Yarber, Tom	In memory Of our devoted sister, Minnie Yarber, aged twenty-two years, who departed this life February 11 th . She is gone, but her memory shall ever live. She was a devoted sister, and we not only mourn her loss as a sister but as a wife. When the curtain of winter is drawn aside and beautiful spring spreads its mantle of sunshine over the earth and sprouts its beautiful flowers, then we miss her most. Grieve not, dear husband, for she is where things are ever beautiful, and when heaven and earth shall become as one, those whom she loved shall join her in her beautiful resting place, where sorrows and sadness are no more. She has gone, we miss her; but her spirit has gone to a better world. Yate, Mary	The Winchester Sun, March 22, 2010  DIED-Miss Mary Yate, who was buried at Connersville, Ind., Saturday was a music
Tate, Mary	teacher and an indefatigable worker in the cause of temperance. She requested before she died that when death came the corpse should be "laid out" on the piano, and that the funeral sermon should be a lecture on temperance and the speaker to represent the deceased as talking to her friends. The instructions were faithfully carried out.

	next thirty years, he raised tobacco, corn, soybeans, alfalfa, cattle, horses, and enormous gardens which he shared with family and friends. Charles was a brilliant businessman and always surrounded himself with people to help him fulfill his dreams. The farm connected him to many lifelong friends in the Athens KY community. While farming, he stayed active in the coal mining industry and had plans for a clean coal reclamation project in Estill County KY. He and his family joined Athens Christian Church where Charles served as a deacon for several years. In 2009 he welcomed his granddaughter Lily, and in 2012 his grandson and namesake, Charlie. They were his absolute pride and joy.  Charles was a devoted friend. He was generous with his time and his resources. He never turned away anyone in need, even at his own expense. In all his business ventures, his philosophy was to put the needs of his employees above his own. His family was his main priority. He was a devoted son who loved and respected his parents. He adored his wife and freely admitted he would be completely lost without her. He was a proud, doting father and relished his role as grandfather, or Pop. He loved animals and always had pets that he spoiled with unlimited treats and affection. He enjoyed giving lavish gifts and welcomed guests in his home. He loved holidays and having everyone visit together. He wanted everyone to feel welcome and comfortable, no one was ever turned away. He loved to garden mostly because he wanted to share the abundance. He saw potential in every opportunity. He was a total optimist who saw the best in every person and every situation. He never held grudges. He loved westerns, Coca-Cola in glass bottles, Kool brand cigarettes, Sam's Hot Dogs, and coffee. But his greatest love was for the Lord. Charles was a man of deep faith who was devoted to Bible study and prayer. He constantly remarked on how the Lord had blessed him. Yates, George	A Strange Cane. George Yates, who was a member of the Orphan Brigade, brother of Judge J. J. Yates, was killed at the battle of Chickamauga, in 1863 and his body was buried in a trench on the battle field. In 1886 the body was exhumed and removed to Frankfort. Jake Sandusky a comrade, was present when the trench was opened, and it was found that a small hickory tree had grown up through the body and its roots were entwined with the bones. Mr. Sandusky cut the stick and had it made into a walking cane. Judge Yates heard of this and had long tried in every way to find the whereabouts of Mr. Sandusky that he might secure the stick, but without success. Last week he located him at Wilmore, Ky. He wrote to him and a few days ago received from him the cane. It is a

Yates, Robert	PREVENTED ARREST. A Young Man Shot and Killed By His Father-in-Lay While Resisting Arrest. Brookville, Ky., July 6Robert Yates, a well-known young man, was shot and killed by his father-in-law, Thomas Kinney. For some time they have been enemies, and Yates had threatened to kill Kinney and also his son, George B. Kinney, who is a prominent young attorney of the Bracken Bar association. About 10 o'clock at night Yates returned home, after a trip down town, and soon after his arrival home, it is said, he had a quarrel with his wife and made some threats, which were overheard by some near-by-neighbors. An officer was sent for, and Tom Kinney, who is city marshal, started with mayor Bradford to make the arrest. It was a little after 10 o'clock when they arrived at the home of Yates. As soon as he was Kinney and Bradford he drew his pistol and fired, but missed. He attempted to fire again, but by this time Kinney had fired the fatal shot. The ball penetrated Yates' heart. Kinney surrendered to County Judge Minor. Mrs. Yates, the only daughter of Kinney and the wife of the murdered man, is almost prostrated with grief.  The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 10, 1900.

world's most devoted TV watchers and coffee drinkers.  "Dad"/"Grandpa" had a deep bond with his animals. It is comforting to know he is once again with his beloved dogs Sissy and Bullet. Pursuant to his wishes, his ashes will be combined with those of Sissy (pictured with him) and scattered overlooking the scene they enjoyed during so much time together. There will be no public services. A later private memorial for family will be announced.  Frank was preceded in death by his loving parents and his brothers Joseph Patrick Yeager and Thomas Bennett Yeager.  Frank is survived by his sons, Frankie Lee Yeager (Rhonda) of Georgetown, Joseph Patrick Yeager (Sherry) of Irvine, and Lance Owen Yeager (Kathleen) of Louisville, his grandchildren Stephanie Reynolds (Charlie), Alicia Danielle Blanton (Adam), Crystal Yeager LeMaster, Ivy Lee Yeager, Lance Owen Yeager, Layne Frances Yeager, and Elliott Aloysius Yeager, and five great-grandchildren. Young Alfred	One of the most fiendish crimes ever known in Kentucky is reported from Sandy Hook, the county seat of Elliott. A young school teacher was thrown from her horse, frightened by two Wilcox brothers, each of whom the girl had refused to marry. With a leg and arm broken she was chained in a deserted cabin, where she was kept a prisoner since the middle of April, and slowly dying was made the victim of her captors' lust. Last Tuesday a posse headed by her brother, found the girl, who died fifteen minutes later. The Wilcox brothers were captured, confessed, and were promptly shot to death. Young, George	Death Of George Young He Was Made Famous For His Attack On Toll Gate Raiders Owingsville, Ky., Jan. 17 George Young, 44, died here of paralysis. He became known all over the country in 1887 for service for sheriff of this county under J. W. Lane. At that time toll gate raiders were burning and raiding toll gates all over the state. Receiving notice of an intended attack on toll gates near here, Lane and Young organized a band of officers and attacked the raiders. A pitched battle ensued in which several raiders were wounded, several captured and lodged in jail here, but the battle and developments broke the spirit of the raiders in Kentucky and very little raiding was done after that.
	Young received a letter of congratulations from all over the United States. His wife and three sons survive. The Winchester Democrat Fri., Jan. 19, 1906

	As a result of the pistol fight on the Couchman farm near Athens Friday in which Joseph Young, white and William Chenault, colored, engaged both were wounded as told in Tuesday's Democrat. Chenault died at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington Friday night and Young at the Good Samaritan Hospital Saturday afternoon. It was indeed a pitiful sight which greeted the Deputy Sheriffs who were summoned Friday afternoon after the shooting scrape. Around Chenault's bedside was gathered the entire colored population of the vicinity. He had a bullet through his head. At Young's home were only the frantic wife, the seven children and one neighbor. The ambulance was quickly summoned to convey the wounded man to the hospital where he was given immediate treatment. One bullet had entered his arm and one the abdomen.  The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, January 21, 1908

Young, Matt	He Got Away Considerable excitement was caused Saturday by the escape of a lunatic at the Depot. Sheriff Broughton and Deputy Durham, of Bell county, were taking Matt Young of Pineville, to a lunatic asylum at Lexington. The officers left Young in charge of a couple of negroes while they went for lunch. Although handcuffed he intimated the negroes and made a dash for liberty. His shackles did not deter him from climbing fences and crossing lots and he was soon out of sight. He was afterward captured on Stoner, several miles from the city, and was taken to the asylum. The Winchester Democrat Tue., April 24, 1900
Young, Matt	Damages awarded A year or so ago in Mercer county Matt Young killed another man of the same name who was trying to arrest him on a charge of lunacy. He was declared not accountable and is now in the insane asylum a hopeless case. The dead man's widow brought suit
	, i and a second of the second against him for damages for the killing of her husband and was awarded $1,400. The verdict is said to have caused much surprise.

Young, Morgan	Arrested for an Old Murder
	Lexington, Ky., Dec. 12—Faulkner Jordon, of Kalispell, Mont., arrived in Mercer county in charge of Jailer Chathal, the prisoner being accused of the murder of Morgan Young in July 1886. Notwithstanding Jordon since his escape from justice has amassed a small fortune and married into a wealthy Montana family, he wore handcuffs and is now in jail. He denies any knowledge of the murder.

	A special from Harrodsburg says: "Faulkner Jordan, who, it is claimed, killed Morgan Young in this county nine years ago and fled to Montana, and who was only captured four weeks ago at Kalispell, near the British line in that state and brought here, was tried on a writ of habeas corpus before County Judge Roach Wednesday, asking bail.
	The commonwealth established the fact that it was a cold-blooded murder, and bail was refused and Jordan remanded back to jail. He had risen to prominence in the Western

Young, Stuart R.	SENSATIONAL SUICIDE. Stuart R. Young, Ex-city Treasurer of Louisville, Ky., ended His Life By Shooting. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28After being offered an evening newspaper by two newsboys which said his books were under examination by expert accountants, Stuart R. Young, city treasurer, of Louisville, Wednesday evening went to the rear of a warehouse at Sixth and Nelson streets and committed suicide by shooting himself behind the right ear with a pistol. Young's father, Col. Bennett H. Young was notified by telephone of the tragedy. Col. Young immediately went to the scene of the suicide with some of his son's friends. The corpse lay in the einders clothed in fashionable garments, including a light tan overcoat and a gray alpine hat. The aged father of the dead man, a few of his friends and some policemen lifted the body into a coffin and it was removed to an undertaking establishment until the order of the coroner for an inquest. Stuart R. Young was 35 years old and one of the most prominent men in Louisville. He was a graduate of Princeton university, a son of Col. Bennett H. Young, a prominent lawyer and exconfederate soldier of Louisville and a brother of Lawrence Young, of Chicago, president of the Washington Park Jockey club. He married last July Miss Bessie Wymond one of the most beautiful women in Kentucky and daughter of L. H.  Wymond. Four years ago Mr. Young was elected city treasurer and under the law was ineligible for re-election his successor having been elected on November 5. On the authority of one official of the city government it was stated late Wednesday night that so far as it has progressed the examination of Mr. Young's books has shown a shortage of $23,000. It is said that friends stood ready to make good every dollar of this amount. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 29Beyond the statement made Wednesday night to Mayor Granger, by one of the expert accountants, that discrepancies amounting to $23,000 had been found in the books of the former city treasurer. Hon. Van B. Young, Judge of the Superior Court from this district died Saturday at his home in Frankfort . He was from Mt. Sterling. The Democrat, Wednesday, March 2, 1892.
No section of the State can show a sadder official record than death has made in Eastern Kentucky within less than twenty years. First, Judge John M. Elliott, of the Court of Appeals, fell dead on our streets at the hands of an assassin, afterwards sentenced to death and later declared insane. Judge Richard Reid, of Mt. Sterling, of the Superior Court, died by his own hand. Senators Joseph Garder, R. M. Pieratt and James S. Hargis died while in the performance of their official duties. Congressman W. P. Taulbee was killed in Washington; Judge Van B. Young, of the Superior Court, was scarcely at rest in the grave before Congressman J. W. Kendall followed him. It is a mournful record, which all will hope may never be repeated elsewhereFrankfort Capital.

Youtsey, Henry	The Winchester Sun Wed., 3-18-1914  Divorce suit filed
Youtsey, Mrs. Sarah C. French	Divorce suit filed Some time ago Mrs. Sara Youtsey brought suit in the Circuit court, of this county, against her husband, Henry Youtsey, for divorce, alleging the statutory grounds, of five years separation and conviction of felony. It was afterward decided that the Clark Circuit court had no jurisdiction, and the suit was dismissed here and brought again at Frankfort. The same allegations are made in the new suit that were made in the first suit. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, December 28, 1909

	Mrs. Youtsey gets divorce Court grants absolute decree in suit against convict husband Frankfort, Ky., - A decree granting Mrs. Henry Youtsey an absolute divorce from her husband, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of William Goebel, was entered in the circuit court here. Mrs. Youtsey is restored to her maiden name, Sarah C. French. Mrs. Youtsey stuck to Youtsey for years after he was charged with complicity in the plot to kill William Goebel, and she worked hard to get a parole for him. After she found that he could not get a parole, and that he probably would spend his last days in the penitentiary, she brought suit for a divorce. The Winchester Democrat Friday, January 28, 1910
