Bizarre Bluegrass: Strange But True Kentucky Tales by Keven McQueen Reading & Discussion

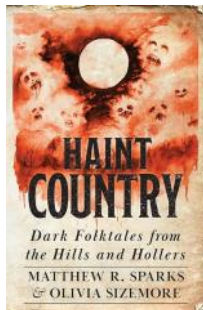

Thursday, November 21st, 6:30 From ghost towns to circus performers to mass hysteria, the Bluegrass State is no stranger to the strange. Read stories of famed President Abraham Lincoln you've never heard before. Find possible solutions to the mystery of Pearl Bryan's missing head and decipher the outrageous hoaxes involving an unsolvable puzzle and monkeys trained to perform farm work. Learn about the time when the author wrote to Charles Manson as a joke and Manson wrote back--four times. Join author Keven McQueen as he recounts some of the weirder vignettes from Kentucky lore. Space is limited; please register.

Haint Country: Dark Folktales from the Hills and Hollers by Matthew R. Sparks and Olivia Sizemore Reading & Discussion

Saturday, November 23rd, 2:00

We will be joined by authors Matthew R. Sparks & Olivia Sizemore for a reading and discussion of their book Haint Country. The hills of the Appalachian region hold secrets—dark, deep, varied, and mysterious. These secrets are often told in the form of eerie, hair-raising, and creepy folktales that reveal strange sightings and oddities, and they commonly serve as cautionary tales for eager and curious ears. These spine-tingling stories have been shared among family members and neighbors in eastern Kentucky for generations. Space is limited; please register.

The problem? Francis is a talking mule and Stirling's admitting that to his commanding officers finds him placed in a psychiatric ward. Who is going to believe in a talking mule?

Bigfoot Adventures with Charlie Raymond

Friday, November 1st, 6:00

Charlie Raymond is the founder of the Kentucky Bigfoot Research Organization and a Kentucky BFRO investigator. He has been researching Bigfoots in Kentucky for over three decades and has interviewed over 500 credible eyewitnesses. With a degree in Psychology from the University of Florida, Charlie utilizes his knowledge of human behavior when interviewing witnesses to determine credibility, exaggeration and embellishment. He tries to make as certain as possible the encounters he documents are legit. As a passionate, die-hard, boot-on-the-ground researcher, he leads numerous private and public expeditions, acquiring a wealth of knowledge and evidence in the process. He is NOT one of these arm-chair researchers, rather he spends almost every weekend in the woods in search of answers. Charlie has appeared on The Animal Planet, The History Channel and The BBC. Casts from Kentucky will be on display and his very successful book, Bluegrass Bigfoot: Encounters With The Kentucky Wildman will be available for signings. Space is limited; please register.
