene Paul Scott (Alexandra) of Wadsworth. He has three grandchildren, Amy Lanzilotta of Cape Coral, Fl, Travis Scott of New Orleans and Taylor Sapp of Powell. He was preceded in death by his parents Palmer and Grace of Winchester, Ky and all 10 of his siblings, Irma Ward, George, Paul, Mabel, Norma Bahler, Palmer Jr (Nick), Robert, James, John and David.
		Gene was a U.S. Army veteran of the Korean war.
		He worked for the U.S. Postal service for 42 years. He started his postal career working the mail on a railroad mail car as had his father. He worked in many postings and positions in Ohio and Kentucky. He served the last eight years as the Postmaster of Columbus, Ohio. He received the Postmaster of the Year award in 1984. He retired in 1989.
		He was also an avid grocery shopper who couldn't resist a bargain. He stockpiled his bargains in his garage which looked like a food bank. Generous to a fault, family and friends couldn't leave their home without a tour of his foodbank where they were sent home with food, toothpaste, cleaning supplies or paper products.
		He grew up on a farm in Kentucky and loved gardening. He gardened in any free space at every home where they were posted. This was much to the dismay of Barbara when she discovered tomato plants growing out of her flower beds at their home in Hilliard.
		Barbara passed three years ago. Both have been cremated and their wish was for their ashes to be buried together in their cemetery plot in Winchester, KY. A service will be held there next June with a date to be announced later.
		Services on Nov 21, 2020 at Grace Powell Church have been cancelled due to COVID. Family is planning a memorial service in May 2021.

Scott, Mrs. Ivanora Wilkerson	Death of Mrs. Scott.
	The death of Mrs. Ivanora Wilkerson Scott Monday was a shock to the community.
	Her very appearance indicated health and strength. For a number of years she was a teacher, later she was elected Superintendent of Schools for this county. It was during the incumbency of this office that she married Mr. C. J. Scott. She was taken ill at 4 o'clock in the morning and was dead at 3 in the afternoon. The funeral was at 11 a. m.
	yesterday at the Baptist Church, of which she was a member. Dr. B. B. Bailey, of Shelbyville, assisted by Rev. Richard French, conducted the service.
	Mrs. Scott was the only woman ever elected to office in this county and as such was a standing argument for those who believe that women are amply capable to attend to the affairs of government as well as men. She was a close student and widely read in nearly every branch of learning. We are informed by her family physician that a heart clot was the cause of her sudden death.
	The floral designs were numerous and beautiful. The Sun Section Thursday June 2, 1005

Scott, Phill G.	Phill G. Scott passed away at his home with his family by his side. Born in Huddy, Kentucky, Phill was the oldest of Mallie and Opal Scott's (Rutherford) three sons. He married the love of his life, Sally Blankenship, in 1958. They had two children, Shaunna and Brent, of whom he was very proud. He was a good man wil earned the respece of his neighbors and co-workers. A graduate of Belfry High School, Phill attended Pikeville Junior College. He served in the Air Force during the Korean War. After attending Pikeville Junior College, he began his 35-year career at Bell Telephone Company, where he worked his way up from collecting coins at pay stations to commercial and then buildings & real estate management. His career took him from Pikeville to Winchester (1965-70) to Paintsville (1971-80) to Corbin (1980) and back to Winchester, where he reited in 1990.
	Phill played baseball in high school, college, and service; he also played at the semi-pro level. He was an avid and competitive golfer throughout his life. He was active in the communities of Paintsville and Winchester, where he coached baseball and basketball and also served as a "band parent," band bus driver, and concession stand worker in support of his children's activities. At the age of 84, he ended his coaching career at Clark Middle School, where players nicknamed him "Coach Obi" (after the Jedi Master Obi-Wan Kenobe of the Star Wars Franchise).
	Left to mourn his passing are his wife of 63 years, Sally Scott (Blankenship), his brother Brett Scott (Frankfort), daughter Shaunna Scott (Keith Barton) of Bloomington, IN, son Brett Scott of Cayce, SC, granddaughter Hannah Barton, and greatgrandaughters, Emma and Nola Barton (Bloomington, IN). He is also survived by a very special sister- and brother-in-law, Dixie Patterson (Georgetown) and Tom Blankenship (Bon Aqua, TN) as well as a niece, four nephews, and two grand nieces. He was predeceased by brother, Larry Scott (Frankfort).
	His family wishes to thank Hospice East for their nurturing end-of-life care as well as the countless doctors and nurses who attended to Phill's heath though his long, eventful life.
	A Celebration of Life will be held on at 12 noon on Sat, Jan 8, 2022, at the Winchester Country Club's Blue Isle Restaurant of 410 Boone Ave in Winchester, KY. Masks are required. In lieu of flowers, his family requests donations either to Hospice East or to Winchester Little Leauge. Donations to Hospice East may be mailed to 407 Shoppers Dr., Winchester, KY, 40391. Order Book 11; P. 73; April Court 1841

On the motion of Charles Eginton who made oath thereto as the law directs certificate is granted him for obtaining letters of administration on the estate of Thomas Scott dec. with the will annexed giving security whereupon he together with Henry G. Poston entered into and acknowledged their bond in penalty of $1000 conditioned as the law directs. Silas Evans who was this day appointed sheriff having waived all right of executorship declined qualifying as also did Phillip B. Winn who is now the senior magistrate of this court.

Order Book 11; P. 78; May Court 1841

A majority of the justices of this court being present, it is unanimously agreed upon that Charles Eginton shall be paid by this court their successors 33½ cents for every dollar which he collected of the estate of Thomas Scott deceased as administrator with the will annexed of said Thomas Scott the said sum being compensation to said Eginton for his services as administrator of the aforesaid estate and for managing personally as counsel such suits as he may necessarily be a party to in winding up said decedent Scotts estate. Order Book 11; P. 78; May Court 1841

Ordered that A.H. Buckner be appointed to settle with Charles Eginton administrator of Thomas Scott dec. under an order heretofore of this court in regard to the collecting of said estate and as entering the amount coming from said Eginton to this court and he is ordered to pay over whatever may be in his hands to the county treasurer of this county. Order Book 11; P. 389; October Court 1845

Settlement with Charles Eginton administrator of Thomas Scott dec. was produced in court and ordered to be filed until next court.

Order Book 11; P. 428; July Court 1846

Settlement by county commissioners with Charles Eginton administrator with the will annexed of Thomas Scott dec. filed at last court again coming up for consideration it is after being so corrected as to further credit said administrator with $2 fee bills paid to clerk of Carter Circuit Court for copies of sale bonds confirmed, and the said administrator is hereby authorized to pay himself out of the funds in his hands the sum of $844.35 as a compensation to him in accordance with the order heretofore made by this court in regard to said compensation at it's May term 1841, and the balance in his hands amount $879.91 said administrator is authorized to pay to David P. Bullock treasurer of Clarke County Kentucky and this court hereby obligates themselves to pay any legal and first demands against said de contest administrator executor which put same, as far as the same may be changeable against said fund, this order being made in lieu of exacting to said administrator a funding bond. A. H. Buckner appointed commissioner by this court at its October term 1845 to settle with said administrator reported orally to court that the aforesaid settlement was correct, the fund hereby being ordered to be paid into the treasury being that same fund heretofore placed at the disposal of a committee of said court to build a cupola on the courthouse and for other purposes, and said fund when so paid into the treasury is still to be subject to the order of said committee for said purpose, the above order was made with the concurrence of a majority of all the magistrates of this court. Death of Judge Scott.

Judge Thomas J. Scott died at his home in Richmond Saturday, aged sixty years. He had been in bad health for some time and his death was not wholly unexpected. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Welch, of Nicholasville, but no children. The funeral and burial was held Monday afternoon at Richmond and a large number from here attended. He had been in public life for many years and was known as a capable, just and upright official. For ten years or more he was County Attorney of Madison county. He was then chosen as Judge of the court of Common Pleas for the district embracing Bath, Bourbon, Clark, Montgomery and Madison counties; after serving six years on this bench, he was chosen Judge of the Twenty-Fifth Circuit District composed of Clark, Powell, Madison and Jessamine counties. After serving a term of five years he was again elected and was serving this term at the time of his death. He was one of the best Judges in the State and his loss will be keenly felt.

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 22, 1902.

Judge Scott's Successor.

The death of Judge T. J. Scott leaves a vacancy on the bench of this judicial district which Governor Beckham must fill by appointment. The Constitution says that when an official dies three month or more before a regular election, the appointment is made until the next regular election, which would seem to indicate that a new Circuit Judge would be elected next November. Another section of that instrument says, however, that no State county or district officer shall be elected at the same time that Congressmen are chosen, and the Court of Appeals has decided that the cast provision governs, and the Governor will appoint a Judge to serve until another is elected n 1903. It is generally conceded that Judge James M. Benton, of this city, will be selected for this position, and no better man could be found in the district. He is capable, learned, fearless and impartial, and would make an ideal Judge. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 22, 1902. In Memory of Judge Scott. In the Circuit Court Monday afternoon appropriate resolutions were adopted in memory of Judge T. J. Scott. Speeches were made by Hon. B. A. Crutcher, Judge C. S. French, Judge W. M. Beckner, Judge James Flanagan, Judge J. M. Benton and Capt. Hathaway. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, May 9, 1902

	Judge Scott's Will The will of the late Judge Thomas J. Scott was offered for probate at Richmond Monday. The will is in Judge Scott's hand writing and leaves his personal property to his widow, also his real estate to her during her lifetime, after which it is to go to his three nieces. Mrs. Scott is made executrix without bond. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, May 9, 1902
Scott, Thomas J.	Death of Thomas J. Scott Thomas J. Scott died at his home in the Beech Woods neighborhood yesterday morning after a brief illness of pneumonia, aged about sixty-three years. The funeral will be preached at two o'clock this afternoon at the Baptist church by Dr. B. B. Bailey and Rev. Richard French, and the remains will be buried in the Winchester Cemetery. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Ecton, and the following children: Mrs. John P. Gaines, Mrs. Thomas C. Allan, Misses Alice, Lizzie, and Lutie Scott, Chas. J., T. Strother. E. R., and J. W. Scott. The deceased was one of our very best citizens and was most highly respected by all who knew him. He was for a while a member of the board of Magistrates but never held any other office. This is the first death that has occurred in the immediate family. The Winchester Democrat, Friday October 2, 1903

Scott, Wonderful AA (aka Bud)	A Colored Suicide. In our last issue we mentioned the finding of a body of a colored man in the eastern part of the county, and that the Coroner had gone to investigate the matter. The body proved to be that of Wonderful Scott, or Bud Scott as he was usually called.

	He was aged about twenty-one years and had evidently been dead about twenty-four hours when found. He had taken an ordinary grass plow line and had tied one end in the crook of a poplar tree about twenty feet from the ground. The other he had adjusted to his neck and then from an old fence he had launched himself into eternity.
	Coroner wills summoned a jury composed of the following: Jones R. Bush, John R.
	Bush, Colby B. Ragland, R. French Lawrence, Dillard Berryman and G. W. Stevens.
	The inquest was held by lamplight and was a weird scene. The jury decided that the death was simply a suicide.
	The dead man was raised in this county near K. U. Junction and was known as a good hand. An indictment for the illegal sale of liquor was pending against him, but he was not an habitual criminal. He had been morose and sullen for some days and talked vaguely of some crime, the nature of which he would not divulge but for which he declared he would soon be lynched. This crime was evidently imaginary and it is highly probable that his mind was affected.
	The superstition of the negroes were such that the Coroner found it impossible to get them to help in any way and they could not be induced to touch the body.

Scribner, Dan	Dan Scribner dropped dead at Norwalk, Conn., last week and was buried in a pauper's
,	grave. Scribner was well known in this part of the country. He played the gold brick racket on Fountain Land, of Jessamine county, and swindled him out of several thousand dollars. He also swindled Frank Colcord, of Bourbon county, out of two thousand dollars on a tin box trick, but was caught and jailed at Paris.

Seaboldt, George	Louisville Shooting Affray.
	One Man Killed and Two Wounded Over the Theft of a Dime. Louisville, Ky., July 28.—A shooting affray over the theft of a dime, followed by an accident to an ambulance bearing one of the victims to a hospital Sunday night resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of two others. The dead man is George Seaboldt and the wounded are James Clark and William Seaboldt. Clark, who is a machinist, sent his boy to a store with ten cents, but the lad was held up and robbed by one of the Seaboldts. Seaboldt was shot through the right lung, but it is not known whether his death resulted from the wound or from the injuries received in the collision of the ambulance with a street car. Searcy, Charles	The Searcy family
	We are indebted to the Hon. Charles Searcy, of Madison county, for the following communication: "The Searcy family moved from Stokes and Granville counties, N.C., to the settlement at Boonesboro at an early date, from 1775 to 1781. Bartlett, Richard and Samuel Searcy came with Boone. There were five brothers who came out at one time, viz: Lemuel, Richard, Anderson, William and Charles, with many other families.
	The early pioneers came in companies following the trail that Boone had first made. At Cumberland ford, where Boone lost one of his sons, the company was attacked by Indians and several were killed, and their plunder was destroyed. My ancestors were with those behind, and on coming up the next day, saw that the Indians had routed the
	* · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	company and scattered feathers and clothing to the winds. Anderson Searcy moved from Kentucky county, Va., to Nashville, Tenn. William Searcy went to the settlement on Green river, from there to Arkansas, where a county and city bear the name of Searcy. Samuel, Richard and Charles Searcy, (the latter's wife was Miss Mary Morse) settled near Boonesboro, and their cousin, Bartlett, who came in with Boone, was a great scout. He understood Indian warfare, and lived a life of adventure. The three brothers, Samuel, Richard and Charles, owned land near the old Fort, and in the rude school houses they gave attention to the education of their children. They had fine parks filled with deer near where Brookstown is no located. The ruins of their old brick dwellings are still extant. Out on the green slopes many graves, old and moss grown, bearing the name of Searcy are still to be seen. Charles Searcy raised thirteen children, most of whom went to Missouri, following Daniel Boone and settled in Boone county, Mo. A cousin Dick Searcy, was taken prisoner by the Indians and kept several years before he was released, at Detriot. When he came home no one recognized the young man who was so brave a fighter. They called him "Wild Dick" Lemuel Searcy was an old and a son of Howell Searcy. He was severely wounded, but recovered, and lived on Otter creek until his death. Two of Charles Searcy's sons were in Dudley's defeat and captured by the Indian's who made them run the gauntlet. Lemuel was wounded by tomahawk, and just as they were about to be killed, Tecumseh or some other officer ordered them to stop on account of their age. They returned and lived the remainder of their lives near the old fort, where they are buried. The Searcy family descended from the Swedes, and emigrated from Waleston, N.C., in colonial days. They were lovers of liberty, and left the Yadkin with Boone to find better homes and better land, and never flinching from the hardships of pioneer life. They reared their families near the old Fort, where the Kentucky river glides on and the cane and bluegrass flourishes. They were a tall, straight people, with light hair and blue eyes, active and capable of great endurance. Reuben Searcy was one of the first representatives sent from the early settlements. He was one of the first pioneers. Among the early settlers none bore a more conspicuous part than Bartlett Searcy, who was one of the party that rescued the Misses Callaway and Miss Boone, and Boone chose the men who were most like himself, good marksmen, good fighters, brave and resolute and understood their business. The pioneers soon had their homes and were able to live in peace and plenty, but their homes were often invaded by land sharks and having the independent spirit of Boone the sons and daughters of the old settlers went west to find game and be free from the greedy claimants of the land so dearly brought. Could all the spirits of the early pioneer settlers come forth today and relate the trials that they endured at the old fort there would be many of our ancestors, the Boones and those whom he loved so well and many others that fought to save their homes and drive back the red man. These men who fought so bravely were the first to stand on Kentucky soil. The old pioneers were not bothered about Commercial Clubs, Trusts or Combinations and Strikes, and the L	2 combinations and outlies, and the only ambition of these brave men were to strike for their homes and like brave Bozans they fought and died that we might enjoy this great and glorious land and call it our own, and sleep in peace without dread of the scalper. May the reverence for their memory never grow less.

Sebastian, Marion	The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 26, 1901 The jury has acquitted S. D. and Jack Turner of the killing of Marion Sebastian in June at Lancaster.
	The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, September 7, 1897
	Sensational Suit Settled
	At Lancaster the sensational suit for $30,000 filed by Mrs. Marion Sebastion against the Turners for killing her husband, has been compromised. The Turners paid a satisfactory amount and the suit was withdrawn. The case has attracted wide spread attention.

Seblee, Wils. Bettle Carlley	Elkton – The body of Mrs. Bettie Carney Sebree, widow of F.A. Sebree, who was shot and instantly killed in Trenton by her nephew, Morris Banks was taken to Clarksville, Tenn., and buried in the cemetery at that place by the side of her husband. Her brother,
	Ed Carney, of Cincinnati, arrived in Trenton and accompanied the body to Clarksville.
	No change is noticeable in Bank's appearance, and he still has the air of stolid indifference noticeable in him ever since the tragedy. To those who call on him in his cell at the county jail he talks in his usual manner about matters of ordinary interest, but at no time has he referred to the tragedy. Both his father and his mother have been in poor health for some time, and their condition is now serious as a result of the terrible shock occasioned by their son's act, and physicians have been in attendance upon them almost constantly.

Setser, Gilbert	Case reversed
	Probably the biggest verdict ever given in the State for personal damages was reversed this week in the Court of Appeals. On an L & N train near Pineville, Gilbert Setser was drunk, and raising trouble in the car. The conductor put him off and in a few moments the train ran over him and killed him. His administrator sued the road and was given a verdict for thirty thousand dollars. This was reversed on account of erroneous instructions, the Court saying the conductor was right in putting him off, but if it can be shown that ordinary care was not shown by the conductor and brakeman in the place they put him off, or if they put him off while the train was still running, then his administrator is entitled to recover damages.

Settles,	A Unique Case.
	The case of Gaitskill vs. Gilkey from this county, was decided this week in the Court of Appeals. It was a suit on a note of about $450, given in 1886 by Mrs. Joe Owens to W.
	M. Gay, of North Middletown. The story of the defendant was that Mr. Gay was administrator of one Settles, and that she gave the note merely to be used as an exhibit in making a settlement with the court, and that she had received no consideration for it, and that it was to be returned to her the next day. This was not done, and when she subsequently asked for it, she was told that it was lost or destroyed. Ten years passed and suit was brought by Mr. Gaitskill, of Montgomery county, into whose hands it had passed by purchase. During the interval Mrs. Owen's husband had died and she had married again and was now Mrs. William Gilkey. Her lawyers, Messers. Hathaway, Cardwell & Hodgkin, argued the improbability of the note being good, because it was held for many years by a man in straitened financial circumstances without his trying to collect it, and when it amounted to nearly &800, it was sold for $300, when the signer was solvent. The jury evidently took that view of the case and brought in a verdict for the defendant. It was carried to the court of Appeals where the decision of the lower court was confirmed. The Court says:

	"An answer admitting the execution of the note sued on, and pleading that it was without consideration and had been procured by fraud and deceit, presented a legal issue properly triable by a jury, but the action being on the equity side of the docket, and being tried by the court without objection, plaintiff can not complain, the finding of the Chancellor for defendant being in accordance with the weight of the evidence."
	Mrs. Gilkey now resides in Los Angeles, California.

	The Democrat, Wednesday, November 25, 1891.
	Some marked peculiarities appear in connection with the drowning of persons in the Kentucky river from Boonesborough up to the Mouth of Red river. The drowning at Ford last week brings forth these remarks. From the settlement of this locality, 1775 to about 1885, a period of eighty years, it is believed nobody was drowned. About the latter year Capt. Turnbull, of Winchester was drowned at the mouth of Bear Run. Probably three years later, Pen Coe, another Clark county man was drowned just below the mouth of Four Mile. In 1882, a dozen negro men and a white woman were washed out of a railroad camp on Two Mile creek into the river and drowned near Ford during a sudden rise. A few years later, several boys from Clark were drowned at the Mouth of Upper Howard's creek. Since that time the number of drownings especially at Ford, have been too great to be recalled, but perhaps every instance except that of John Sewell, several years ago and the boy East a year ago and a colored boy the past Spring that were from Clark. Thus it spans that for nearly a century and a quarter only four or five Madison county people have been drowned along about fifteen miles of river and those within the brief period of less than six years, while Clark has been unfortunate for nearly forty years and the extent of dozens. But our Madison people on the North side never had any great love for water except for farming purposes.—Richmond Register. This is only a partial list of those drowned near Ford is even the last generation: Rufus Emerson was drowned at Boonesboro; a man named Tillet near the Mouth of Otter Creek; John Atkinson some where near the same place; two sons of Commodore Richardson at the mouth of Two Mile, and a negro boy in the big eddy above the Mouth of Four Mile. Zach Hukill drowned himself on account of ill health near Riverside; Bennie Butler was drowned in Two Mile creek and his body was afterward found in the river. Quite a number of other drownings have occurred, the names of the victims having escaped our memory.

Sewell, John AA	Another Murder Christmas day Simon Kenny, an employee of the Water Company was drunk. He called John Sewell, who lived near his home to make a fire. Sewell went, and without cause, so far as is known, Kenny shot him. At first it was thought the wound was not serious but Sewell has died. Kenny's examination will be held today before Judge Evans. Sewell was industrious and a worthy citizen. The Sun-Sentinel, Thur., Jan., 5, 1905

Sewell, John Robert	On 24 th inst., John Robert, infant son of Richard Sewell, of cerebrospinal meningitis. The little fellow, though only two years old,, was very bright and beautiful. He was the namesake of his late uncle, John Sewell, who was killed by a hand-car a few weeks ago and was a corpse in the same room. His funeral was preached by Rev. Stuart, of the Baptist church. Clark county, who said many pretty things and delivered an able funeral discourse. Mr. Richard Sewell moved from Clark county to this place last spring, and has had a great deal of bad luck. His daughter, Mss Fannie, is just recovering from typhoid fever, and Norman, a son about three year-old is now very low with typhoid fever. Several relatives from Clark county, attended the funeral-Spencer Cor. Sent-Democrat. The Democrat, Wednesday, November 2, 1892.

Sexton, Lydia	REV. LYDIA SEXTON died at the age of ninety-five at the home of her son in Seattle, Wash., a few days ago. Mrs. Sexton was born on April 19, 1799, in Sussex county N.J. and preached for fifty years of her long life. She was a cousin of Bishop Matthew Simpson. Her grandfather was Marquis Anthony Cozat, famous in the early history of the colonies. He got a grant of land which included the whole Mississippi valley from the gulf to its source. When the territory was ceded to the United States in 1808, the Marquis, who was then old, abandoned his grant because, he said, "it would cost more than it would come to keep it."
Sexton, Mary	The Winchester Democrat, Friday, January 22, 1895. Fled To The Mountains. A Married Woman Fatally Stabs Her Pretty Young Rival.
	Whitesburg, Ky., June 30.—By the arrival of the mail carrier here Sunday morning from Elkhorn Creek, in the eastern part of the county, news was brought of a fatal cutting affray in which two women were involved. For some time a spirit of jealousy has been existing between Susan Mullins, aged 30, and Mary Sexton, aged 23. The Mullins woman was married. Late Saturday they met at the house of a neighbor, and the trouble was revived. Mrs. Mullins drew a dirk from her bosom and slashed the Sexton girl across the abdomen three times, inflicting fatal wounds. The Sexton girl can not survive the day. Mrs. Mullins fled to the adjoining mountains and has not yet been captured.

Shackelford, Hettie Shackelford, Hiram	The Sun Sentinel, Thur., 2-23-1911 The Governor Thursday pardoned Gilbert Saylor, of Bell county, who killed Hiram Shackleford and James Middleton several years ago. The two men who were killed went to Saylor's house to abduct his wife, and in the melee that followed Saylor killed one of the men and Mrs. Saylor was badly wounded. The second man was killed some time after. In passing on the case the Governor states that it is one of the most remarkable cases that has ever come before him. Saylor had four trials that resulted in two convictions and two hung juries. The Court of Appeals gave him a new trial, and his agony was ended Thursday by the pardon.

Shafer, William C.	The Winchester Sun June 22, 2021 Result fatal
	Mr. W.C. Shafer dies at Lexington Tuesday from injuries received in runaway near this city William C. Shafer, the young man who was so badly injured in an accident on the Paris pike Monday afternoon, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Tuesday night. The skull was badly fractured on the right side above the ear and he never recovered consciousness after the accident. He was Secretary of the West Virginia Sunday School Association and was forty-six years old and unmarried. The remains were taken to his home at Tena Alta, West Virginia, for burial. Mrs. Shafer, mother of the unfortunate young man, accompanied by her son-in-law, Mr. James S. Miller, arrived at the hospital Tuesday from Virginia and were at his bedside when the end came. They accompanied the remains to Virginia Wednesday and the burial took place on Thursday. The sympathy of our entire community go out to the sorrowing mother and sisters and many expressions of regret at the unfortunate termination of the affair are heard. Mrs. Bowden and daughters are doing nicely and will be entirely recovered from the accident in a few days. The accident happened just before this paper went to press Monday and dozens of rumors of all kinds were in circulation and the account given contained some inaccuracies. Mr. Shafer, Mrs. Bowden and her two daughters were in a surrey and the accident was caused by the team running away and not by another team running into them as was reported at the time. When the runaway team reached the bridge near Mrs. Susan Anderson's farm the wheel struck the bridge and the occupants were thrown out. Mr. Shafer's clothing caught on a fence post which prevented him from being thrown to the ground in the ravine below. He was unconscious when found and never recovered consciousness. Mrs. Bowden was much shocked but was not otherwise injured. Miss Nannie Bowden was bruised about the face, while Miss Willie Bowden had her nose broken and sustained other severe cuts and bruises. Shanklin, George S.	Elliott W. Shanklin Dropped Dead In His Office. Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3-Elliott W. Shanklin secretary of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association dropped dead suddenly in his office at 6 o'clock Friday night. He had been complaining of indigestion during the day. Death was due to organic heart disease. He carried $32,000 insurance. He was 41 years old and was the son of the late George S. Shanklin, Sr., who represented the Ashland district in congress during the civil war. Until last winter he was a member of the horse sales firm of Woodard & Shanklin. He was a member when he died of the firm of Shanklin & Walker. He was the first secretary of the Lexington Elks fair and continued in that capacity four years. He succeeded Ed Tipton as secretary of the Trotting Horse Breeders association. His mother and two sisters live in Oshkosh, Wis. E. C. Estill president of the association said Friday night: "There is no probability of the trotting meeting which will begin Tuesday being postponed on account of his death." Shanklin was for many years a director of the association and was director in various commercial enterprises here. A beautiful tribute was paid to his memory at Friday night's meeting of the Elks lodge of which he was a conspicuous member. The ceremonies attending the initiation of Senator J. C. S. Blackburn and other candidates Friday night were materially shortened on account of the sorrow of the lodge caused by Mr. Shanklin's death. The first cotillion of the season, which was to have been given by the Lexington German club Friday night, was postponed on account of his death. Lexington, KY, Oct. 5 – The body of the late Elliott W. Shanklin was laid in its final resting place Sunday. The funeral cortege was one of the longest seen in this city and a large number of horsemen were present. The local lodge of Elks held their ritual at the grave. Over 1,000 people attended. Horace W. Shanks, Mrs. Nannie Stone	One of the old timers The Atchison Globe has a picture of Mrs. Nancy Shanks and an interview with her. She is ninety-two years of age and has a most retentive memory. Her father, Mitchell Byrd, moved from Virginia to this county about the year 1800 and settled near Winchester, where he married Miss Owsley, a cousin of Governor Owsley, of this state. Mr. Byrd's business at that time was buying tobacco, bacon, hemp, flour and other things and shipping them to New Orleans by flat boat and when starting home he would buy a pony and ride it home. His last trip he came on the first steamboat that ever went up the Mississippi. He brought with him the first barrel of New Orleans sugar ever in Kentucky. When he got home he knocked the head out of the barrel, called the neighbors and all ate it eagerly. Miss Nancy Byrd was born here and when she was twenty-two years old she married Francis Asbury Shanks, of this county. She wore a white gauze dress imported from England and at the big enfair next day at the home of the groom's parents, she wore a brown silk, which were pretty fine for a bride in the back woods of Kentucky at that date. Mr. And Mrs. Shanks went to housekeeping near this city, where eight children were born to them. They moved to St. Joseph, Mo., shortly before the war and afterward to Kansas. She had several sons who fought on the Federal side during the civil war and one never was heard of after the war. Five of her eight children are living, but her husband died some ten years ago. She is bright and cheerful and bids fair to live for a number of years. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, November 30, 1906 The Winchester Sun Thur., 8-31-1972

Shannon, (Kid) Shannon, Edward	The Winchester Sun, Wed., 10-29-1924 Sad Accident Edward Shannon, of this City, Killed by the Cars at Paris Edward Shannon, night yardmaster of the L. & N. Railroad at Paris, was run over and killed by the cars Wednesday night. While in the discharge of his duties, he was walking in front of a car, when his foot caught in the guard rail, and he was thrown to the ground. The cars passed over him cutting off one leg near the ankle and the other near the hip. He lived about ninety minutes and died while a special car was being prepared to take him to the hospital in Lexington. His remains were brought to this city by special car yesterday morning. The funeral will be preached at St. Joseph's church by Father Ryan at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and the body will be taken to Mt. Sterling for burial. The deceased was twenty-four years old, a son of Joseph Shannon, of this city, and was a native of Nicholas county, but had lived here most of his life. He was a young man of almost unexampled purity of life, being singularly free from the ordinary vices of young manhood. He began with the railroad as water boy and was in turn section hand, brakeman and yardmaster, and was held in the highest esteem of everybody. He leaves father, mother, one brother and three sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. Fannie McCarty, of Birmingham, Ala., to await whose arrival the funeral was deferred. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, January 14, 1898 Wants Big Damages
	Suit was brought recently in our Circuit Court by Judge J. M. Benton, as attorney for the administrator of the late Ed. Shannon, who was killed by the cars at Paris some time ago. His death, it is alleged, was caused by the negligence of the railroad authorities, and damages to the extent of $35,000 is asked. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 2, 1898
	In the case of Shannon's administrator vs. the L. and N. R. R., asking $25,000 damages for the killing of Ed. Shannon at Paris, the railroad filed a demurrer, claiming this court has no jurisdiction. The demurrer is still pending. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 10, 1898
	Circuit Court Judge Scott decided that this Court had jurisdiction of the damage case growing out of the death of Ed. Shannon at Paris and the case is set for May 23 rd . The Winchester Democrat, Friday, May 13, 1898
	Circuit Court Circuit Court has entered upon the third week of the present session and is plodding along about as usual. Thursday, it began on the case of Shannon's Administrator vs. the L. & N. Railroad. It is still on hand and bids fair to be for a day or two more. The past spring, Ed Shannon, of this city, who was yardmaster at Paris was run over and killed by the cars. His administrator brought suit for $25,000 damages, alleging that his death was caused by his foot getting caught in a defective frog, for which the company was responsible. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 11, 1898
	CIRCUIT COURT The third week of Circuit Court is drawing to a close. It seems that "blind tiger" and railroad cases have the right of way and their consideration has occupied the Court for most of this session. After being on hand for just a week, the jury brought in a verdict yesterday morning in the case of Ed. Shannon's Administrator against the L. and N. Railroad in which $ 25,000 was asked for the killing of yardmaster Ed. Shannon at Paris last January. Contrary to the expectations of many, the jury brought in a verdict for the road. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 11, 1898.

	The attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of Shannon's administrator against the same road, in which the jury found for the defendant, asked for a new trial which was not granted. An appeal will probably be taken. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 18, 1898.
	Court Of Appeals The docket for the fall term of the Court Of Appeals has been sent out. Only two cases are docketed from Clark county, Chas. B. Ecton and wife vs. the L. & E. railroad and Shannon's administrator vs. the L. & N. road. The latter case grew out of the killing of Ed Shannon at Paris, and a suit for damages was decided in the lower court in favor of the road. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Sept. 19, 1899
	Judgement Affirmed Some years ago Ed Shannon, of this city, yard master in the L. & N. yards at Paris was run over and killed by a train, his foot having been caught in a frog. Suit for damages was brought in the Clark Circuit Court, and the jury found for the railroad. His administrator appealed, but the Court of Appeals on Friday affirmed the decision of the lower court. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Dec. 9, 1902
	Petition For Rehearing In the Court of Appeals Tuesday a petition for rehearing was filed in the case of Shannon's administrator against the L. & N. Railroad. Shannon was a yard employe at Paris and while in the performance of his duties he was run over and killed by a train. Suit was brought in the Circuit Court of this county for damages, but the railroad won, and when it was taken to the Court of Appeals, the decision of the lower court was affirmed. Sharp, Waller	Hon. Waller Sharp
	Bath county's most prominent land owner succumbs to an attack of acute indigestion in this city When the time came for the meeting of the Burley Tobacco Society Tuesday it was found that hotel accommodation's had been monopolized by the delegates to the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias and the Commercial Club secured entertainment for the tobacco men at private residences. Among the members of the Board was Hon. Waller Sharp, of Bath county, who was entertained by Capt. Harry Strother. In the evening Capt. Strother and his guest visited the Brown-Proctoria Hotel where, shortly after nine o'clock, Col. Sharp was stricken with acute indigestion. Medical aid was summoned but he grew worse and about midnight he died. The remains were carried to Hall's undertaking establishment where they were prepared for burial and from whence they were shipped to his home in Bath county, where they were buried in the Sharpsburg cemetery. Mr. Sharp was emphatically a self made man. Starting out as a poor boy, by good business qualities he amassed wealth until at the time of his death he was the richest man in Bath county, owning thirty-six hundred acres of fine land in the Sharpsburg section besides other property. He had taken a great interest in the Burley pooling movement and much of the success of the Society in Bath county was due to his personal influence. He was a strong Democrat and had represented his county in the Legislature. His wife died quite suddenly a few years ago and he is survived by a son and two daughters. After a short session Wednesday morning the Burley Society adjourned until afternoon and resolved to attend the remains to the depot in a body. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 8, 1909 In memory of Col. Sharp At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial Club yesterday morning it was stated that a handsome floral design had been sent for the funeral of Col. Waller Sharp, of Sharpsburg, a member of the Burley Tobacco Society, who died here suddenly Tuesday

Shea, Bettie	A TERRIBLE murder was committed Sunday night in Lexington. Miss Bettie Shea, a domestic in the family of John Woolfolk was found in her room with her head crushed and evidences of a terrible struggle. The coroners jury fixed the crime upon Thos. Brien who had been keeping her company for some time. Brien was arrested and placed in who killed young Metcalf some two years ago, and is regarded as a tough character.

	The appeal of Thos. O'Brien, who is in jail at Lexington under sentence of death for the murder of Bettie Shea, was argued this week in the Court of Appeals. It will probably be a month before a decision will be reached. The Winchester Democrat, Wed., 11-6-1889 The Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of the lower court in sentencing Thos. O'Brien, of Lexington to death for the murder of Bettie Shea last March. O'Brien had secretly married her under as assumed name and having become tired of her he murdered her in order that he might marry a girl in Indiana. The murdered woman was a cousin of Bud and Nip George of this city and her character was irreproachable. The Winchester Democrat, Wed., 12-11-1889 Tom O'Brien, the murderer of Bettie Shea; White, the diamond thief, and other prisoners, made a well planned attempt to escape from the Lexington jail Friday; but were detected. They had a rope made of blankets torn into strips which was concealed in a stovepipe. Jailer Wilkerson has never yet let a prisoner get away.
	The Democrat, Wednesday, January 8, 1890 The Court of Appeals has refused to grant a new hearing in the case of Tom O'Brien, for the murder of Bettie Shea and unless the Governor interferes he will be hung within the next sixty days. Later: the time has been fixed for Thursday, Feb. 27 th . The Democrat, Wednesday, January 22, 1890.

	Pat loved sports and music. She played golf, field hockey, tennis, and won the 1956 Kentucky Open Fencing Championship. She enjoyed classical music and played the french horn while in college. She taught at Delta State Teachers College in Mississippi (1948), Berea College in Kentucky (1956), and Georgia Southern College (1960). In 1953 her book of poems, The Thorns Cut Deeply, was published. She was also a pilot in the Civil Air Patrol in World War II. On August 5, 2019 she received The Congressional Gold Medal of Honor for her service. Pat's greatest love was Kettle Spring Farm where she lived and farmed for many years.
	She was preceded in death by her parents, one brother, Richard Simmons Shely, Jr., one sister, Peggy Shely Harp, one niece, Dianna Ayers Smith, and a special friend, Linda Lee Hodges. She is survived by several nephews: Tom Ayers (Susie) of Edmond, OK;
	William Richard Ayers (and Dana) of Stillwater, OK; Dr. Steve Ayers (Jenny) of Carbondale CO; Stanley Simmons Harp (Deborah) of Georgetown KY, and a special cousin James (Gail) Stewart of Muncie, IN.
	Friends may call at the Salem Presbyterian Church, 312 Combs Ferry Road from 10:00am up until the Memorial Service at 11:00am. A Civil War Air Patrol Color Guard Honor will take place following the service at Kettle Spring Farm. Private burial will be in Lexington Cemetery. Memorials may be made in Pat's name to Salem Presbyterian Church. The family wishes to thank the loving and wonderful caregivers of
	"Miss Pat", most especially Rita Mantilla.

Shephard, Mrs. J. A.	SUNDAY night a woman was found dead and horribly mangled on the C. and O. tracks in the edge of Lexington. There was no means of identifying her but at the inquest J. A. Shephard recognized her as his wife. She had been missing for a few hours but he thought she was visiting a friend. The dead woman was a daughter of Rankin Clemmons a very wealthy farmer of that county and had married one of her father's workhands. She had gone down financially until she and her husband were very poor. When her father was informed of her horrible death he would have nothing to do with burying the body and said it didn't bother him any. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, February 8, 1895.
	J. A. SHEPARD, of Lexington has been arrested for the murder of his wife who was found mangled on the C. and O track one morning last week. His statements before the Coroner's jury were found to be untrue, and he has made numerous other contradictory statements.

Sherman, W. T.	Gen. W. T. Sherman died Friday at New York, of erysipelas and pneumonia. With his death almost the last of the really great historic characters of the Union side of the war has disappeared. He was a soldier, not a politician and believed that the sword was mightier than the pen. His march to the sea will go down in history like the charge of the light brigade at Balaklava. While his devotion to the North or even to the Republican principals never failed, he was still just to his late opponents. A striking feature of this element of his character was shown by his marked esteem for his Confederate foe, Joseph E. Johnson. When Cleveland was elected President Gen.
	Johnson was appointed Commissioner of Railroads, and when Harrison succeeded to the Presidency, Gen. Sherman told him he had only one favor to ask and that was that Gen. Johnson, who was old and poor, as well as capable, should be retained. Harrison was, however, made of too small material to comprehend this magnanimity and Johnson was removed. Gen. Sherman was a brother to Senator John Sherman, of Ohio.

Shiddell, A. J.	A. J. Shiddell.
	At 9 o'clock p. m. March 5 th , at his home, 329 South Mill street, Lexington, Ky., Mr. A.
	J. Shiddell died. He was born in Lexington of German parentage 72 years ago. He was a man of superior talents, in fact, a genius. He was a natural mechanic, though he did not follow any trade. He made a thorough study of botany and his hobby was to produce rare species of flowers of which he had the largest private collection that we have ever seen. He was an artist. With a common lead pencil he could sketch anything. He was an evolutionist. To prove his theory, he demonstrated it in a practical way. He took pairs of white mice and cut off their tails. He continued to cut the tails of the young mice and after several generations he bred tailless mice. He continued the experiment and bred the tails back again by crossing with mice that had tails.
	He tried for years to produce a purple rose.
	In addition to the special subjects that he studied, his general information was extensive.
	He had the faculty of thinking concisely. All of his conclusions were formed after mature deliberation. In everything he was independent. He was reserved in his disposition and very modest. He never tried to force his opinion on others. In all the relations of life he was at true man. The funeral was at his late residence Tuesday afternoon and the burial in the Lexington cemetery. He leaves a wife near his own age and two daughters, Miss Altheia Shiddell and Mrs. R. R. Perry, of this city.

Shindelbower, Howard C.	Died in California
	Howard Shinelbower, of this city, dies from attack of appendicitis at Ocean Park A telegram Sunday brought the sad news that Howard Shindelbower had died of appendicitis that morning at Ocean Park, California. He was in the nineteenth year of his age, and nearly three years ago he joined the United States Navy and since that time has been stationed at various points in the world. The remains will be brought to this city for burial. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Shindelbower, of this city, and is survived by his parents, three brother and one sister. He was popular with his friends and comrades both in and out of the service. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 17, 1909 Mr. Allie Shindelbower, of Jellico, Tennessee, was here the past week, called by the death of his brother, Howard, who recently died in California. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 24, 1909 To be buried today The remains of Howard C. Shindelbower who died of appendicitis at Ocean Beach, California, Sunday, August 15th, reached here yesterday morning and were taken to the home of his parents on Kentucky street. The funeral will take place from the family residence this afternoon at three o'clock with burial in the Winchester cemetery; services at the grave will be conducted by Rev. O.J. Chandler. The following will officiate as pall bearers: J.C. McClure, Jr., David Davis, Walter Botkin, Grover Fluty, Shindlebower, Catherine Shiner, Frank (Taylor, H.)	Jos. Jackson, and C.H. McKinney. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 24, 1909 Miss Alice Nash and two nieces, Misses Lillian Nash and Fannie Johnson, of Lexington, attended the funeral of Howard Shindelbower Tuesday. The former is a sister of Mrs. Shindelbower. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, August 27, 1909 The Winchester Sun Mon., 11-19-1984 Hypnotized Man Dead. Found on the Railroad Track Near Lexington, Badly Mangled—His Identity Unknown. Lexington, Ky., April 27.—Shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning a badly mangled man was found by Patrolman Overly on the Cincinnati Southern tracks in the rear of the Catholic cemetery. When taken to the hospital he proved to be the "hypnotic man," whose queer actions have been the talk of the city for two or three days. The efforts of Sister Euphrasia to learn his identity resulted only in the statement that his name was Frank Shiner, his age 28, and the place of his birth San Antonio, Tex. He refused to answer any questions other than these, and would not say whether he had been accidentally struck by the train or whether he had thrown himself on the tracks. He died at 8 o'clock. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of J. H. Weihl to await further investigation. Detective Ready went to Frankfort and presented the baggage check found in the dead man's clothing. He was given a grip which had come through from Mt. Clemens, Mich. The valise contained a pair of trousers, a number of shirts, underwear, etc., three soft hats, two bottles of nervine, two boxes of capsules and an unaddressed letter to his mother. The clothing was marked "H. Taylor." And the medicine bottles and boxes bore the labels of Druggists J. H. Westendorf and J.

	Shandler, Mt. Clemens, Mich. On the capsule boxes the name of "Dr. Berry" was written as the prescribing physician. The body will be held here until some information can be obtained from Mt. Clemens.

Shipp, Robert	Desperate Duel One Dead and the Other Dying, the Result of a Fight Between Brothers-in-Law in Taylor County.
	Campbellsville, Ky., Feb. 24.—One dead and the other dying is the result of a desperate duel between Robert Shipp and Lloyd Horton, brothers-in-law in Taylor county, near this place, Wednesday. The duel grew out of a feud of long standing between the men, and for sensational features has not been equaled in this section. Wednesday afternoon Shipp was passing Horton's house. Horton was standing outside and Shipp made some remark. Horton told him he wanted nothing to do with him and to get away from him, whereupon Shipp drew his pistol and fired, the ball entering just to the right of Horton's navel. Horton then drew his pistol and fired. Shipp fell and instantly expired, but Horton continued to fire until the contents of his revolver were emptied into Shipp's body.
	Horton called his wife to assist him into the house, saying that he was killed. At 9 p. m. he is dying. Both men leave large families.

Shipp, Thomas Jefferson	Thomas Jefferson Shipp died Sunday afternoon at his home on South Maple street, aged 71 years. Fifty years ago he was thrown from a horse and his heads was badly hurt. He had suffered much in consequence and his death was finally caused by the accident. The funeral will be preached at the family residence at nine o'clock this morning and the remains will be taken to Lexington for burial. He was a native of Fayette county, the son of Dudley Shipp and the last survivor of a family of eight children. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Caroline Kenney, of Bourbon county. Two children of this marriage survive. Mrs. Mollie Butler and Victor Shipp, both of Paris. His second wife who survives him, was Miss Margaret Moore, of Bourbon county. Of this marriage six children are living, Mrs. Lizzie Kenney and Miss Ella Shipp, of Paris; R. M. Shipp, Edwin Shipp, Misses Bertie and Annie Shipp, of this city. He was originally a member of the Baptist church, afterward a Presbyterian, but for the last quarter of a century, a Methodist. He was a good man and his death is much regretted.

	John Shoemaker, Sr., is found dead at his home near Ruckerville, from gunshot wounds.
	John Shoemaker, Sr., aged 55 years, was found dead at his home near Ruckersville, Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock from two gun shot wounds, in the back which were supposed to have been inflicted on Monday morning. According to Dr. J. G. Young, who was called after the body had been found, by one of his grandsons Herber or Hobert Cisco, the shotgun with which the wounds are supposed to have been inflicted was found on the bed in the next room to where the body was found. Shoemaker at the time of his death was living alone, he and his son John Jr., having resided together until on Saturday, after a misunderstanding the two having separated their things and his son left together with his family for West Bend to make their home with his father-in-law Ben Young, his wife having been a Miss Stella Young of West Bend before her marriage. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Shcumaker, Jr. and two nephews Hobert and Herbert Cisco returned to place of Mr. Shoemaker on Tuesday morning about 9:30 o'clock to feed the stock of John Shoemaker, Jr., which had not been removed, and one of the boys went into the home and as they entered found their grandfather lying on the floor dead At first it was thought that he had committed suicide but upon finding the gun in the other room on the bed suicide was abandoned and it is believed by neighbors and the family that he was killed by some of his enemies When neighbors learned of his death, they reported that they heard shots on Monday morning, in the vicinity but paid no attention to it. Herbert and Hobert Cisco one of whom found the body are twins, and the children of Mrs. Lindsey Cisco, of near West Bend and are aged about seventeen years. He is also survived by one other married daughter, Mrs. Ratliff of Lee County and three single daughters Misses Nancye, Amanda and Frances of the West Bend vicinity, making their home with their sister since the death of their mother.

	John Schumaker Jr., Confesses to Mrs. Bramblet the Killing of his father and is now confined, charge of murder.
	Statement made by Hobert and Herbert Schumaker on Tuesday Night Corroborated by Slayer.
	"I Had to do it"
	Was the Statement made by John Schumaker, Jr. to Sheriff Insko and policeman
	Wallace Strode
	Confession was made to Deputy Sheriff Dan Insko and Policeman Wallace Strode on Wednesday a.m. at 11:20 o'clock, by John Schumaker Jr., aged 21 years, confined to Clark county jail, that he killed his father John Schumaker,. According to the sons, the father John Schumaker, Sr., and John Schumaker, Jr., had fallen out over their crops. It is alleged by the boys that the father in order to pay a debt which he owed Mr. Holt Everman on whose farm he resided, had sold his crop to his landlord, and the son claimed to have a one-fourth interest in the crop and in an effort to collect the same, he quarreled with his father which resulted in the killing. On Saturday young Schumaker and his wife left his father's home and went to the home of her parents Mr. Ben Young at West Bend and on Monday morning after holding a consultation with his two twin brothers, Hobert and Herbert Schumaker, who resided with their sister, Mrs. Cisco of West Bend they came to the home of the father, for the purpose of having a settlement over the crops.

Three Hour Grilling

Before young Schumaker confessed to the killing he protested his innocence for three hours, being brought from the jail where he had been confined since last night, about an hour in which he protested his innocence he was returned to the jail and about an hour later he was again taken from the jail and after being cross questioned for some time he confessed to the killing.

Boy's Statement

Herbert and Hobert Schumaker, twin sons of the dead man, who have been staying with the Cisco's of West Bend, they accompanied the slayer to the home of the senior Schumaker, Monday morning and were witnesses to the killing. It was through their statement that the confession of John, Jr., was secured. On Tuesday night after undergoing a grilling before Sheriff H. Clay Hodgkin, Deputy Sheriffs Dan Insko and James Allen, and Policemen Strode and Oliver, they made a statement, that, their brother John Schumaker, Jr., killed their father on Monday morning about 10 o'clock. According to the statement of the two boys, they left their home at West Bend in Powell county on Monday morning and went to the home of the murdered man, which was on the farm of Holt Everman, near Kiddville, for a settlement according to the statements made to them by the murderer who was desiring a settlement with the murdered man, a dispute having arisen between the son and the father over the sale of the crop to Holt Everman, by the father, from which the boy claims to have not been compensated. According to the boys the alleged murderer, stated that he would either have a settlement and get his pay for the amount of the crop that was due him or he would kill his father. The shooting, according to the statement of the two boys was done on Monday morning, about 10 o'clock. They stated that the son and father engaged in an argument, in the yard, the son claming one-fourth of the crops, which had been sold and alleging that his father had sold the crop to Everman and had failed to pay him. The twins stated that their father refused to settle with their brother and after they went into the house they were standing talking to their father in the kitchen when his son entered from the adjoining room, and demanded that his father pay him when the father refused, he then threatened him, and raised his gun, a double barrel shotgun, shooting him in the side, the victim fell across a bucket, and when he attempted to arise the son emptied the other load into his face, tearing one side of his face away. They stated that they concealed themselves behind a barn and were joined by the murderer, where they remained in hiding until Mr. Thomas Crowe who was passing near was out of sight and then they returned to their home at West Bend The gun used was a double barrel shotgun, and belonged to Herbert Schumaker. The gun, according to the boy, had been loaned to his brother John Schumaker, Jr., in guarding a watermelon patch on the Everman farm. The two boys admitted having met the small daughter of Holt Everman while enroute to the home on Monday morning shortly before the shooting occurred. Mr. Thomas Crowe from whom the boys concealed themselves stated that he heard the shots, but did not see either of the Schumakers.

Schumaker Be Tried Tuesday

Examing Trial of Confessed Slayer of Father Will be Held on Tuesday Morning at 9 o'clock.

It was announced from the Sheriff's office on Thursday afternoon that the examining trial of John Schumaker, Jr., confessed slayer of his father John Schumaker, Sr., on last Monday morning, would be held on Tuesday morning. The two younger sons, Hobert and Herbert are being held as conspirators in the murder, at which they are said to have been present in the confession of the murderer and the statement of the twin brothers. The Winchester Sun, Thursday August 11, 1921.

Examining Trial of Slayer of Father is Waived and Murderer is Returned to Jail Without Bail.

John Schumaker Confessed Murderer of father is being held for September Term of Court.

Conspirators under Bond

Evidence of Twin Boys is same and Practically same as statement issued. The examining trial of Herbert and Hobart Schumaker, charged with conspiracy in the murder of their father, John Schumaker, Sr., who was killed by son John Schumaker, about 9:30 at his home on the farm of Holt Everman near Kiddville, was held Tuesday morning. According to the confession of the slayer, John Schumaker, Jr., he and his father fell out over the crops which he alleged that his father had sold to his landlord to settle a debt. According to the confession he had been residing in the same home with his father and on Friday he and his father had trouble and he left their home and accompanied his wife to the home of her father Ben Young of West Bend to reside. On Monday morning according to the confession he in company with his twin brothers Hobart and Herbert, who have been making their home with their sister, Mrs. Shirley Cisco of West Bend returned to their father's home, it is alleged to feed his stock and chickens. They met their father, in the Watermelon patch near the home where they engaged in a quarrel. Later the four went to the house and the argument was renewed which resulted in the slaying of the father, he being shot in the side and his face

practically torn off. According to the statement of the boys, the first shot fired by the son struck the father in the side and he fell across a bucket and when he attempted to arise to his feet the other barrel of the shotgun which was a double barrel was emptied into his face. The younger boys who were witnesses to beginning of the shooting stated he lived about ten minutes after he was shot, and that they could hear groans at the barn where they were in hiding and continued to keep themselves secreted until Mr. Thomas Crowe who was passing was out of sight and then the three after leaving the shotgun in which the killing was done in some fodder in the barn returned to their homes at West Bend. On Tuesday morning the slayer's wife and the twin sons returned to the place and reported that they had found the father's body in the home. It was at first reported that he had committed suicide but later it was found that his wounds were such that it was impossible for him to have inflicted them. Deputy Sheriffs Insko and James Allen were detailed to the scene and after an investigation they called Sheriff Hodgkin who secured a warrant for the arrest of the slayer. The officers found the guilty party at the home of his father-in-law and placed him under arrest and brought the three, the slayer and his twin brothers, to Winchester, where they were lodged in the county jail. During the evening the twins confessed to being witnesses to the killing and on Tuesday morning the slayer confessed that he killed his father, stating that "I had to do it." Herbert's Testimony

Hobert, who was the first to be put on the witness stand stated that he was present at the time the shooting begun and was standing in the kitchen door eating a lunch which had procured at the father's home. He stated that his father and his brother John engaged in an argument and that his father told John, reaching at the same time for a knife "That he would get rid of both him and the chickens" and John procured the shot gun which was near and shot his father. With the first shot the boy stated that he ran and while he was enroute to the barn he heard the second shot. He also stated that his father had been in the asylum twice and that he was a very high tempered man. He also stated that his father had attempted to kill his mother during her lifetime. He said that his father was good to him and often gave him money.

Hobert's Testimony

Herbert corroborated the testimony.

John Schumaker Trail Continued

John Schumaker 22, Will be Heard Second Day of December Term of Court. Hearing of the case of John Schumaker, Jr., confessed slayer of his father, which was docketed for the Wednesday session of circuit court, was continued until December 6, the second day of the December term, when called. Approximately 40 witnesses summonsed to testify for the Commonwealth were recognized for their appearance in court when the case comes up for trial by Circuit Judge W.R. Shakelford. The continuation of the case against John Schumaker carries with it a continuation of the hearing of Hobert and Herbert, twins, charged with complicity in the murder of the Schumaker Senior. The defendants have been confied in the jail here since their examining trial August 16. Bail was refused John and the twin brothers were held in bond of $2,500, which they have not been able to furnish. The twin brothers are charged with complicity in the murder of the elder Schumaker. John Schumaker, Sr., was killed at his home near Kiddville on the morning of August 8. When the body of the murdered man was found it at first was supposed that he had committed suicide. When it was determined that the wounds which caused his death could not possibly have been self inflicted the three sons were arrested. After a grilling Tuesday night by Sheriff H. Clay Hodgkin and Deputy Sheriffs Dan Insko and James Allen, the twin brothers made a statement charging John Jr. with the crime.

Weekend Under Grilling

After protesting his innocence for three hours John Jr., broke down under a grilling and admitted that he was the slayer of his father. According to the statements of the twin brothers the three sons had been residing on the farm rented by their father and had helped him raise a crop. It was said that in order to pay a debt owed to Holt Everman, the owner of the farm, the father sold the crop to the landlord. An argument between the father and John Jr., over the division of the proceeds resulted. The twin brothers went to the home of their sister, Mrs. Shirley Cisco, of West Bend, and John Jr., took his wife to the home of her father, Ben Young, at West Bend. The three brothers returned to their father's house Monday morning to settle the dispute concerning the division of the proceeds from the sale of the crop. Shot Father Twice While there, Hobert and Herbert say, their brother and the father entered into an altercation and the boy shot his father twice with a shot gun. They hid in a barn until Thomas Crowe, a passerby, was safely out of sight, concealed the weapon with which the father was killed under some fodder and returned to their homes. The weapon with which the crime was committed had disappeared and efforts to locate it have been futile to date "I had to do it," was the only statement the boy who confessed to the killing of his father would make relative to the motive for the crime. The brothers all stated that their father possessed a fiery temper and had on several occasions been cruel to their mother while she was living with him and twice had been confined in an insane asylum. Schumakers Go On Trial Here

Trial of the case of the Commonwealth versus John Schumaker, Jr., charged with the murder of his father John Schumaker, Sr., at the home of the latter near Kiddville August 8, 1921 was begun in circuit court Tuesday.

Herbert and Hobert Schumaker, twin brothers of John Jr., also are charged with complicity in the killing of the senior Schumaker.

The defendants waived arrangement and pleaded not guilty to the charge This plea of not guilty repudiated a confession alleged to have been made to members of the sheriffs office by John Schumaker shortly after his arrest.

The morning session of court was taken up with the selection of a jury to hear the case and the taking of testimony was not begun until the beginning of the afternoon session. Members of the jury trying the case are:

F.H. Fishback, C.P. Heflin, W.H. Strossman, J.H. Crane, James Eubank, Jay Johnson, L.C. Neal H.H. Hadley, J.T. Rupard, Alex Couchman, H. Phelps Renick and Charles Hagan.

Attorneys C.F. Spencer and James Winn were appointed counsel for the defense by Circiut Judge W.R. Shaekleford late Monday afternoon.

The first witness placed on the stand was George Rupard, who was acting as coroner at the time the senior Schumaker was slain. He testified to the nature and location of the wounds which caused the death of the victim. Schumaker was shot with a shotgun, one charge striking him in the back near the spine and the other charge tearing away part of his face.

The second witness called was Matt Bean, member of a local undertaking establishment, who also testified as to the nature and location of the wounds which caused Schumaker's death. A Miss Everman was the next witness and testified that on the day on which the murder was alleged to have occurred she saw the Schumaker boys travel in the direction of the home of their father.

Thomas Crowe followed Miss Everman to the stand.

He testified that on the day on which the murder is alleged to have been committed he was at a point about three hundred yards from the home of the senior Schumaker and that he heard two shots fired at a point in the direction of the Schumaker house. When asked to show how closely one shot followed the other he demonstrated by snaping his finger twice in rapid succession.

He also testified that on the day following the date on which the senior Schumaker is alleged to have been murdered he talked with Hobert Schumaker in Kiddville and that he (Schumaker) told him that his (Schumaker) father had been killed. Also he said the Schumaker said that his father probably had been killed for his money.

Hearing of the testimony of the witnesses for the commonwealth was in progress when the report of the trial proceeding for this issue of the Sun closed. The commonwealth had approximately forty witnesses recognized to appear to testify during the trial and it is understood that the defense also has a large array of witnesses summoned to testify in behalf of the case for the defendants.

Considerable interest was shown in the trial Tuesday the courtroom practically was filled with spectators for the afternoon session.

Schumaker, Sr. Crazy, Claimed

Counsel for Defense in Murder Trial Outlines What It Will Attempt to Prove That the counsel for the defense will prove that John Schumaker, Jr, killed his father in self defense at the home of the victim, near Kiddville, August 8, last; that the senior Schumaker was crazy; was a degenerate; was dangerous; frequently had threatened the life of his wife, the defendant's mother, while the victim and his wife were living together, was the declaration made in his address to the jury hearing the case of the Commonwealth versus John Schumaker, Jr., on a charge of murder in circuit court here Wednesday afternoon by Attorney C.F. Spencer, who with James Winn compose the counsel for the defense in the action.

Hearing of the testimony of witnesses for the commonwealth was Dan Insko being the last witness called.

In his statement to the jury Mr. Spencer said that counsel for the defense was to prove by records of this county that the senior Schumaker had on more than one occasion been declared insane and that further this proof would be backed by that of reputable witnesses would be called to testify as to his general condition. Also, he said it would be proved that the defendant often had been forced to stand guard at night to prevent his father from killing his mother with a dirk knife which he carried.

He charged that the victim was a drunkard and that his real reason, which the defense would prove, in trying to get the defendant away from the house which they previously had occupied jointly, was in order to set up a moonshine still.

Further, Mr. Spencer said in his address, the Senior Schumaker was feared by members of his family and that after the defendant and the defendant's wife had gone to the home of the wife's relative at Argayle, in Powell county, Mrs John Schumaker Jr., would not permit the defendant to return to the home of the senior Schumaker, which he was forced to do to feed stock left there, unless he was accompanied by another person. Attorney Spencer reconstructed the happenings on the day of the killing for the jury, saying that the victim was armed with the dirk, which he had carried for seven years, and a pistol or revolver in addition.

He declared that character witnesses would be introduced to show that the defendants, Hobert and Herbert, twins, brothers of John being tried jointly as accessories in the murder, were honest, industrious and sober and never had been in court prior to this trial

In declaring that the defense would prove that the senior Schumaker was a degenerate, Mr. Spencer declared that on one occasion before the birth of one of his children he became angry when he learned that a doctor had been summoned for the expectant mother and dragged her from the bed and beat and punched her.

Further, he declared that if it was necessary to prove his claim, the counsel for the defense would place the daughter of the victim on the stand to give testimony of a nature that would substantiate the charge.

The courtroom was filled to standing room with spectators and interest in the case seemed greater Wednesday afternoon than at any time previous.

Witnesses heard Tuesday afternoon at the conclusion of the testimony of Tom Crowe gave the following testimony:

James Richardson said on Sunday night, one of the twins came to his father's place; the old man asked him to stay all night, and when the boy declined, the father went to the watermelon patch and gave the boy a melon. Mr. Richardson said when the old man started to smoke, he took some change from his pocket, and he, (the witness) saw a ten dollar bill.

The witness said that on Friday while the elder Schumaker had gone to the spring for water, young John said the old man was the "contrariest" man on earth; that sometimes he thought he "ought to just kill him".

Ben Goosey, the next witness, said that about three weeks before the killing, John Schumaker said the old man killed his chickens for "pure meanness. He's the meanest man that ever lived. If he keeps on, I'll take my knife, and cut his –throat." Granville Combs said one of the twins had said if they caught their father up at the house they'd kill him.

Combs denied he had warned John that his father had threatened to kill him. Chester Rice gave testimony tending to show that the twins had sought to prove they were elsewhere when their father was killed.

W.Z. Eubank said John Schumaker had said the "old man was trying to rob him of his part of the crop, and unless there was a change; somebody would be hurt".

James Roberts said that on Monday the twins paid for a purchase with a five dollar bill at a store where he works. The witness said on Saturday the elder Schumaker had a large roll of bills.

Willie Richardson said on Sunday before the killing, Herbert Schumaker said, when the older Schumaker and Mr. Henry Stevenson went to the barn, that if he (Herbert) knew they were talking about his brother, John, he would go out there and kill them.

Dr. Young said he attended John Schumaker Jr., on Monday afternoon and that nothing was said about the father having been killed. John Schumaker and his wife were then at her mother's home at Argyle, in Powell county. John was in a nervous condition the witness said.

J.R. Allen, deputy sheriff testified that he arrested John Schumaker at the home of his mother-in-law at Argyle. The twins were arrested at Kiddville. Mr. Allen denied implied questions by defense counsel that he and other officers had intimidated the defendants. The witness said the twins stated that John shot their father. He denied that any promises were given the boys for the confession.

Blind Man on Witness Stand

Self Defense is Plea of John Schumaker, Jr., Charged with Murder of his Father Introduction of the records of the Clark county court for August 14, 1915, to show that John Schumaker, Sr., had been adjudged insane when tried by jury on that date and presentation to the jury of facts concerning the case as seen through the eyes of a blind man were the features Thursday of the trial of the case of Commonwealth versus John Schumaker, Jr.,.

County Court Clerk H. Clay Skinner was called to the stand early in the afternoon session with the county court records to show that the late John Schumaker, for the killing of whom the defendant is being tried on a murder charge, was found to be insane by a jury in the Clark county court and committed to the Eastern Kentucky State Hospital, at Lexington.

An effort was made to establish the facts relating to the manner in which Schumaker, Sr., gained his freedom from that institution, but the witness was unable to supply this information.

Considerable interest was created in the crowded courtroom when at the close of the testimony of Clerk Skinner, Lenzy Cisco, a son-in-law of the dead man, who according to his testimony has been blind for about forty years, was placed on the witness stand by the counsel for the defense. Cisco testified as to the general character of the dead man, as he took it from what association there had been between them and as he had heard from other members of the family.

Cisco's answer as to the reason for the rest of the family leaving the dead man, given in answer to a question for the counsel for the defense, was not given to the jury, but was allowed to be read into the record of the hearing.

The case swinging into the afternoon of the third day of the trial and interest of public seemed, from the size of the crowd in attendance to be growing as the case proceeds. Late Wednesday afternoon the defendant was placed on the stand to testify in his own behalf.

He admitted that he fired the fatal shot, but that his father started toward him with a loaded pistol, which he knocked aside with his gun, the pistol discharging in the old man's face. The latter then drew a knife, the defendant said, and he shot his father to save his own life.

He said he had cultivated a crop with his father, and lived with his wife at his father's home. The elder man, the boy said, had formerly made and sold whisky. The boy said before his mother's death the parents separated, and the children lived with the mother. He said his father had been in the asylum and frequently became violent and dangerous. The old man had a spell about every two weeks, and would seize a knife or gun the witness said.

The witness said he and his wife left his father's house Friday before the murder. He went back at intervals to feed his stock, he said. On Monday morning, the day of the killing, he said he went to his sister's home and asked his brothers to go with him to their father's place. The father had recently shown indications of becoming violent, he said and had threatened that unless he got away, he would kill him (the witness) and his wife also.

He said that he entered his father's home for a nap and when he awoke he heard his father coming toward the house with the twins saying: "I am going to kill John before he has a chance to sue me about the crop I'll them kill myself."

The witness said he them picked up a gun he had borrowed from Hobert to guard the watermelon patch.

The father and the two boys entered the kitchen, the witness said and when the father saw the witness the old man said "Now I've got you where I want you. I'm going to kill you right here."

His father drew a pistol. The defendant said he then struck at the pistol with his gun. The weapon was discharged, the charge striking the father's face. The father then drew a knife, and he (the witness) fired another shot.

The witness swore the place was robbed by unknown persons after the murder. The knife and pistol presented by the elder Schumaker and the gun used by the defendant were never found.

Hobert and Herbert Schumaker, twins, brother of the defendant and being tried jointly with him as accomplices in the murder of their father were placed on the stand.

They testified as to the general disposition of their father and traced their movements on the day on which the alleged murder is said to have occurred.

Jury is Given Schumaker Case

Friday Session Filled with Instructions to the jury and Summing up of Case by Counsel The case of the Commonwealth versus John Schumaker, Jr., charged with the murder of his father, was given to the jury at 3:40 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Three days had been occupied with the preliminaries and when the hearing of witness for the defense and the Commonwealth, the time from the opening of court Friday morning until the case was placed in the hands of the jury was occupied by the instruction delivered by the court and by the arguments presented by counsel for the defense and the commonwealth.

In delivering the instructions of the court to the jury Circiut Judge W.R. Shackleford charged them that in case they found the defendant guilty of murder committed willfully and with malice aforethought to fix the sentence of the prisoner at death or life imprisonment.

In case the defendant was found guilty of manslaughter the sentence was to be fixed at a sentence ranging from a minimum of 2 years to a maximum of 21 years.

Should it be found that the defendant killed in self defense the jury was instructed to acquit him.

Hobert and Herbert Schumaker, twins, brothers of the defendant, John Schumaker, Jr. are being tried jointly as accomplices and the jury was instructed to return a separate verdict for each of the three defendants.

Attorney C.V. Spencer presented the argument for the defense, beginning his address to the jury following the delivery of the charge by Judge Schakleford when the morning session of court opened Friday.

Mr. Spencer presented the argument for the defense during a period which occupied the time for the morning session of court from the close of the charge to the jury until the adjournment for the afternoon recess.

Presenting the case for the Commonwealth Prosecuting Attorney Ben Crutcher began his address to at the opening of the court session for the afternoon. His address did not occupy as great a period of time as did that of the counsel for the defense.

Public interest in the case continued to hold Friday and the court room was filled with spectators from the time the session opened for the day until the case was given to the jury.

Counsel for the defense and the commonwealth in the case of John Schumaker, Jr., charged with the murder of his father, and Hobert and Herbert Schumaker, twins, brothers of John, defendants jointly in the action rested their cases at 8:20 o'clock Thursday night.

The defense finished with it witnesses, the testimony of Mrs. Cisco and D. Brinegar being heard.

The commonwealth then took up its rebuttal, in the course of which Mrs. Cisco, Herbert Schumaker, Robert Eubank, Ben Dawson, Floyd Combs, Deputy Sherriff Dan Insko and Sheriff H. Clay Hodgkin were placed on the stand.

After the rebuttal was closed the court called Deputy Insko back to the stand and questioned him as to whether the house in which the body of the senior Schumaker was found had been entered and whether it was fastened up so as to prevent entrance. Also whether he saw a dirk or pistol in the room with the body.

Mr. Insko stated that so far as he could tell no one had entered the house and that the Schumaker twins said no one had been in but that they looked in through the window and saw the body of their father.

He said also that the window glass was broken, the door which afforded direct ingress and egress from the room to the outside was closed but not locked and that connecting doors out through another part of the house leading from the kitchen were open and leading from the kitchen were open and that a number of chickens had entered the house. No sign of a dirk or pistol was apparent when he entered, he said.

Hung Jury in Schumaker Case

Body Dismissed Without Having Returned a Verdict 2:15 O'Clock Saturday Afternoon.

	The jury trying the case of John Schumaker, Jr., charged with the killing of his father, John Schumaker, Sr., at the home of the victim, near Kiddville, August 8, last, and his brothers, Hobert and Herbert, twins, charged with complicity in the crime and joint defendants in the action, were dismissed at 2:14 o'clock Saturday afternoon without having reached a verdict.
	The jury had had the case under consideration since 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Disposition of the case awaits the return of Judge Shackelford, who will be back to occupy the bench with the opening of court Monday morning.
	Circuit Judge W.R. Shackelford adjourned court at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, appointing Attorney V.W. Bush as special judge to receive the report of the jury should they make one. In talking with the jury when court was called Saturday morning Judge Shackelford told the members of the jury not to wait until a verdict had been reached in the case of each of the defendants, John, Jr., Hobert and Herbert Schumaker, but to return each verdict as soon as it is reached. A night session of court was held Friday night, with Mr. Bush acting as special judge in the absence of Judge Shackelford, who was called to his home at Richmond, to receive a verdict should one be returned, but at 9:45 the foreman reported that no agreement had been reached and the body retired for the night.
	John Schumaker, Jr., is charged with the killing of his father John Schmaker, Sr., at the home of the latter, near Kiddville, August 8, , last, and Hobert and Herbert, twins, his brothers are joint defendants in the case, being charged with complicity. 	minor details conforming to those of his first story. He continues apparently to suffer grim mental agony, and the prison authorities suspect that his mind is about to give way. He also shows signs of physical collapse. He said to the warden "I have told all there is to tell about the murder and I feel better since I have made my confession. Of course, I regret this, but the suicide of my father worries me most. I can never get over

	Confesses That He Killed Two Rivals—Others Implicated
	Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8.—Samuel Crabtree, aged 20, a convict from Lawrence county, made a confession to the penitentiary authorities Tuesday night to a double murder, which he says he committed four years ago. He implicates David Dean, David Wellman and Dollie Frazier, all of whom were tried for the murder at the time and acquitted.
	Crabtree is now serving a three-year term for housebreaking and previously served one year for the same offense. He was a constant attendant at the prison chapel religious revival recently, and is believed to have been converted.
	Tuesday night he sent for Warden Hancock. Prison Surgeon Bronner went to Crabtree's cell and the latter detailed to him the murder of his two cousins, William Short and Tony Rice, in Lawrence county, nearly four years ago.
	They were returning from a dance, and all were drinking. They quarreled over Miss Frazier, and in the fight that followed Crabtree says he cut the throats of both Rice and Short, killing them almost instantly. He, with the assistance of Miss Frazier and Wellman and Dean, buried the bodies under some brush near a railroad trestle.
	Crabtree was never charged with the murder. His father, he says, became insane by brooding over the wickedness of his son, and committed suicide as he was being conveyed to the Lexington asylum.

Shotwell Conspiracy	TWO MEN HELD OUT. The Shotwell Jury Could Not Agree and Was Discharged by the Judge. Williamsburg, Ky., Feb.—The jury in the Shotwell conspiracy to murder case was discharged at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Judge Morrow because of inability to agree upon a verdict. The jury was given the case Monday morning and from the first the ballot stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. The two men who hung the jury were Henry Finley, an uncle of fugitive Charley Finley, who is now rusticating in Indiana, and Frank Snyder, a Finely adherent. Finley, a reputable citizen said that the proof introduced by the state, which was purely circumstantial, was not sufficient to convict any one of the five accused Shotwells, and he did not propose to aid in hanging men who had not been proved guilty. Snyder was of a like opinion. Judge Morrow remanded the Shotwells to jail without bond. A new trial cannot be held until the May term of court, as the present session ended Friday. Shouse, Darius	Sudden Death. Mr. Darius Shouse died suddenly Wednesday morning at the residence of Mr. L. B. Cockrell near Wades Mill, of heart disease, aged about sixty-nine years. He had been complaining during the night, but thought the trouble was not of a serious nature. The remains were taken to Mt. Sterling yesterday morning for interment, services being held at the grave by Rev. Geo. Froh. The deceased had made his home with Mr. Cockrell for many years, and his noble character endeared him to those whose pleasure it was to know him. Mr. Shouse was a native of Montgomery county. His wife who died twenty-six years ago was a cousin of L. B. Cockrell. Of the family, an only son, Mr. Forest Shouse, of this city, survives.

Shouse, Forrest C.	Death of F.C. Shouse Forrest C. Shouse died at his home on the Mt. Sterling Pike, Saturday, of blood poisoning, aged about thirty seven years. The funeral was preached yesterday at the family residence by Revs. Geo. Froh and F.M. Wyatt and the remains were buried in the Winchester cemetery. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Hon, and five small children. The manner of his death was peculiar. Several days ago he was engaged in dipping sheep for the scab, and for some time he stood in the vat and dipped them. The acid and other poison of the dip was absorbed through the pores of the skin producing blood poisoning with fatal results. He was a good and popular citizen whose death will be much regretted. Showers, William	William showers was shot dead and killed in the Court-house at Elizabethtown Monday by his brother-in-law, Charles Moore. Two years ago Shower's wife who was Moore's sister, was found in her room dying from a pistol shot. Her brief married life had been so miserable and the circumstances of her death were so suspicious that her young husband was accused of her murder. Her family pressed the prosecution, but proof was lacking and Showers was acquitted. He swore vengeance upon his brother-in-law and finally secured Moore's indictment upon the charge of forging witness claims while a deputy in the Circuit Clerk's office. Moore fled to Texas but was captured through Showers' exertions and brought home for trial. He was out on bond, which Showers had gone to the Courthouse to try to increased, when he was shot by Moore. The victim had a revolver in his hand and Moore pleads self-defense in justification. 	Shrout Arthur C
2010.	Sinout, Artiful G.

	He was born in Winchester, August 11, 1949 to Elizabeth Shearer Shrout and the late Arthur L. Shrout. He was self-employed and owned Shrout Service for 32 years. He was a loving and proud husband, father, grandfather, son and brother and will be dearly missed by all those who knew him. Arthur was a Ky Colonel and in years past he had been an avid car enthusiast with his '32 Chevrolet. He enjoyed working in his garage and visiting with friends who often stopped by. He was often seen mowing around the pond on his tractor and the John Deere. Arthur is survived by his loving wife of 46 years, Sandy Wilson Shrout, his mother Elizabeth Shearer Shrout, two sons; Adam G Shrout and Alan L Shrout(Jaime); one grandson Camden L Shrout, Holly Springs, NC.; one sister Rose L. Spencer; three nieces; Jennifer Wilson White, Bobbi Jo Russell (Todd) and Dr. Kari B Spencer (Brian). Per his wishes, there will be no funeral service, but a celebration of life will be held at a later date. Donations are suggested to Hospice East.
	Arrangements provided by Rolan G Taylor Funeral Home.

Shyrock, Hugh	Col. Gaither Will Investigate.
	So much complaint has been made in regard to Surgeon Dade, of the 2d Ky., that the charges can no longer remain without investigation. The Courier-Journal says:
	"Col. E. H. Gaither has undertaken to investigate the charges being made both privately and publicly by privates in his regiment against Maj. Surgeon H. Dade. The investigation has progressed far enough to show that there is at least grounds enough to warrant a thorough sifting of the affair. Surgeon Dade is at home in Chicago. His first assistant Dr. Winn, said he was perfectly willing to go before any committee desiring to investigate any of his acts. It seems that Dr. Dade is daily accused of gross neglect of the sick of the Second Kentucky. One case in which this charge is made is that of Private Hugh Shyrock, of Lawrenceburg, who was reported as having a dangerous hemorrhage. Shyrock was forced to suffer much inconvenience, both in the camp and division hospitals and died three days after reaching home. The denunciations of Dade are so frequent that Col. Gaither has been forced to take some cognizance of the facts.

Simms, Richard	In our last issue we mentioned the fact that Mrs. Richard Simms, of Cynthiana, had recovered $ 7,000 from the telephone Company as damages for her husband being killed. The Democrat of that city gives the following particulars of his curious death:
	"On a wet, stormy night a telephone wire, that had been cut out of a coal yard office, but not detached from the main line, fell across an electric light wire that had become soaked by the rain. At Simms's home, one mile in the country, the wind blew the front door violently open and Mr. Simms came from the rear of the house to investigate. He noticed a faint glow on the matted trellis wire that was attached to the front porch, and supposing it to be a lightning bug, attempted to pick it off. He was standing on the wet ground and the instant his finger toughing the wire the unfortunate man without uttering a sound fell dead. It was discovered afterwards that the telephone line where it entered the house touched a nail to which the trellis wire was attached. Thus the electric light current was carried into the country, around to a man's front door; the wind blew the door open to attract his attention; he came to investigate; in the darkness mistook the mysterious light; touched the spark; the wet ground completed the circuit; Richard Simms was a dead man. The jury doubtless argued that the telephone company should have entirely removed the dead wire and should have seen that there was no connection with the trellis. The case will be appealed.

Simonek, Norman "No No"	Norman "No No" Simonek, 69, of Winchester, entered into eternal life on Aug. 5 after a 22-year battle with leukemia. He was surrounded by his family, whom he loved so dearly. He is survived by his loving and devoted wife, Nancy Mott-Simonek, and his children, Carolyn Rodriguez of Tulare, California, Sheri Simonek of Taft, California, Ralph Mott of Cynthiana, Steven Simonek (Shendonnah) of Tulare, California, Jennifer Mott of Winchester and Theron Mott (Becky) of Shanghai, China. He had 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his brothers, Walter Simonek (LuAnn) of Inglewood, California, Harold Simonek (Sherry) of Gilbert, Arizona, Warren Simonek (Connie) of Hemet, California, and James Simonek (Kyung) of Sandy, Oregon, and a sister, Barbara Eichelkraut (Bill) of Torrance, California, as well as numerous family members. He was preceded in death by his loving parents, Josephine and Jerome Simonek; brothers, Charles and Gerald Simonek; and a sister, Betty Jane "Patty" Simonek, as well as his favorite pet rabbit, Houdini. He was a loving, gentle and devoted man, always ready to give or receive hugs. He has a unique sense of humor, ranging from the "Wet Willy" to dancing a jig. He always made everyone laugh. He loved the outdoors, camping in Sequoia, playing with his rabbit, tinkering with the cars and collecting "The Duke" memorabilia. He loved "Tis the Season." He will be deeply missed and forever in our hearts. The family wishes to extend sincere gratitude and appreciation to the doctors and staff of the Markey Cancer Center for their gentle and loving care and devotion to not only Norm, but the family as well. Donations can be made to the Markey Cancer Center in Lexington. A memorial service will be held Thursday, Aug. 12, at 6 p.m. at Scobee Funeral Home in Winchester. Swift, of this county, died of hydrophobia. He said during his illness, that he did not recollect ever having been bitten by a dog, but said that one evening last August he was out in the woods with his dog and noticed that the animal acted very strangely, the dog jumped up on him several times, but he didn't think he was either bitten or scratched. He had several sores on his hands, though, and it is thought that some of the poisonous slobber came in contact with them, and it by this means became infected with the disease. Doctors Combs and Hart attended young Simpson during his illness, and did what they could to alleviate his terrible sufferings. The Clark County Democrat, Thur., 7-4-1872

	Ordered that J. S. Tucker be appointed guardian ad litem for Fanny Bailey, defendant
	the administrator of Mrs. Curry filed Order Book 19; P. 146; November Court 1885
	HON TAMES SIMBSON
	HON. JAMES SIMPSON.
	Judge James Simpson was the son of James Simpson. His early advantages for an education were superior to those of Gov. Clark and Allan. He studied law under Hon.
	Samuel Hanson, and rose slowly but surely and steadily under his studies and laborious habits to great eminence at the bar. He was never distinguished as an eloquent speaker, but from his thorough knowledge of the law he took a very high rank in his profession.
	He served as Circuit Judge in the judicial district of which Clark county was a part twelve years, when in 1847 he was appointed as one of the judges of the Court of Appeals, which position he also held by election until 1860 and of which court he became Chief Justice. He was not much of a politician, though he served two terms as Representative in the Kentucky Legislature and filled a vacancy in the State Senate, Judge Simpson in early life married Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, of Madison county, Ky., and he survived her and never afterward remarried. He acquired a large fortune by his professional labors and was for some years also engaged in the mercantile and banking business in Winchester, Ky. He died in the year 1876 in his first year.

	After Being Mortally Wounded a Kentuckian Shoots His Assailant With His Own Gun. Middlesboro, Ky., April 21.—Details of a tragedy which occurred late Wednesday on Wilson's creek have just been received in this city. Green Howard and John Simpson, neighbors, became engaged in an altercation, when Simpson drew a revolver and mortally wounded Howard.
	Throwing down his pistol, Simpson started on a run for home. When he was some distance away Howard secured Simpson's pistol and fired at him. Simpson instantly fell dead. Howard is a member of the Howard family, of Howard-Turner feud fame.

Simpson, Mrs. E. Jouett	Peace comes
	Death of Mrs. E. Jouett Simpson during the solemn watches of the night Silently and stealthily the Death Angel invaded another happy home and summoned the gentle spirit of Mrs. E. Jouett Simpson, whose critical illness had been mentioned in our last issue. So extremely critical was her condition the past two days that her dissolution was almost momentarily expected, and the announcement early Monday morning that she was no more brought sincere sorrow to a large circle of relatives and friends.
	Although delicate for years, it was only a few weeks since her condition became alarming, and nothing that love could prompt or skill suggest was left undone; still her ailment stubbornly refused to yield to treatment, and at ten o'clock Sunday evening the weary, tired eyes closed in everlasting sleep, to awaken in the land beyond the skies.
	Here, where she was born and reared needs no eulogy. She possessed a bright, happy and cheerful disposition, her sympathetic nature endearing her to family and friends. To every good her sweet nature responded, and she was ever ready to perform a kindly service, or soothe the suffering and afflicted. She was the youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary Artis, and to the heart broken mother, devoted sister and kind, loving and indulgent husband the sympathy of their legion of friends is extended in their hour of sadness. The funeral will take place at three o'clock this afternoon from the Presbyterian church, with services by Rev. Wm. Cumming and the interment will be in the family lot in Winchester cemetery. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 12, 1908

Simpson, William	TO HANG

senselessness of mob violence; but with the calm, dignified majesty of the law has the blood of Aaron Adams, which cries from the ground, been avenged, or will be when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the causeless, cruel murder was committed, and when the news spread Saturday that the death penalty had been awarded the murderer, there was a verdict of assent almost universal, and the only regret was that Matt Rainey, the prisoner's father, did not receive the same sentence. The crime was a most atrocious one, and with no mitigating circumstances. Matt Rainey and James Henry had differences concerning a piece of land near the mouth of Upper Howard's Creek, and Henry had placed Frank Haggard in possession as a tenant. Rainey hauled the fence from around Haggard's garden leaving it open to the stock. Haggard hauled the rails back again and a quarrel on the 13th of last May in which Rainey shot Haggard inflicting a wound that it was thought would prove fatal. Mrs. Haggard saw Aaron Adams passing along the road and asked him to go for a doctor. Adams went after Dr. T. S. Allen, who lived near, and returning with the physician half an hour later, he was met by Matt Rainey and Dillard Rainey, father and son. Matt was armed with a gun and Dillard with a pistol. The former raised his gun to shoot Adams, but was prevented by Dr. Allan. With an oath he told his son to shoot and the latter did so. As Adams sank down pierced with a number of balls, Matt Rainey savagely tried again to shoot him. Deputy Sheriff Eperson was in the neighborhood and arrested Matt Rainey at once. Dillard escaped, although the officers once got close enough to shoot at him. He went through the mountains and was finally arrested at Roanoke, Va., under an assumed name. Matt Rainey was tried last fall and got a life sentence. He took an appeal and since has been in jail here. Two or three feeble attempts were made to mob him here last Spring but they lacked leadership. Since he has been in jail he has incurred the illwill of the officers and fellow prisoners all whom concur in saying he is the meanest man with whom they have ever had dealings. The trial of Dillard Rainey began last Tuesday. The evidence closed Thursday at noon and was argued until the next morning when it was given to the jury, which brought in a verdict of guilty and fixing the death penalty the next day. When the prisoner heard it he turned deathly pale and seemed almost overcome. He soon recovered and was taken back to jail cursing the jury and vowing that he would never be hung. Neither of the prisoners have ever shown any remorse for the poor widow and the six helpless This will make the second sentence pronounced by Judge Scott, the other being the negro Will Taylor, who was hung for the murder of Squire Doty, in Madison county a year or two ago. If Rainey is hung it will make the fourth legal hanging in the county, and the first white man to be hung. Many years ago Jesse Winn, a negro, was hung near where Col. R. N. Winn's residence now stands, for the murder of Wm. Emerson, a white man, who owned him or had him In August, 1839, a young negro named Knight was hung on the Lexington pike near F. H. Dudley's. He belonged to Mr. Morris who lived on Stoner and had committed a rape on a little white girl. In April, 1841, a negro man, belonging to Daniel Spar, broke into a house and disemboweled his wife. The latter got well, but the negro was hung for housebreaking. The negro woman belonged to Geo. Anderson and her assailant was hung near the far end of the C. and O. trestle on the side of Poynterville. In November, 1850, Thomas Nichols killed his master, Fred B. Nichols, at a rock quarry on the Lexington pike. He was hung about Christmas of the same year. The late Wm. Simpson was Sheriff at the time, and not liking the job of hanging the negro, he employed Marsh Lawrence to tie the rope. A year or two later Marsh Lawrence was killed by his brother, Jack Lawrence. The latter fled to Missouri, but was caught, brought back and sentenced to be hung. He was the first white man in the county to receive the death sentence, but was finally pardoned by Gov. Powell. About seventeen years ago, Ben. Plunkett was lynched, being hung to a tree in the Courthouse yard, the charge being an attempt assault on Miss Annie Ball, now Mrs. Bradford. In the fall of 1895 Bob Haggard was hung from the bridge on the Muddy Creek pike for a similar assault on Miss Elkin of near Ford. No motion has yet been made for a new trial, but this will be done. Since the death penalty has been given to Dillard, his father says he does not wish a new trial, but is inclined to accept the life sentence given him last fall. The general opinion is that if he should secure a new trial he would also be hung. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, February 16, 1897. Singleton, Fred Curry Singleton, Fred G.	Singleton's son dies suddenly Newport, Ky., - Fred G. Singleton, son of the late Squire Edward Singleton, was suddenly stricken when notifies of the arrest of the couple for the murder of his father, and died soon after his physician arrived. The physician says he died from an epileptic convulsion, brought on by the shock of the notification of the arrest of the couple who are being held for the murder of his father.

	Bud Singleton Waylaid And Killed Near His Home
	Middlesboro, Ky., Aug. 16
	Bud Singleton brother of John Singleton who was killed this week in Hancock county, Tennessee, by the Smith boys, was waylaid and killed near his home. The Smith boys are believed to be guilty of the deed. The Singletons and Smiths have been enemies for years and were recently started on the warpath by the fight which occurred between John Singleton and Henry Smith. Later the Smiths and Singletons met and Singleton was killed and several Smiths were wounded.

Singleton, Robert L.	Singleton's slayers arrested

Singleton, Rodney	Newport, Ky., - Walter West and Grace Billingsby, accused of the murder of Squire Robert L. Singleton, of this city, nearly a year ago, are under arrest. The woman was arrested in Chicago and West was found in Boston. They will be brought to Cincinnati. The arrest of the couple clears up one of the most brutal murders committed in this section in years. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 14, 1908 A horrible tragedy occurred at Dripping Springs near Crab Orchard Saturday afternoon, in which Rodney Singleton, a young farmer, was killed, D. G. Slaughter, proprietor of the Springs was fatally shot, and a young man by the name of Bill Stamper was fatally wounded. The trouble originated at a picnic and dance given by the proprietor. Slaughter was prompting the dance, when Stamper came in drunk and created a disturbance. He was put out, but came back accompanied by Singleton, a friend of his, and endeavored to run the dance. Slaughter was trying to eject them from the place when the shooting occurred. All were prominent people of that section and the tragedy is greatly deplored.

Sipes, Henry T. Jr.	Henry T. Sipes Jr., 91, son of the late Henry T. Sipes Sr. and Rosa Clem Sipes, entered his heavenly home on June 13, 2022. Just as he managed his life experiences, he faced his illness with strength, grace, and faithful determination. He felt his greatest accomplishment in life was raising a family whom he loved and adored. Henry married Lois Jean Hensley Sipes on December 24, 1955. Together they raised three children, Jerry (Brenda), Robert (deceased), and Charlotte (Teresa). He is survived by one granddaughter, Lindsey Sipes (Chris) Campbell and two great granddaughters, LauraKate Sipes Campbell, and EmmaClaire Sipes Campbell, as well as many nieces, nephews, cousins, and special friends. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Robert and Kenneth Sipes Sr.; one sister, Louise Sparks; brother-in-law, Tom Sparks; and one granddaughter, Jessica Brooke Sipes. He was a retired brick mason, enjoyed reading his Bible and would readily share with all he met that he has read his Bible from cover to cover twenty-seven times, proving that was one of his favorite past times. He decided to move into Boonesboro Trail Assisted Living Facility in June 2021, the staff there became our second family. Henry loved all the staff and the other residents. He looked forward to playing cornhole, miniature golf and walking throughout the hallways and outdoor walkways. You could often hear him singing, especially belting out patriotic songs, playing bingo, or waiting on the next outing, which he never missed. We would ask where he had been on the outings, and he would say "everywhere" and to the question what did you see he would reply "everything." His laughter and bright spirit will be missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. Visitation will be from 6:00-8:00PM, Wednesday, June 15, 2022, at the Leon Pace Memorial Chapel at Scobee Funeral Home, led by Rev Ed Toler, Henry's great nephew. Active pallbearers will be Jerry Sipes, Chris Campbell, Kenneth Sipes Jr., Paul Sipes, Ed Toler, Tim Toler, Jeremy Toler, Greg Hall.

Sizemore, John	From California Begley will be returned to Kentucky on murder charge Frankfort, Ky., - Meb Begley, who lives in Monterey, Cal., but was formerly a resident of Leslie county, will be brought back to this state to answer the charge of killing John Sizemore. Allen Lantz, sheriff of Leslie county, left here with the requisition issued on the governor of California for the return of Begley, whose whereabouts were discovered through letters written to friends in this state. Through an unintentional mistake in a dispatch sent from this city it was stated that the requisition had been issued for the return of Lantz, and charged him with the killing. The mistake was caused by the misuse of the name, as it was intended to state the fact that Sheriff Lantz had gone to California to bring Begley back to Kentucky. 	Death Of Miss Alice Skinner
	Miss Alice Skinner, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Skinner, died at her home on the Mt. Sterling pike Monday evening of consumption, aged about twenty years.
	Funeral services were held at the family residence Wednesday morning conducted by Revs. Geo. Froh and B. B. Bailey, and the remains were buried in the Winchester cemetery.
	The deceased was a universal favorite and her lovely character and beautiful life will be an incentive to others even though it ended ere it had reached its zenith. We tender our sympathies to the bereaved ones.

Skinner, Joseph H.	Died—At the home of his mother, Mrs. Fannie Skinner, Thursday, July 5 th , Rev. Joseph H. Skinner, one of the most prominent ministers of the Southern Presbyterian church. He graduated in 1876 at Center College with the highest honors of his class, receiving the valedictory. He then spent two years in study and travel in Germany, Switzerland, France and England. When he returned to this country he entered the theological seminary at Princeton, N. J., and graduated in 1882. He was then called to a flourishing church in the city of Paris, Texas, which he served faithfully till 1892. He then took charge of the church in Taladega, Alabama, which church he served till his health failed. In 1885 he was married to Miss Katie Stark, of Paris, Texas, who survives him. He leaves five children, the youngest about three weeks old. The funeral will take place from his mother's residence, on the Mt. Sterling pike this morning, at 9 o'clock, services by Revs. Jas. J. Chisholm and W. E. Keller. Interment at the Winchester cemetery. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 6, 1894
Skinner, Larry Lee	Larry Lee Skinner, 58, was the son of the late Helen and Stanley Skinner of Winchester. Larry went to eternal rest on August 6, 2015. Larry confessed a belief in Christ at an early age. Besides his parents, Larry was preceded in death by a daughter, Latrisha Dawn Skinner. Larry received his education from the Clark County School System. After graduating from high school, Larry enlisted in the Navy. He served our county until he retired from the Navy. While in the Navy, Larry got the opportunity to see many cities and wonders of our country. Larry was proud to have served our county. Larry enjoyed spending quality time with his daughters. Larry also enjoyed watching his daughter play basketball. Larry was a free spirited person. He loved life and spending time with people. Larry leaves to cherish his memories his daughters: Shaneka Skinner, Shamea (Eric) Shelton, Joanna Skinner and Sandra Skinner; grandchildren; Zhyshawn Phillips, Zykarion Owens, Roman Smith, Imani Shelton and Layla Shelton, a host of cousins and friends. Larry had a loving disposition and left a lasting impression on everyone he met. He will be remembered by many that had the opportunity to have met him. Arrangements are incomplete with Keith P. Slack, Walter T.	Death Of Lt. Slack
	A dispatch was received yesterday announcing the death on Christmas night in the Philipine Islands of Lt. Walter T. Slack, of dysentery. Lt. Slack was one of the most popular young men of Winchester. He was Second Lt. of Co. C, 2 nd Ky, in the war with Spain. At the close of the war he again enlisted and at the time of his death he was First Lt. of Volunteers. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Dec. 25, 1900
	Will Be Buried Here The remains of Lt. Walter Slack, who died in the Philippines in December, are on their way home and will reach here in a day or two. It is now thought the funeral will be held

	Funancial of Liout Clash
	Funeral of Lieut. Slack. One of the largest and most impressive funerals ever held here was that Friday of Lieut. Walter Slack, who died at Manila Christmas Day and whose remains reached here Thursday. It was at first determined to hold the funeral services at the family home but so many of his friends desired to attend that it was soon found necessary to have more room and it was decided to hold services at the Methodist church. Services were conducted by Revs. Geo H. Means and B. B. Bailey, after which the remains were carried to the cemetery for interment. The procession was a most imposing one. The hearse was preceded by a company of soldiers in full uniform and armed. These consisted of a number of officers, his old comrades from Lexington under command of Maj. Allen and Capt. Longmire. Immediately following the remains were members of Co. 42nd Kentucky volunteers in the Spanish American war, with whom he was very popular. Next came the Winchester Fire Department of which he was formerly a member, and all of whose members loved him. These organized bodies were followed by a large line of relatives and friends on foot. The floral decorations were beautiful.
	His military comrades had an appropriate military design; and the fire Department another. Other private designs were also beautiful. After the grave had been filled a detail of eight men fired three rounds over the grave, the bugler sounded "Taps" and the gallant soldier and Christian gentile was left until the angel Gabriel shall sound the great "Assembly Call" on the Resurrection Day.

Slatterly, Sammy	Cigarettes Killed Him Sammy Slatterly, who died near Dugansville, Mercer county, a few days ago, was one of the best boys in that section, but for twelve or fifteen years had been addicted to the

Slaughter, D. G.	A horrible tragedy occurred at Dripping Springs near Crab Orchard Saturday afternoon, in which Rodney Singleton, a young farmer, was killed, D. G. Slaughter, proprietor of the Springs was fatally shot, and a young man by the name of Bill Stamper was fatally wounded. The trouble originated at a picnic and dance given by the proprietor. Slaughter was prompting the dance, when Stamper came in drunk and created a disturbance. He was put out, but came back accompanied by Singleton, a friend of his, and endeavored to run the dance. Slaughter was trying to eject them from the place when the shooting occurred. All were prominent people of that section and the tragedy is greatly deplored.

Slaughter, Gabriel	Governor Slaughter's Grave.
	The Harrodsburg Democrat calls attention to the fact that there is an item going the rounds of the press that Governor Bradley is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Gabriel Slaughter, of Richmond, Va., widow of the late Gabriel Slaughter, Chief Executive of Kentucky from 1816 to 1819, in which she signifies her willingness to have his remains brought back to Kentucky an interest in the State Cemetery at Frankfort, where many former Governors are buried. If there is a desire to remove the remains of Governor Slaughter they will not have to be "brought back to Kentucky." The dead
	Governor now reposes in a grave yard on the Shakertown pike, four miles from Harrodsburg.
	Inside the enclosure, which is overrun with vines and other undergrowth, an eight foot monument of dark marble with a base of Kentucky limestone marks the spot where lies all that is earthly of the distinguished man. The monument bears this inscription: Gabriel Slaughter.
	Former acting Governor of Kentucky.

Slusher, R. W.	Accidently Shot. Deputy Sheriff, R. W. Slusher, of Pineville the only Democratic officer in Bell county and one of the best in the mountains, dropped his pocket knife Wednesday and in stooping to pick it up a pistol fell from his pocket inflicting a fatal wound. He was the man who arrested Berry Howard and was returning from Frankfort where he went as a witness in that case.

	BERRY HOWARD'S CASE.
	Again Postponed on Motion of the Commonwealth.
	Frankfort, Ky., April 12Over the vigorous object of Col. Colson, attorney for Berry Howard, his case was again postponed in the Franklin circuit court Friday morning on motion of the commonwealth. The postponement was until Monday next, and was granted because P. W. Slusher, deputy sheriff of Bell county, whom Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin sent to Knox county to summon witnesses accidentally shot himself before executing the papers.

Small, John AA	Sunday Blaze Fatal To City Resident
	An elderly Winchester man perished in a fire that gutted his residence at Third and Pearl Streets early Sunday.
	The body of John Small was found lying on the kitchen floor of the house by city firemen. Deputy Coroner Eudell Rogers said Small, who lived alone had apparently died from smoke suffocation.
	Winchester Fire Chief Elliot Ecton said the cause of the fire was unknown but it had been started in the kitchen where Small's body was discovered. Firemen battled the blaze for two and a half hours. Ecton said the fire was "in full bloom with flames shooting from the roof: by the time firemen arrived at the scene at 7 a.m.

Mrs. Smith was born in Clark County, Kentucky, the daughter of Robert H. and Onys Ragland Thompson and sister of Rodney J. Thompson. Always an active and musical child, she participated fully in her local church and as an adolescent she accompanied the congregation on the piano and initiated Vacation Bible School for her local community in the summer. After graduating from Clark County High School, she received her BA in education from Eastern Kentucky University where she was active in the Baptist Student Union and met her sweetheart and future husband Paul Clay Smith. They were married in July 1957 while he was in veterinary school at Auburn University. They became the parents of three children: Susan Jane Smith-Stefaniuk (W. Gordon Stefaniuk), Robert Clay Smith (Rhonda), and Leigh Anne Smith Day (Michael Day).
	"Miss Betty and Dr. Paul" traveled extensively while raising their family, living in Bangkok, Thailand for three years. While there they both worked: he for the US Army at SEATO Medical Research Labs and she for the International School, teaching fourth grade at the Bang Sue campus. They discovered their deep love for international missions and international students, teaching English as a second language while sharing God's love. When they returned to the USA, they moved their family to Iowa and continued to be involved with international student work. They also taught Sunday School in their local Baptist church as a couple. While in Iowa, Mrs. Smith started a community interdenominational Bible study group for women. On moving to Auburn in 1981 she began another Bible study group for women which has met continuously since then. Mrs. Smith pursued graduate studies at the University of Kentucky, University of Maryland, and the University of Tennessee. She taught school in Kentucky, Alabama,

Attendance Supervisor and Social Services Director. For eight years, she worked closely with the schools and the juvenile court to assist families embroiled in socioeconomic challenges. She received recognition for this work from the school board as well as from the Auburn University Educational Fraternity. Miss Betty left that position when she and her husband were appointed as two year mission volunteers by the International Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and they served in that capacity for over two years in both Tanzania and Kenya; while there she taught seminary classes in English and mentored both American and national families as the perpetual hostess and surrogate grandmother of both missions.

When the Smiths returned to Auburn, Alabama, Miss Betty joined Dr. Paul as he continued their travels and mission lifestyle which extended from Ukraine to Grenada and many other countries. When at home in Auburn, she taught English as a second language to Korean women, and supported the local Bible study for women in jail.

When Mrs. Smith and her husband finally retired, they left Auburn to reside in Hoschton, GA closer to their children and grandchildren. She is survived by her grandchildren Erin Elizabeth Day Dunbar (Jordan), Robin Leigh Day Curtis (Danny), Stephen Michael Day; Brittany Lee Ann Miller (Erick) and their children Kian and Kara, Austin Wayne Cleveland, Gabrielle Marie Etzell, and Abigail Elizabeth Smith; Allyson Stefaniuk (Brian) and their daughter Arya, Andrew and his son Conner, Alexander Stefaniuk, and Thomas Stefaniuk (Jasmine). She also enjoyed her membership in PEO, a philanthropic educational organization for women. She was a member of Chapter E in Auburn and Chapter BO in Braselton, GA where she served as chaplain. She was an active member of Celebration Church in Hoschton, GA, teaching Sunday School there in her role which had extended over more than sixty years. This was but one more expression of her deep and abiding love for the Lord Jesus Christ and His church.

A graveside service in Auburn, Alabama will be held for family and close friends on Sunday, May 24, 2020 at 2:00 CDT at the pavilion at Town Creek Park Cemetery, with interment for family only. A visitation service will be held at Flanigan Funeral Home in Buford, GA on Saturday, May 23, 2020 from 4:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. The family requests that attendees wear a mask and that there be no hugging or handshakes. A memorial service will be held at a later date. In lieu of flowers the family requests that gifts be designated to the Building Fund or the Buildings and Grounds Maintenance Fund of Celebration Church, Hoschton, GA.

Smith, Dee	A Fatal Shooting. Nymrod Byrd, a young farmer, shot and fatally wounded Dee Smith, Deputy Marshall at Mt. Sterling Thursday afternoon. Byrd was in front of a saloon, and called a negro boy to hold his horse. The boy did not respond quick enough and Byrd pulled his pistol. Smith attempted to arrest him, when he turned in the buggy in which he was sitting and fired at the marshal. One bullet struck Smith below the right nipple piercing the lung and going through the body. A second shot caused a slight wound. Byrd drove out of town, waving his pistol, and was captured in a wheat field near his home and lodged in jail. Byrd is a grandson of Nim Byrd, who formerly lived in this county. The young man is considered very dangerous when drinking, and while in this city a short time ago became so violent that he was ejected from two saloons.

Smith, Ed	The Grand Jury adjourned Thursday after ten days of arduous labor. It is probable that the morals of the county have never undergone a stricter examination, resolute men without private malice to gratify but with a desire to investigate thoroughly every species of wrong doing of which the criminal law takes cognizance. The foreman, Capt. B. A. Tracy possesses a peculiar faculty for extracting the truth from unwilling witnesses. An indictment was found against Geo. Tillett, for the murder of young Ed. Smith, near Kiddville several months ago, the particulars of which was published at that time. The other indictments for felonies were, J. J. Wells, involuntary manslaughter, N. B. Devary, Frank White and John Wood, malicious cutting with intent to kill. And Ben Wood, grand larceny. The other cases in which trial and conviction followed have been mentioned. A number of indictments were found for illegal sale of liquor and other misdemeanors. The jury complimented Jailer Ecton for the manner in which the jail was kept. At the close of their labors the jury tendered a vote of thanks to the deputy-sheriff Dick Bush for the prompt and efficient manner in which he had waited upon them. This was a well-deserved compliment to one of the most courteous gentlemen that has ever filled that position. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday May 22, 1889

Smith, Elhannan	A Bloody Fight Lawyer Charles T. Burd Kills George Smith Near Jackson, Ky. Jackson, Ky., Sept. 5 A bloody fight took place ten miles from here, at the mouth of Frozen creek, Thursday

	morning, between Charles T. Byrd, of this place, backed by some friends, and a gang led by "Bad" Geo. Smith, in which Smith was killed and a man named Nuckles wounded. Byrd had gone to the place on business and took with him some friends, anticipating trouble with Smith and his friends, who had threatened him on account of his defense of Logan Bohannan, who had killed Elhannan Smith two months ago. The men opened fire on each other at first sight, but the lawyer proved the best marksman, and his enemy fell with two bullet holes in his body. Nuckles, one of Byrd's companions, was struck by Smith's first bullet and wounded in the right shoulder. The Winchester Sentinel, Wed., Sept. 10, 1902

Smith, Frank	Lost Opportunities Poor Frank Smith of Boone county, who died at Washington, D. C., the other day, is another illustration of the fact that it is the height of folly for a young man who has any show of success in any ordinary avocation to turn his back on it and seek political employment. Such employment is at best precarious, nearly always disappointing in one way or another, and even when successfully pursued gets one routine of life from the effects of which he is generally unfitted for any other pursuit. Many of the brightest and most promising young men of Kentucky have buried themselves in official ruts at Frankfort and Washington, without hope of ever emerging into the light of reaching the heights their friends had reason to anticipate for them. Poor Smith's awakening came soon, but the pity of it is that it ended so tragically.—Covington Daily Bell. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 29, 1895

	Speed Smith, a brother of the latter, is ill at Alum Springs, Va., and will hardly live to get back to his home in Madison county. The Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal says of Rev. Green Clay Smith:
	"About three weeks ago Gen. Green Clay Smith was compelled to take to his bed on account of a carbuncle on the back of his neck, at the base of the brain. It was not thought dangerous at first, but a few days ago Dr. John W. Bayne performed an operation which relieved him for the time being. Since then, however, he has been steadily growing weaker and to-day he is very low, though a very slight change for the better was noticed this morning. He is only conscious at intervals, the danger being that his vitality may give out, though he is, physically speaking, a well-constituted man.
	The General is sixty-six years of age, and commanded a brigade of Kentucky troups in the Union army. He represented Kentucky in congress from 1863 to 1866, was

	Death of Green Clay Smith.
	Rev. Green Clay Smith died at his home in Washington Saturday afternoon, aged sixty-three years. He was a son of John Speed Smith, of Madison county. His had been a most remarkable career. At the age of fifteen he was a soldier in the Mexican war. He was School Commissioner of Kenton county for a couple of years. He was a strong Union man during the war and a Federal soldier going in a private and coming out a Major General. He served two terms in Congress as a Republican, and came near being nominated for Vice-President with Lincoln the second time the latter was nominated.
	In 1866 he resigned from Congress to become governor of Montana. At the close of his gubernatorial career he was ordained as a Baptist minister, his first charge being at Frankfort. He was afterwards pastor of the Baptist church at this place and also at Mt.

Smith, Henry	Sent to the Asylum. A gruesome sight was that Tuesday of a raving maniac brought to town bound hand and foot and raving like the wild man that he was. It was Henry Smith, aged thirty-six-years from the extreme eastern part of the county. Since early childhood he has been subject to epilepsy, and his mind has been affected for years. Lately he became very violent, imagining that he was being pursued by something or somebody. As he was dangerous to those around him he was brought here for judicial inquiry into his mental condition. Owing to his violence it was necessary to bind him hand and foot. He was brought before Judge Haggard and a jury, adjudged him insane and taken to the Lexington Asylum. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 24, 1897.
Smith, Henry	Died in Arizona Henry Smith, well known man of this city, succumbs to Tuberculosis, burial in Ohio Henry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hood Smith, of this city, died in Tucson, Arizona, Tuesday of tuberculosis, aged thirty years. He leaves a wife and son, the latter three years old. His father and mother and four brothers reside here and another brother in Indiana. The remains will be taken to Hamilton, Ohio, for burial, that being the residence of his wife's people. He was a fine young man with many friends who will regret to learn of his early death. Mr. Smith left here several years ago and was in business at Hamilton, Ohio, where he married. He afterward was in business in Indiana where he was quite successful. A few years ago he had a severe spell of typhoid fever, from the effects of which he never recovered, and which left him an easy victim to the dread disease, consumption. He was formerly a member of Ivanhoe Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and he also belonged to a tribe of Red Men in Indiana.

Smith, Hiram L.	A Peculiar Death At Snow, a village in Clinton county, Hiram L. Smith, a farmer met his death in a peculiar way. Smith and Fillmore Stearns were at Smith's home drinking. Smith told Stearns to shoot him. Stearns fired a shotgun up through the loft, and when the gun was fired Smith fell back like he was shot. He fell against the door, cutting a gash in his head which resulted in his death. He never spoke but once after he fell.

	Where they never die
	We are indebted to Mr. J. Henry Smith, an ex-Winchester boy, who is now a successful business man at Greenfield, Indiana, for the following clipping from the Indianapolis Star. Mr. Smith says that Kentuckians never die when they go to that State, and the clipping seems to bear out the assertion: "David Griggs, the oldest man in Hendricks county, has just celebrated his ninety-first birthday. "Uncle Davey" was born in Clark county, Kentucky, November 2, 1815. He was married to Emaline Webster at Lexigton, Ky., in 1837. To them were born ten children, five boys and five girls, all of whom are dead except Mrs. Alexander Williams, of North Salem, Mrs. Robert Pierson, of Anderson and Miss Lizzie Griggs, of Danville, with whom he makes his home. Mr.
	Griggs has been a life long Whig and Republican, but cast his first vote for Van Buren and Johnson, something he says he has never been very proud of. He has voted for seventeen Presidential candidates in all, and hopes to live long enough to cast his eighteenth Presidential vote for another Indiana man, Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks-and he bids fair to do it, for aside from a lameness in one hip, his general health is fairly good. "Uncle Davey's" proudest boast is that he had a personal and intimate acquaintance with the late Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky, known during the Abolition days as the "Lion of White Hall." "Cash Clay," says Uncle Davey, "was one of the brainiest and greatest men of his day."

Smith, J. Speed	Madison; The discovery of a skeleton while digging a foundation recalls to the Register
, 1	the story of a crime committed half a century ago. At that time, 1840, a negro girl, Hannah, in the employ of Col. J. Speed Smith, deceased, committed a horrible murder near Speedwell, this county, and was hanged. She had stolen some articles or had done some trifling act, which she denied doing, and a little girl informed on her. This so enraged the girl, Hannah, that she seized the child in her arms while at play, and holding her head back, deliberately cut her throat from ear to ear, leaving the body where it fell behind the kitchen chimney. The next morning the deed became known, the girl confessed, was tried and hanged as above stated.

Murder at Ford, Ky. Richmond, Ky., Feb. 25.—At Ford, near here, Wednesday night, Alex Pence killed ames Smith by striking him on the head with a pistol. Officers are searching for Pence who is evading them. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 1, 1898
The Murder Near Ford Dur Ford correspondent writes us that the community is much worked up over the nurder of Jas. Smith by Alex Pence near there Wednesday night. Pence went home and bound Smith, Miss Sallie Green, Mrs. Pence and her brother, Chas. Casey, in the room one one of the weapon from behind, striking him repeatedly with a revolver; the hammer of the weapon fractured the skull at each stroke, but Smith retained consciousness and went to the home of Wesley McKinney, more than a mile istant where he made his home. A physician was summoned but Smith died in a few ours.
Pence went to Richmond to give himself up, but evidently changed his mind and came ack to his saloon near Ford on an early train. Meanwhile the officers at Richmond had een notified of Smith's death and the Sheriff wired Marshall Buchanan, of Ford, to rrest Pence, which was done Thursday morning. It was taken to Richmond and lodged in jail, his examination being fixed for esterday. The remains of Smith were buried in the old Cobb burying ground near Red House. The remains of Smith were buried in the old Cobb burying ground near Red House. The remains of Smith were buried in the old Cobb burying ground near Red House. This is not believed and public opinion seems to regard the killing as wholly njustifiable.
Pence is about sixty-eight years old and his wife is a mere girl not more than seventeen. Pence is not a good citizen. Ford is a local option town, and Pence opened a saloon just cross the river which has always been regarded as a bad place, where gamblers and women of bad repute frequently congregate. There is no talk of mob violence, but the law will be allowed to take its course.

Wants a Divorce.

Mrs. Mollie Pence has brought suit for divorce in the Richmond Circuit Court against her husband, Alex Pence. The parties live in Madison county not far from Ford, and Pence is now on bond and awaiting trial in that county for killing of James Smith at Pence's house last spring. At the time of the killing, Pence gave as a reason for killing Smith that the latter was too fond of Pence's wife. Mrs. Pence was Miss Casey and was only sixteen years old when she married Pence, who is old enough to be her grandfather.

Murder Sentence Affirmed

Frankfort, Ky., June 16

The 14-year-sentence of Alex. Pence, of Madison county, was affirmed Wednesday by the court of appeals. He killed James Smith, whom he thought was too intimate with his wife, who was 16 years old. Pence being 60.

The Winchester Democrat, Tue., June 20, 1899

Sentence Affirmed

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the judgement of the Madison Circuit Court by which Alex Pence was given ten years in the penitentiary for the killing of Jas. Smith, near Ford.

The Winchester Democrat, Fri., June 16, 1899

The attorneys for Alex Pence, who is under sentence of ten years' imprisonment for killing James Smith, and who was given a stay of sentence of sixty days. In order to have the case passed on in the Court of Appeals, went to Frankfort Friday to make an effort to have the case advanced by that tribunal so that it can be argued at once, if the court refuses to advance the case, it cannot be acted on until fall, on account of the rush of business in the court.

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 13, 1899

In Affirming the decision of the Madison Circuit Court giving Alex Pence ten years in the penitentiary for killing Jas. Smith near Ford, the Court says:

"Pence, who is an old man past sixty years of age, killed James Smith, of ford, whom he charged with improper relations with his seventeen-year-old wife. The killing took place February 23, 1898. Pence had warned Smith several times, so the testimony showed, to stay away from his house. Pence returned home unexpectedly on the date mentioned and found Smith in the house. He attacked him, striking him several times on the head with a pistol. Smith died several hours later. The judgement of the lower court giving Pence a prison sentence was appealed to the court here on the ground of errors in the instructions to the jury. The opinion of today holds that proper instructions were given and that Pence's assault was entirely unjustifiable."

The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 20, 1899

Took Him To The Pen

Sheriff H. H. Colyer, of Madison county, took to Frankfort Thursday Alex. Pence to serve a ten years' sentence for the killing of young Jim Smith, the alleged paramour of his wife. It will be remembered that Pence's attorneys made strong effort to secure a new trial, but the Court of Appeals overruled the motion. Pence's friends are circulating a petition asking a pardon for Pence, and it is receiving numerous signatures in Richmond.

Smith, Kirby	The last general on either the Federal or Confederate side passed away with the death of Kirby Smith at Sewanee, Tennessee, Wednesday. He was 66 years old, and was a splendid soldier. He was in the Mexican war and with our own John S. Williams, shared the honors at Cerro Gordo, being promoted for gallantry. He resigned his position in the service at the beginning of the war and enlisted on the Confederate side. At the Battle Of Bull Run it was the charge of Kirby Smith's men directly from the cars in which they arrived, that changed a Federal victory into a frantic panic. In 1863 he commanded the Confederate forces which defeated the Federals under Nelson at Richmond, this State. Since 1875 he has been professor of mathematics in Sewanee College. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, April 5, 1893
Smith, Kirby	The oft-repeated statement that General Kirby Smith, who died at Sewanee, Tenn. last week was the last full general of the confederacy, is incorrect. Old Jubal A. Early, of Virginia, was full before the war, full during the war, and has been full ever since the war. What's the matter with old Jubilee heading the list of full generals.—Glasgow Times The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, April 26, 1893 A Fall Out
	Over a Store Account Ends in Murder at Turkey Foot, Ky.

		Georgetown, Ky., June 17.—At Turkey Foot, this county, Garland Johnson shot and killed Kirby Smith. Both are well known young men. Johnson conducts a general store at Turkey Foot, and it is said Smith owed him an account, and being refused further credit they had fallen out.
		Johnson claims that between 5 and 6 o'clock. Tuesday afternoon Smith and three of his brothers all armed rode by his store cursing him; that he went to the door, and they attempted to draw their weapons, when he got the drop on them, and fired four shots, one of which struck Kirby, who fell dead.
